Canadian Studies in the New Millennium Patrick James, Mark J. Kasoff, 2007-11-26 The field of Canadian Studies is a growing discipline particularly in the United States This introductory text offers a thorough and accessible approach to Canadian Studies through comparative analyses of Canada and the United States their histories geographies political systems economies and cultures Among the topics addressed are ways in which Canadian national development has been influenced by the U S the role of geography in shaping the country s evolution and the persistent question of Canada s French speaking minority which has been an important and divisive issue since the 1500s Canadian Studies in the New Millennium is an excellent introduction to Canadian Studies with chapters written by leading scholars and educators in the field At a time in which there is a growing mutual dependence between the U S and Canada for security trade and investment this text is an ideal tool for understanding the close relationship between the two countries their shared experiences and their differing views Canadian Studies in the New Millennium will be of significant value to students educators and practitioners

Canadian Studies in the New Millennium Mark J. Kasoff, Patrick James, 2013-01-01 This popular textbook offers a thorough and accessible approach to Canadian Studies through comparative analyses of Canada and the United States their histories geographies political systems economies and cultures Students and professors alike acknowledge it as an ideal tool for understanding the close relationship between the two countries their shared experiences and their differing views on a range of issues Fully revised and updated the second edition of Canadian Studies in the New Millennium includes new chapters on Demography and Immigration Policy the Environment and Civil Society and Social Policy all written by leading scholars and educators in the field At a time in which there is a growing mutual dependence between the US and Canada for security trade and investment Canadian Studies in the New Millennium will continue to be a valuable resource for students educators and practitioners on both sides of the border

Taking Stock David Cameron, 1996 Scholars, Missionaries, and Counter-Imperialists Andrew C. Holman, Brian Payne, 2022-03-14 For more than half a century the field of Canadian Studies has attracted North American scholars of the highest caliber to examine Canada its distinctive social makeup its fascinating colonial and postcolonial history its intriguing literature its political structure and its changing place in the world Scholars Missionaries and Counter Imperialists The American Review of Canadian Studies 1971 2021 traces the birth and growth of that field by reproducing 15 exemplary articles published in the pages of that journal from its establishment until the present day For five decades the American Review of Canadian Studies ARCS acted as a bellwether for the field revealing its strengths projecting new directions and inquiries and reflecting the changing topics and methods that scholars used to study Canada This book captures the history of that field in one robust volume Carefully selected by the co editors of ARCS the chapters in this edited volume are prefaced by an introductory essay that assesses the accomplishments of the field and brief chapter introductions that place them into context

Sanctioned Ignorance Paul

Martin, 2013-11-15 There is no such thing as the ivory tower. Rather, there sit side by side numerous windowless towers of knowledge, each seeming to have only a small entrance and no discernable exit. Paul Martin. Multilingual, multicultural, and vast Canada enjoys a rich diversity of literatures. So why does Canadian Literature, as it has been taught, fail to encompass a common geography, history, and government yet reveal the diverse experiences of its immigrants, long-term residents, and original peoples? Martin's research interviews with 95 professors in 27 universities map the institutional chasms in communication and the nature of their persistence. His own example of venturing out from his tower to dialogue with colleagues shows a way toward cultivating a conception of the literatures of Canada that is expansive and inclusive. Canadianists, professors of English, French, Postcolonial, and Comparative Literatures, and leaders in education will profit from Martin's frank investigations.

Tom Symons Ralph Heintzman, 2011-06-04 The professional biography of influential Canadian educator and statesman Tom Symons. Tom Symons: A Canadian Life is a compelling portrait of one of Canada's pre-eminent educational and cultural statesmen of the twentieth century. An outstanding public figure, Symons was a leader in many areas of Canadian life, including as the founding president of Trent University, as a pioneer in Canadian and Aboriginal studies, as an architect of national unity, and French language education in Ontario, as a champion of human rights, and as the chief policy advisor to the federal Progressive Conservative party in the 1960s and 1970s. The volume's contributors are as remarkable as its subject. They include Madam Justice Rosalie Silberman Abella of the Supreme Court of Canada, the Honourable Tom McMillan, former federal Minister of the Environment, the Honourable Charles Beer, former Ontario Cabinet Minister, Ivan Fellegi, former Chief Statistician of Canada, John Fraser, one of Canada's most distinguished journalists, and Denis Smith, award-winning biographer of John Diefenbaker, among others. Tom Symons: A Canadian Life is a study in leadership. It brings to light the unique human and personal qualities that allowed Symons to lead in such a wide range of areas and to exercise such deep and lasting influence on so many Canadian institutions, contributions that continue to be meaningful and relevant for Canada today. Published in English.

To Know Our Many Selves Dirk Hoerder, 2010 To Know Our Many Selves profiles the history of Canadian studies, which began as early as the 1840s with the Study of Canada. Indiscussing this comprehensive examination of culture, Hoerder highlights its unique interdisciplinary approach, which included both sociological and political angles. Years later, as the study of other ethnicities was added to the cultural story of Canada, a solid foundation was formed for the nation's master narrative. Against this background, To Know Our Many Selves focuses on why Canadian studies can be used as a sound model for the study of other societies in a framework of transcultural societal studies.

Re-exploring Canadian Space Jeanette M. L. den Toonder, Bettina van Hoven, 2012 A variety of productions and representations of Canadian identities are the central theme that runs through this book. The different contributions explore imagined spaces by considering Canadian music, poetry, and novels; they engage with political space by addressing various ways in which the people of Canada have made claims to different regions in the distant and recent past.

and they address lived spaces and their actual and symbolic meanings It is an unusual book as it encompasses the writings by those studying the arts and literature as well as writings by social scientists and it includes both English and French speaking scholars The richness that can be found in this multitude of perspectives and approaches to exploring Canadian space is characteristic of the way in which Canadian Studies is practiced nowadays It is therefore an appropriate volume to celebrate 20 years of Canadian Studies in the Netherlands Archives, Documentation, and Institutions of Social Memory Francis Xavier Blouin, William G. Rosenberg, 2007-08-02 Essays exploring the importance of archives as artifacts of culture

Promoting Canadian Studies Abroad Stephen Brooks, 2018-06-13 This volume examines the history and current state of Canadian studies in a number of countries and regions across the world including Canada's major trading partners From the mid 1980s until 2012 Canadian studies was seen as an important tool of soft power increasing awareness of Canadian culture institutions and history The abrupt termination in 2012 of the Canadian government's financial support for these activities triggered a debate that is still ongoing about the benefits that may have flowed from this support and whether the decision should be reversed The contributors to this book focus on the process whereby Canadian studies became institutionalized in their respective countries and on the balance between what might be described as Canadian studies for its own sake versus Canadian studies as a deliberate instrument of cultural diplomacy Encyclopedia of Archival

Writers, 1515 - 2015 Luciana Duranti, Patricia C. Franks, 2019-04-26 The Encyclopedia of Archival Writers 1515 2015 is a reference work that includes the profiles of authors of literature about records and archives in the Western world who have shaped the records and archives field over a span of 500 years The 144 archival writers from 13 countries who are included in this volume were selected by an international advisory board on the basis of their impact on the records and archives profession and discipline the presence of their publications in educational programs reading lists and the frequency of reference to their work Among the writers included in this volume are Albertino Barisone of Padua 1587 1667 Sir Hilary Jenkinson of England 1882 1961 Adolf Brenneke of Germany 1875 1946 Theodore R Schellenberg of the United States 1903 1970 Robert Henri Bautier of France 1922 2010 Terry Cook of Canada 1947 2014 Vicenta Cort's Alonso of Spain 1925 Eric Ketelaar of the Netherlands 1944 Aurelio Tanodi of Argentina 1914 2011 Ian Maclean of Australia 1919 2003 and Verne Harris of South Africa 1958 Arranged in alphabetical order each entry includes a biography intellectual contributions and a brief essential bibliography A total of 113 educators professionals and students in the records and archives field 55 of whom are also profiled in this Encyclopedia contributed to this volume There is no other book in any language that focuses on the life and work of authors of records and archives literature In fact there is not easily available information on such writers Thus most entries involved quite a bit of research on dead writers and interviews with the living ones Several living writers supported this work by accepting to author their own entry Taking Stock David Cameron, Association for Canadian Studies, 1996 The Undiscovered Country Ian Angus, 2013 In this sequence of essays Ian Angus engages with themes of identity power and the nation as they emerge in contemporary English Canadian philosophical thought seeking to prepare the groundwork for a critical theory of neoliberal globalization The essays are organized into three parts The opening part offers a nuanced critique of the Hegelian confidence and progressivism that has come to dominate Canadian intellectual life Through an analysis of the work of several prominent Canadian thinkers among them Charles Taylor and C B Macpherson Angus suggests that Hegelian frames of reference are inadequate failing as they do to accommodate the fact of English Canada's continuing indebtedness to empire The second part focuses on national identity and political culture including the role of Canadian studies as a discipline adapting its critical method to Canadian political culture The first two parts culminate in the positive articulation in Part 3 of author's own conception one that is at once more utopian and more tragic than that of the first two parts Here Angus develops the concept of locative thought the thinking of a people who have undergone dispossession of a people seeking its place and therefore of a people that has not yet found its place *Canadian Books in Print. Angus, 1997 A Border Within addresses the question of English Canadian identity by exploring whether a plurality of discourses can lead to other than a fragmented society Ian Angus examines the relationship between globalizing social movements and the particularities of identity politics by extending the theories on identity of Harold Innis and George Grant two seminal figures in Canadian political philosophy to develop a philosophy applicable to the contemporary social issues of multiculturalism and environmentalism Canadian Cultural Studies Sourayan Mookerjee, Imre Szeman, Gail Faurschou, 2009-01-01 DIV Canada is situated geographically historically and culturally between old empires Great Britain and France and a more recent one the United States as well as on the terrain of First Nations communities Poised between historical and metaphorical empires and operating within the conditions of incomplete modernity and economic and cultural dependency Canada has generated a body of cultural criticism and theory which offers unique insights into the dynamics of both center and periphery The reader brings together for the first time in one volume recent writing in Canadian cultural studies and work by significant Canadian cultural analysts of the postwar era Including essays by anglophone francophone and First Nations writers the reader is divided into three parts the first of which features essays by scholars who helped set the agenda for cultural and social analysis in Canada and remain important to contemporary intellectual formations Harold Innis Marshall McLuhan and Anthony Wilden in communications theory Northrop Frye in literary studies George Grant and Harold Innis in a left nationalist tradition of critical political economy Fernand Dumont and Paul mile Borduas in Quebecois national and political culture and Harold Cardinal in native studies The volume's second section showcases work in which contemporary authors address Canada's problematic and incomplete nationalism race difference and multiculturalism and modernity and contemporary culture The final section includes excerpts from federal policy documents that are especially important to Canadians conceptions of their social political and cultural circumstances The reader opens with a foreword by Fredric Jameson and concludes with an afterword in which the Quebecois scholar Yves Laberge explores the differences between English Canadian cultural studies and the prevailing forms of cultural analysis in francophone Canada Contributors Ian Angus Himani Bannerji Jody Berland Paul mile Borduas Harold Cardinal Maurice Charland Stephen Crocker Ioan Davies Fernand Dumont Kristina Fagan Gail Faurschou Len Findlay Northrop Frye George Grant Rick Gruneau Harold Innis Fredric Jameson Yves Laberge Jocelyn L. tourneau Eva Mackey Lee Maracle Marshall McLuhan Katharyne Mitchell Sourayan Mookerjee Kevin Pask Rob Shields Will Straw Imre Szeman Serra Tinic David Whitson Tony Wilden div Home-work Cynthia Conchita Sugars, 2004-06-22 Canadian literature and specifically the teaching of Canadian literature has emerged from a colonial duty to a nationalist enterprise and into the current territory of postcolonialism From practical discussions related to specific texts to more theoretical discussions about pedagogical practice regarding issues of nationalism and identity Home Work constitutes a major investigation and reassessment of the influence of postcolonial theory on Canadian literary pedagogy from some of the top scholars in the field British Journal of Canadian Studies, 1997 Recognition Versus Self-Determination Associate Professor of Political Science Avigail Eisenberg, Avigail Eisenberg, Jeremy H. A. Webber, Andrée Boisselle, Glen Coulthard, 2014-03-01 The political concept of recognition has introduced new ways of thinking about the relationship between minorities and justice in plural societies But is a politics informed by recognition valuable to minorities today Contributors to this volume examine the successes and failures of struggles for recognition and self determination in relation to claims of religious groups cultural minorities and indigenous peoples on territories associated with Canada the United States Europe Latin America India New Zealand and Australia They point to a distinctive set of challenges posed by a politics of recognition and self determination to peoples seeking emancipation from unjust relations
