Muslim Society Ernest Gellner, 1983-03-03 Why contemporary Islam is able to support austere traditional and conservative regimes as well as revolutionary ones is the subject of this collection of essays Professor Gellner s position is supported by a series of case studies and critical evaluations of rival interpretations Cosmologies in the Making Fredrik Barth, 1987 All culture particularly that of non literate traditions is constantly being recreated and in the process also undergoes changes In this book Fredrik Barth examines the changes that have taken place in the secret cosmological lore transmitted in male initiation ceremonies among the Mountain Ok of Inner New Guinea and offers a new way of explaining how cultural change occurs Professor Barth focuses in particular on accounting for the local variations in cosmological traditions that exist among the Ok people who otherwise share similar material and ecological conditions and similar languages Rejecting existing anthropological theory as inadequate for explaining this Professor Barth constructs a new model of the mechanisms of change based on his close empirical observation of the processes of cultural transmission This model emphasises the role of individual creativity in cultural reproduction and change and maintains that cosmologies can be adequately understood only if they are regarded as knowledge in the process of communication embedded in social organization rather than as fixed bodies of belief From the model he derives various theoretically grounded hypotheses regarding the probable courses of change that would be generated by such mechanisms He then goes on to show that these hypotheses fit the actual patterns of variation that are found among the Ok The Making of the Modern Greek Family Paul Sant Cassia, Constantina Bada, 1992 This 1991 study deals with a specific set of institutions in nineteenth century Athens Relying on matrimonial contracts travellers accounts memoirs and popular literature the authors show how distinctive forms of marriage kinship and property transmission evolved in Athens in the nineteenth century These forms then became a feature of wider Greek society which continued into the twentieth century Greece was the first post colonial modern nation state in Europe whose national identity was created largely by peasants who had migrated to the city As Athenian society became less agrarian a new mercantile group superseded and incorporated previous elites and went on to dominate and control the new resources of the nation state Such groups developed their own more mobile systems of property transmission mostly in response to external pressures of a political and economic character This is a persuasive piece of detective work which has advanced our knowledge of modern Greece It is a model for scholarship on the development of family and other intimate ideologies where nation states encroach upon local consciousness In the Society of Nature Philippe Descola,1994 The Achuar Indians live in the remote forest reaches of the Upper Amazon and have developed sophisticated strategies of resource management Philippe Descola who has gathered material over several years of fieldwork documents their rich knowledge of the environment He explains how this technical knowledge of the increasingly threatened Amazonian ecosystems is interwoven with cosmological ideas that endow nature with the characteristics of society Combining a symbolist approach with an ecological analysis the book contributes a new theory of the social construction of nature

Scoping the Amazon Stephen Nugent,2016-07 Savage cannibal or utopian proto environmentalist Nugent examines both popular images of Amazon peoples in film and general books as well as changing anthropological views of the rainforest and its people South Coast New Guinea Cultures Bruce M. Knaft,1993-03-25 The communities of south coast New Guinea were the subject of classic ethnographies and fresh studies in recent decades have put these rich and complex cultures at the centre of anthropological debates Flamboyant sexual practices such as ritual homosexuality have attracted particular interest In the first general book on the region Dr Knaft reaches striking new comparative conclusions through a careful ethnographic analysis of sexuality the status of women ritual and cosmology political economy and violence among the region's seven major language culture areas The findings suggest new Melanesian regional contrasts and provide for a general critique of the way regional comparisons are constructed in anthropology Theories of practice and political economy as well as post modern insights are drawn upon to provide a generative theory of indigenous social and symbolic development

The Anthropology of Numbers Thomas Crump,1992-10-15 Numbers are an important feature of almost all known cultures In this detailed anthropological study Thomas Crump examines how people from a wide range of diverse cultures and from different historical backgrounds use and understand numbers By looking at the logical psychological and linguistic implications he analyses how numbers operate within different contexts The author goes on to consider the relationship of numbers to specific themes such as ethnoscience politics measurement time money music games and architecture The Anthropology of Numbers is an original contribution to scholarship written in a clear and accessible style It will be of interest to anthropologists who study cognition symbolism primitive thought and classification and to those in adjacent disciplines of psychology cognitive science and mathematical social science Strategies and Norms in a Changing Matrilineal

G. Peristiany,Julian Pitt-Rivers,2005-02-17 This collection of essays develops a line of thought in anthropology which was opened in the 1960s by the editors and some of the same contributors in Honor and Shame The Values of a Mediterranean Society The essays half of them historical and half contemporary deal with different aspects of honour and grace and the strategies and transactions by which they can be obtained

Social Reproduction and History in Melanesia Robert John Foster, 1995-04-27 In much of Melanesia the process of social reproduction unfolds as a lengthy sequence of mortuary rites feast making and gift giving through which the living publicly define their social relations with each other while at the same time commemorating the deceased In this study Robert J Foster constructs an ethnographic account of mortuary rites in the Tanga Islands Papua New Guinea placing these large scale feasts and ceremonial exchanges in their historical context and demonstrating how the effects of participation in an expanding cash economy have allowed Tangans to conceive of the rites as customary in opposition to the new and foreign practices of business His examination synthesizes two divergent trends in Melanesian anthropology by emphasizing both the radical differences between Melanesian and Western forms of sociality and the conjunction of Melanesian and Western societies brought about by colonialism and capitalism

Identity Through History Geoffrey M. White, 1991 For people who live in small communities transformed by powerful outside forces narrative accounts of culture contact and change create images of collective identity through the idiom of shared history How may we understand the processes that make such accounts compelling for those who tell them Why do some narratives acquire a kind of mythic status as they are told and retold in a variety of contexts and genres Identity Through History attempts to explain how identity formation developed among the people of Santa Isabel in the Solomon Islands who were victimised by raiding headhunters in the nineteenth century and then embraced Christianity around the turn of the century Making innovative use of work in psychological and historical anthropology Geoffrey White shows how these significant events were crucial to the community's view of itself in shifting social and political circumstances

Anthropology of Violence and Conflict Bettina Schmidt, Ingo Schroeder, 2003-12-08 Anthropology of Violence has only recently developed into a field of research in its own right and as such it is still fairly fragmented Anthropology of Violence and Conflict seeks to redress this fragmentation and develop a method of cross cultural analysis The study of important conflicts such as wars in Sarajevo Albania and Sri Lanka as well as numerous less publicised conflicts all aim to create a theory of violence as cross culturally applicable as possible Most importantly this volume uses the anthropology of violence as a tool to help in the possible prevention of violence and conflict in the world today

Integrated Activism Alexis Zeigler, 2013-08-13 How do peak oil climate change and the limits of growth affect abortion rights income equality and civil liberty In this impassioned treatise author and activist Alexis Zeigler reveals the hidden connections between ecology economics politics and social justice and shows us how to use these connections to effect real long lasting change Most activist movements says Zeigler suffer from a kind of tunnel vision in which the true causes and resulting side effects of the desired change are left unexamined rendering the movements shortsighted and unaware of their own long term fallout We cannot effectively address our problems in isolation or with ecological blinders on Instead we must integrate our activism and ensure that all strategies and actions take into account the historically demonstrated fact that a society s environmental resources ultimately define its level of freedom fairness and financial equity Packed with surprising facts and eye opening arguments Integrated Activism is a must read not only for every serious activist but also for anyone looking for a solid creditable philosophy and approach to building a fairer freer more sustainable future The Science of

Perrett,2017-09-16 In our daily lives in our memories and fantasies our mental worlds overflow with faces But what do we really know about this most remarkable feature of the human body Why do we have faces at all and brains that are good at reading them What do our looks say and not say about our personalities And perhaps the most compelling question of all Why are we attracted to some faces more than others In Your Face is an engaging and authoritative tour of the science of facial beauty and face perception David Perrett the pre eminent scholar in the field reveals and interprets the most remarkable findings and in the process demolishes many popular myths setting the record straight on what neuroscience and evolutionary psychology are teaching us about beauty The record is more surprising and often more unsettling than you might think
