Studying Cultural Landscapes Arnold Publication:

Studying Cultural Landscapes Iain Robertson, Penny Richards, 2003 Studying Cultural Landscapes combines a collection of lively and engaging essays covering the symbolic reading of a wide variety of landscapes It offers historical cultural political visual and poetic perspectives offering analyses of landscape forms from the rural to the celluloid Essential reading for any student of cultural geography as well as students taking related interdisciplinary subjects who would like to explore the multiple meaning of landscape

The Routledge Handbook of Cultural Landscape Heritage in The Asia-Pacific Kapila D. Silva, Ken Taylor, David S. Jones, 2022-07-29 The Routledge Handbook of Cultural Landscape Heritage in the Asia Pacific revisits the use growth and potential of the cultural landscape methodology in the conservation and management of culture nature heritage in the Asia Pacific region Taking both a retrospective and prospective view of the management of cultural heritage in the region this volume argues that the plurality and complexity of heritage in the region cannot be comprehensively understood and effectively managed without a broader conceptual framework like the cultural landscape approach The book also demonstrates that such an approach facilitates the development of a flexible strategy for heritage conservation Acknowledging the effects of rapid socio economic development globalization and climate change contributors examine the pressure these issues place on the sustenance of cultural heritage Including chapters from more than 20 countries across the Asia Pacific region the volume reviews the effectiveness of theoretical and practical potentials afforded by the cultural landscape approach and examines how they have been utilized in the Asia Pacific context for the last three decades The Routledge Handbook of Cultural Landscape Heritage in the Asia Pacific provides a comprehensive analysis of the processes of cultural landscape heritage conservation and management As a result it will be of interest to academics students and professionals who are based in the fields of cultural heritage management architecture urban planning landscape architecture and landscape management

The Need for a Cultural Landscape Theory Alexandru Calcatinge, 2012 The research in this book was born from an intellectual curiosity regarding the concept of cultural landscape The study resulted from a desire to clarify and expand the understanding of the term as the starting point was the idea that a good practice is always based on a well built theory Thus the purpose is to establish the importance of theoretical knowledge of the concept of cultural landscape Series Urban and Spatial Planning Stadt und Raumplanung Vol 12

Cultural Landscapes of Post-Socialist Cities Mariusz Czepczynski, 2016-04-22 The cultural landscapes of Central European cities reflect over half a century of socialism and are marked by the Marxists vision of a utopian landscape Architecture urban planning and the visual arts were considered to be powerful means of expressing the people s power However since the velvet revolutions of 1989 this urban scenery has been radically transformed by new forces and trends infused by the free market democracy and liberalization This has led to landscape cleansing and recycling as these former communist nations used new architectural functional and social forms to transform their urbanscapes their meanings and uses Comparing case studies from different post socialist cities this book examines the culturally conditional variations between local powers and structures despite the similarities in the general processes and systems It considers the contemporary cultural landscapes of these post socialist cities as a dynamic fusion of the old communist forms and new free market meanings features and democratic practices of global influences and local icons The book assesses whether these urbanscapes clearly reflect the social cultural and political conditions and aspirations of these transitional countries and so a critical analysis of them provides important insights

Managing Cultural Landscapes Ken Taylor, Jane Lennon, 2012-02-13 One of our deepest needs is for a sense of identity and belonging A common feature in this is human attachment to landscape and how we find identity in landscape and place The late 1980s and early 1990s saw a remarkable flowering of interest in and understanding of cultural landscapes With these came a challenge to the 1960s and 1970s concept of heritage concentrating on great monuments and archaeological locations famous architectural ensembles or historic sites with connections to the rich and famous Managing Cultural Landscapes explores the latest thought in landscape and place by airing critical discussion of key issues in cultural landscapes through accessible accounts of how the concept of cultural landscape applies in diverse contexts across the globe and is inextricably tied to notions of living history where landscape itself is a rich social history record widening the notion that landscape only involves rural settings to embrace historic urban landscapes townscape examining critical issues of identity maintenance of traditional skills and knowledge bases in the face of globalization and new technologies fostering international debate with interdisciplinary appeal to provide a critical text for academics students practitioners and informed community organizations discussing how the cultural landscape concept can be a useful management tool relative to current issues and challenges With contributions from an international group of authors Managing Cultural Landscapes provides an examination of the management of heritage values of cultural landscapes from Australia Japan China USA Canada Thailand Indonesia Pacific Islands India and the Philippines it reviews critically the factors behind the removal of Dresden and its cultural landscape from World Heritage listing and gives an overview of Historic Urban Landscape thinking

The Cultural Landscape & Heritage Paradox Tom Bloemers, Henk Kars, Arnold Van der Valk, 2010 The basic problem is to what extent we can know past and mainly invisible landscapes and how we can use this still hidden knowledge for actual sustainable management of landscape's cultural and historical values It has also been acknowledged that heritage management is increasingly about the management of future change rather than simply protection This presents us with a paradox to preserve our historic environment we have to collaborate with those who wish to transform it and in order to apply our expert knowledge we have to make it suitable for policy and society The answer presented by the Protection and Development of the Dutch Archaeological Historical Landscape programme pdl bbo is an integrative landscape approach which applies inter and transdisciplinarity establishing links between archaeological historical heritage and planning and between research and policy
