Taking Tea With Mackintosh The Story Of Miss Cranstons Tea Rooms:

Taking Tea with Mackintosh Perilla Kinchin, 1998 In 1896 Kate Cranston the pioneer of Glasgow tea rooms in the late nineteenth century commissioned Charles Rennie Mackintosh who would become one of the Western world's most renowned designers to design her tea rooms and over the next two decades he did so with dazzling inventiveness Mackintosh's wife Margaret herself an artist also made important contributions to the interior designs A pair of perfectionists Cranston and Mackintosh opened up a unique avant garde artistic world to thousands of ordinary people Their tea rooms became internationally famous Taking Tea with Mackintosh illustrates this exciting collaboration with black and white historical photographs of the tea rooms and color photographs of their surviving components In addition sixteen recipes for traditional tea room cakes breads and pastries are supplied offering the best chance the reader will have to revisit these extraordinary places

Cafes and Bars Christoph Grafe, Franziska Bollerey, 2007-09-12 The design of bars and cafes has played an important role in the development of architecture in the twentieth century This influence has been felt particularly strongly over the past thirty years in a time when these social spaces have contributed significantly to the rediscovery and reinvention of cities across Europe and North America This volume presents and examines this significant urban architectural production and discusses it against a background of the design of cafes and bars across the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Major themes and developments are discussed and illustrated with case studies from the functionalist pre World War Two architects in Central Europe representing modern society through the design of public spaces right up to the design of sophisticated bars and cafes as part of the recent urban renaissance of Barcelona and Paris in 1980s and London in the 90s

Jugendstil Women and the Making of Modern Design Sabine Wieber, 2021-10-21 Jugendstil that is Germany's distinct engagement with the international Art Nouveau movement is now firmly engrained in histories of modern art architecture and design Recent exhibitions and publications across the world explored Jugendstil's key protagonists and artistic centres to firmly anchor their activities within the trajectories of German modernism Women however continue to be largely absent from these revisionist accounts Jugendstil Women and the Making of Modern Design argues that women in fact actively participated in the cultural and socio economic exchanges that generated German design responses to European modernity By drawing on previously unpublished archival material and a series of original case studies including Elsa Bruckmann's Munich salon the Photo Studio Elvira and the Debschitz School the book explores women's important contributions to modern German culture as collectors consumers critics designers educators and patrons This book offers a new interpretation of this vibrant period by considering diverse manifestations of historical female agency that pushed against historically entrenched conventions and gender roles The book's rigorous approach reshapes Jugendstil historiography by positing women's lived experiences against dominant ideologies that emerged at this precise moment In short the book advocates women as an integral part of the emergence dissemination and reception of Jugendstil and questions the deeply
