

Troop Leading Procedures and Orders Process

Topic: Politics & Government | Words: 847 Pages: 3

Troop-leading procedures are essential for building defense and creating strong force protection. Therefore, the relationships between the orders process and the troop-leading procedures have to be clearly established and firmly institutionalized. The specified relationships are founded on the premise of an increase in defense quality and, therefore, are based on the idea of establishing a balance between the tasks associated with implementing a mission and performing the protection of force (Homeland Security Digital Library 2). Due to the concept of support and interconnectivity, in which the relationships between the orders process and the troop leading procedures are rooted, the levels of defense are sustained at the needed level.

To study the connection between the orders process and the troop leading procedures, the exact stages of the latter need to be identified. The key troop leading processes are introduced so that a commander could receive, understand, and execute a mission as promptly as possible and with maximum efficiency. Therefore, the steps such as the mission reception, warning order creation, plan development, movement initiation, Reconnaissance, plan accomplishment, order issuing, and control need to be perceived as critical elements of a single process implemented to navigate troops (Burks). Consequently, the order process can be perceived as the means of systematizing the process of troops' management.

Incorporating the elements that make the order process cyclical, the existing system of orders process allows managing time and resources in
