The Great Disappearing Act Christina A. Ziegler-McPherson, 2021-12-10 Where did all the Germans go How does a community of several hundred thousand people become invisible within a generation This study examines these questions in relation to the German immigrant community in New York City between 1880 1930 and seeks to understand how German American New Yorkers assimilated into the larger American society in the early twentieth century By the turn of the twentieth century New York City was one of the largest German speaking cities in the world and was home to the largest German community in the United States This community was socio economically diverse and increasingly geographically dispersed as upwardly mobile second and third generation German Americans began moving out of the Lower East Side the location of America's first Kleindeutschland Little Germany uptown to Yorkville and other neighborhoods New York's German American community was already in transition geographically socio economically and culturally when the anti German One Hundred Percent Americanism of World War I erupted in 1917 This book examines the structure of New York City's German community in terms of its maturity geographic dispersal from the Lower East Side to other neighborhoods and its ultimate assimilation to the point of invisibility in the 1920s It argues that when confronted with the anti German feelings of World War I German immigrants and German Americans hid their culture especially their language and their institutions behind closed doors and sought to make themselves invisible while still existing as a German community But becoming invisible did not mean being absorbed into an Anglo American English speaking culture and society Instead German Americans adopted visible behaviors of a new more pluralistic American culture that they themselves had helped to create although by no means dominated Just as the meaning of German changed in this period so did the meaning of American change as well due to nearly 100 years of German immigration

Racism and God-Talk Ruben Rosario Rodriguez, 2008-07-19 2011 Winner of the Book Awards Contest in the Discipline of Theology Presented by Alpha Sigma Nu The apostle Paul wrote that All of you are one in Christ Jesus Given Paul's vision of God's kingdom defined by the breakdown of all distinctions and relationships of domination no longer Jew or Greek slave or free male or female how do we make sense of ethnic particularity within the church's theological formulations Racism and God Talk explores the biblical and religious dimensions of North American racism while highlighting examples of resistance within the Christian religious tradition Social historians have seldom analyzed the problematic of race from a primarily theological perspective This volume undertakes a critical examination of explicitly theological and confessional perspectives for understanding and transforming North American racism Rosario Rodriguez offers insights from Latino a theology for broader scholarly and social discussions concerning racism borders and immigration The first to analyze race and racism from a Latino a theological perspective the volume makes use of a broadened conceptualization of mestizaje or mutual cultural exchange to challenge the church to recognize the effects of racial and ethnic particularity in all theological construction
