Graham Stuart Tuckley

The Pink War:

The Pink War Eino Hanski, Eric Sjöquist, 1982 The Pink War Graham Stuart Tuckley, 2024-01-05 The Pink War boldly explores the compelling intersection of love loyalty and courage amid the brutal backdrop of World War II Follow two working class men as they answer their nation s call battling against the forces of Nazism and Fascism across North Africa Italy and Western Europe As soldiers they earn their stripes and prove their mettle Yet beyond the battlefield they face an equally formidable challenge concealing their illicit love for each other in a time when same sex relationships are condemned This gripping tale uncovers the complexities of love in a world at war offering a poignant tribute to devotion and friendship under the most trying of circumstances In the Pink: A World War II Story Johanne Levesque, 2022-02-28 World War II is retold through letters to Josephine the mother of a pilot a gunner a nurse and a violinist in Europe during the war What horrible experiences will her grown children go through And will they come home safe and sound from this terrible war This book puts the ordinary soldier at center stage by bringing together letters from the front Josephine will feel the pain of saying goodbye to her grown children She will feel the uncertainty of her children sailing off to foreign shores and the terror of fighting bloody battles It is a story of the angst of a mother receiving letters from the front and hoping for her grown children to come home safe and sound The War Poems of Siegfried Sassoon Siegfried Sassoon, 1920 War Expenditures United States. Congress. House. Select committee on Expenditures in the War Department, 1919 War Nursing; what Every Woman Should Know Charles Richet, 1918 War Expenditures: Aviation. 3 v United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Expenditures in the War Dept, 1920 The Backwash of War Ellen Newbold La Motte, 1916 This war has been described as Months of boredom punctuated by moments of intense fright The writer of these sketches has experienced many months of boredom in a French military field hospital situated ten kilometres behind the lines in Belgium During these months the lines have not moved either forward or backward but have remained dead locked in one position Undoubtedly up and down the long reaching kilometres of Front there has been action and moments of intense fright have produced glorious deeds of valour courage devotion and nobility But when there is little or no action there is a stagnant place and in a stagnant place there is much ugliness Much ugliness is churned up in the wake of mighty moving forces We are witnessing a phase in the evolution of humanity a phase called War and the slow onward progress stirs up the slime in the shallows and this is the Backwash of War It is very ugly There are many little lives foaming up in the backwash They are loosened by the sweeping current and float to the surface detached from their environment and one glimpses them weak hideous repellent After the war they will consolidate again into the condition called Peace After this war there will be many other wars and in the intervals there will be peace So it will alternate for many generations By examining the things cast up in the backwash we can gauge the progress of humanity When clean little lives when clean little souls boil up in the backwash they will consolidate after the final war into a peace that shall endure But not till then "G. B.", a Story of the

Great War Walter Frederick Morris, 1929 The novel begins with Gurney a young British officer entering a deserted chateau as the British advance in November 1918 Inside he finds three corpses and is astonished when he recognises one of them as a fellow officer Gerard Bretherton the more so since Bretherton is wearing the uniform of a German general The story of how Bretherton met his fate is built up over a two year period over the rest of the narrative The story is told from the points of view of several of Bretherton's friends and acquaintances
