

The background of the image is a traditional marbled paper pattern, often used for book covers. It features a complex, swirling design in shades of orange, brown, and purple, with some green and blue accents. The pattern is dense and organic, resembling stylized waves or floral motifs. In the center of the image is a rectangular title box with a thin, light-colored border. The box has a solid, muted brown background. Inside the box, the title and author's name are printed in a white, serif font. The title is arranged in three lines, and the author's name is on a separate line below it. A small decorative separator, consisting of a horizontal line with a central circle and arrows pointing outwards, is placed between the title and the author's name.

Sensation and Perception D. W. Hamlyn, 2022-09-01 First published in 1961 Sensation and Perception aims to cast light upon the nature of perception itself This the author believes can be achieved only through an understanding of the concepts of sensation and perception A survey of the principal attempts to arrive at such an understanding brings out the fact that perception has most often been assimilated to sensation or judgment The author believes that both of these views are wrong but that an attention to the history of thought can provide an explanation of the temptation to accept them A final chapter gives the author's own views on the nature of sensation and perception As such it would be of interest both to philosophers and to those psychologists who are concerned with the nature of perception Personal Identity, the Self, and Ethics F.

Santos, Santiago Sia, 2007-08-16 Going beyond the controversy surrounding personhood in non philosophical contexts this book defends the need for a credible philosophical conception of the person Engaging with John Locke Derek Parfit and P F Strawson the authors develop an original philosophical anthropology based on the work of Charles Hartshorne and A N Whitehead Charles Hartshorne and the Existence of God Donald W. Viney, 1985-06-30 In a lucid and comprehensive study Professor Viney presents an excellent critical analysis of Hartshorne's thought about God Demonstrating his thesis from many points of view ontological cosmological teleological moral aesthetic etc Viney deftly illustrates Hartshorne's belief that any one argument for God is inconclusive but that many woven together make up a convincing interpretative expression of the world The Journal of Philosophy, Psychology and Scientific Methods , 1917 Journal of Philosophy,
