Taking Care Supporting Older People And Their Families:

Taking Care Nancy R. Hooyman, Wendy Lustbader, 1986      Supporting Family Carers of Older People in Europe - The National Background Report for Malta Joseph Troisi, Marvin Formosa, 2005 Malta has an extensive formal care provision In the field of ageing there is a wide range of services available for the elderly and for their carers aimed at improving the quality of life of the elderly while maintaining them in their own homes community and environment However the majority of care for the elderly is still provided by the family members This publication is the first nation wide report concerning the state of family members taking care of older relatives in the Maltese Islands It investigates the socio economic conditions of these carers while analysing their changing role and status their needs and problems resulting from the various changes which Maltese society and family are passing through      Family Care of Older People in Europe Ian Philp, 2001 Developing appropriate responses to an ageing population is recognized by policy makers throughout the developed world as a top priority as is the vital contribution made by family caregivers However cultural demographic and organizational differences between countries have encouraged diverse patterns of response to this common challenge This book provides a systematic cross cultural analysis of contemporary patterns and future trends in all major countries of the European Union Additional interest is provided by including Poland emerging from the post Communist block as the country at the forefront for joining the European Union The book should be useful to European policy makers and academics involved in studying the health and social care needs of older people and the capacity contribution and needs of family caregivers who provide care to older people The book is also relevant for policy makers and researchers in other countries mostly in North America and Australia who wish to study European approaches to supporting older people and family caregivers

Supporting Family Carers of Older People in Europe Iva Holmerová, 2007 The following publication offers an outline of a situation of family caregivers just before the significant changes brought about by the new legislation on social services will have occurred That the timing is right since the publication proves that the situation of family caregivers must be substantially changed and improved If there are any doubts regarding necessity of the new law on social services this publication will belong to the ones that will help to overcome such presumptions      Supporting Family Carers of Older People in Europe Simona Hvalic Touzery, 2007 This report provides a comprehensive overview of the current state of care services for older people in Slovenia with emphasis on family care There are numerous services intended for old people in the country some more others less accessible and developed yet almost no support is given to family carers who still provide the bulk of care to elderly Recent socio political developments in the country give hope that the situation and the position of family carers will improve to better      Supporting Older Persons on Their Aging Journey Idevania Costa, Kristen Jones-Bonofiglio, 2024-08-12 Supporting Older Persons on Their Aging Journey provides an emancipatory holistic patient centred and decolonizing approach to nursing practice for older persons and caregivers focusing on their unique needs and experiences Providing a general overview of aging and well being this text identifies trends in present nursing practice discusses the future of an aging population and seeks to create opportunities for individuals to live well with chronic conditions With a focus on collaboration and context as the keys to providing quality care that promotes health well being and safety the chapters discuss prevention strategies for successfully navigating life transitions The authors encourage learners to creatively and collaboratively consider opportunities to support older people their families and caregivers so they may thrive flourish maintain their dignity and fully define their own quality of life as they navigate the challenges of aging and illness This vital text is essential for nursing programs in universities and colleges within Canada intended for courses on older persons aging or gerontological nursing Aging and the Family Patricia Neff Claster, Sampson Lee Blair, 2021-02-25 This collection makes a crucial contribution by collating research on aging and the family from an international perspective Providing this wide scope of quality research the volume equips readers to better assess how aging and its related issues are affecting families from multiple backgrounds Supporting Family Carers of Older People in Europe Piotr Bledowski, Wojciech Pedich, Barbara Bien, 2006-06 There is no extensive formal care provision or system supporting family carers in Poland The cohabiting family plays a major role in organizing support for the elderly Nevertheless the family carers are not perceived as natural partners for both medical and social services As a result caring for the elderly often brings additional costs for the family and restrictions to work and income This book presents the legal status and social situation of family carers in Poland explains the range of services available and the possibilities to use help adapted specially for this group International Perspectives on State and Family Support for the Elderly Scott Bass, Jill Norton, Robert Morris *Deceased*, 2013-12-02 Within the context of long range planning this book examines the changing responsibilities of the state and family toward elders in different societies around the world International Perspectives on State and Family Support for the Elderly presents a fresh range of lucid analyses of family caregiving policy from Canada the United States Sweden the United Kingdom Hong Kong Austria Denmark Israel and the People s Republic of China Different institutional structures levels of economic development and cultural values among other factors impact policy development in various countries With the information examined in this book readers can gain an understanding of elder care in other societies which can help them in developing policies for their own countries Authors of International Perspectives on State and Family Support for the Elderly address questions such as Who is responsible for caring for the aged What are the policy issues that determine how such care is handled in various countries Are the underlying principles upon which policy is based changing Who pays for the care of the aged What is the balance of the roles of government family and community Along with these questions authors discuss the importance of family care the well being payment and rights of informal caregivers providing services for informal caregivers shifting the burden of care from formal organizations to families the effects of governmental frameworks on caregiving the impact of the political agenda on caregiving caregiving and the welfare state International Perspectives on

State and Family Support for the Elderly contains information for all professionals interested or involved in developing policy for the elderly Demographers sociologists social workers health care and public health professionals gerontologists and advanced students in these fields will find this book a helpful guide in their studies The European Union Social Policy on Older People in the Light of the Deinstitutionalisation of Social Services Wioletta Knapik, Magdalena Kowalska, Tomasz Maslyk, Danka Moravčíková, 2022-07-11 The authors propose a holistic look at the problem of population ageing and global and regional effort to improve the quality of seniors life and their families through the integration of healthcare social care and senior friendly environment They also concentrate on the senior policy of the European Union and the concept of care farming against the backdrop of social farming Finally they present the results of the two largest studies under the GROWID project They investigated older people s needs against the background of the social services provided by care farms

Setting Limits Daniel Callahan, 1995-03-01 A provocative call to rethink America s values in health care Who Cares for the Elderly? Emily K. Abel, 1991 Although caregiving is predominantly women s work care for the elderly is largely absent from the feminist agenda in this country Emily K Abel presents a compelling and sensitive report that describes the experience of caregiving from the perspective of adult daughters She places their stories in the context of an analysis of existing policies and services for the elderly and traces the history of family caregiving in the U S since 1800 Through in depth open ended interviews with 51 women who were caring for one or both parents Abel explores how caregivers themselves understand their endeavors Poignant excerpts from these interviews reveal the overwhelming sense of responsibility that these women feel for their parents lives how they protect their parents dignity and the isolation and lack of support that is faced in these homecare situations While policy analysts speak of filial responsibility Abel allows the adult daughters to interpret its meaning in heart rending detail In her examination of how public policies affect the nature of caregiving at home Abel argues that the amount of care women deliver to elderly relatives is determined not only by demographic trends but by the inadequacies of the long term care system in the U S Author note Emily K Abel is Adjunct Associate Professor in the School of Public Health at the University of California Los Angeles She has published several books and is co editor with Margaret K Nelson of Circles of Care Work and Identity in Women s Lives Facilitating Self Care Practices in the Elderly Barbara J Horn, 2019-05-23 This up to date book is a synthesis of current knowledge from published sources and expert consultants relating to three commonly occurring problems in home health care practice self administration of medications family caregiving issues and teaching the elderly For each problem addressed assessment guides and interventions are outlined making this book an invaluable resource for professionals researchers and agencies concerned with providing top quality care for the elderly Home health care agencies can use the guide for orientation of new staff and inservice education for current staff Home health care staff can use many of the assessment guides and resource lists in their work with clients Facilitating Self Care Practices in the Elderly can also serve as a basis for standard development Researchers interested in these clinical problems will find that the literature review and synthesis will facilitate the development of the theoretical underpinning for their research Educators will find the book helpful in courses and as a basis for curriculum development      Taking Care of Aging Family Members, Rev. Ed. Wendy Lustbader, Nancy Hooyman, 1994 Offers advice on handling the physical mental emotional and financial needs of the aged and includes sections on spirituality ethnicity self neglect and other issues      Daughters Who Care Jane Lewis, Barbara Meredith, 2024-05-10 In the 1980s as the proportion of elderly people in the population grew steadily larger the task of looking after them would fall increasingly on one group daughters The government in promoting its move in social policy towards community care had stated that the family which in practice meant women must expect to provide the bulk of care in the future But how do women feel about this What impact does caring for others have on their own lives How might professional helpers better support them Originally published in 1988 from in depth interviews with daughters who have looked after their mothers for varying numbers of years Jane Lewis and Barbara Meredith look at why it is that women come to care and consider the legacy of their caring experiences Because caring is usually a labour of love the feelings that surround it are complicated and fraught with ambivalence In analysing these Daughters Who Care explores the meaning of caring from the carer's point of view as well as examining the implications for professionals seeking to support the supporters Carers themselves and those working with them professionally or as volunteers as well as students of community care social policies for the elderly and social psychology will all find this a stimulating approach to what is still an increasingly urgent issue      The Graying of the World Laura Katz Olson, 1994 This unique book studies America's frail older population relative to the elderly in ten other nations It contains a cross national assessment of approaches to long term care for the elderly and explains the nature and extent of current and future problems related to caring for the functionally impaired elderly By studying and analyzing the ongoing struggles of other nations in their attempts to cope with growing populations of frail elderly readers in the U S can expand the parameters of their own national debate on the subject The Graying of the World shows the political economic and social context in which decisions on elder care are based and evaluates how successful various countries programs have been Chapters outline alternative approaches taken by disparate types of national systems highlighting unique and creative solutions to provide useful information on new and alternative ways to respond to personal and public issues related to elder care The elderly and their care in Finland France Germany Great Britain Israel Japan People's Republic of China Sweden and Yugoslavia are discussed as are the elderly in Canada and the United States Chapters cover the following topics for each country the increasing number of frail elderly and their costly health needs the current and future role of the state in elder care the current and future role of the family in elder care types of support services offered for the elderly including in home care community based care and institutional care the relationship of a nation's political economy to its attitude and policy on long term care innovative approaches to elder care Practitioners decision makers and the concerned general public will all find The Graying of the World an interesting and informative book that expands the discussion of health care options available for the elderly. As such, the book is also a helpful text for undergraduate and beginning graduate students of gerontology, public policy, and comparative politics, as well as for social service practitioners. It provokes much needed conversation on developing a healthcare plan for the future that meets the needs of a large elderly population. Issues in Aging Mark Novak, 2015-07-22

Opportunities and optimism in Aging Issues in Aging 3rd edition takes an optimistic view of aging and human potential in later life. This book presents the most up to date facts on aging today, the issues raised by these facts, and the societal and individual responses that will create a successful old age for us all. Mark Novak presents the full picture of aging, exhibiting both the problems and the opportunities that accompany older age. The text illustrates how generations are dependent on one another and how social conditions affect both the individual and social institutions.

Learning Goals Upon completing this book, readers will be able to:

- Understand how large scale social issues, social attitudes, the study of aging, and demographic issues affect individuals and social institutions.
- Identify the political responses to aging and how individuals can create a better old age for themselves and the people they know.
- Separate the myths from the realities of aging.
- Recognize the human side of aging.
- Trace the transformation of pension plans, health, and opportunities for personal expression and social engagement to the new ecology of aging today.

Handbook of Families and Aging Rosemary Blieszner, Victoria Hilkevitch Bedford, 2012-09-20

This comprehensive state of the art textbook and reference volume in family gerontology reviews and critiques the recent theoretical, empirical, and methodological literature, identifies future research directions, and makes recommendations for gerontology professionals. This book is both an updated version of and a complement to the original Handbook of Families and Aging. The many additions include the most recent demographic changes on aging, families, new theoretical formulations, innovative research methods, recent legal issues, and death and bereavement, as well as new material on the relationships themselves, sibling, partnered, and intergenerational relationships, for example. Among the brand new topics in this edition are step family relationships, aging families, and immigration, aging families, and 21st century technology and peripheral family ties. Unlike the more cursory summaries found in textbooks, the essays within Handbook of Families and Aging Second Edition provide thoughtful, in depth coverage of each topic. No other book provides such a comprehensive and timely overview of theory and research on family relationships, the contexts of family life, and major turning points in late life families. Nevertheless, the contents are written to be engaging and accessible to a broad audience, including advanced undergraduate students, graduate students, researchers, and gerontology practitioners. Serious lay readers will also find this book highly informative about contemporary family issues.

Aging Families in Chinese Society Merrill D. Silverstein, 2021-09-05

Declining fertility rates and increased life expectancies over the last few decades have conspired to make China one of the more rapidly aging societies in the world. Aging Families in Chinese Society focuses on the accelerated social and demographic changes in China and examines their implications for family care and support for older adults Contributors to this landmark volume portray various challenges facing aging families in China as a result of reduced family size changing gender expectations rapid economic development and urbanization rural to urban migration and an emerging but still underdeveloped long term care system Divided into four thematic areas Disability and Family Support Family Relationships and Mental Health Filial Piety and Gender Norms and Long term Care Preferences chapters in this volume confront these burgeoning issues and offer salient policy and practice considerations not just for today s aging population but future generations to come Combining quantitative data from social surveys in China comparative surveys in Taiwan and Thailand and qualitative data from in depth interviews Aging Families in Chinese Societies will be of significant interest to students and researchers in aging and gerontology China and East Asian Studies and population studies      Handbook of Social Work Practice with Vulnerable and Resilient Populations Alex Gitterman,2001 Role in forming balanced assessments
