The Pioneer Years 1895 1914:

The Pioneer Years, 1895-1914 Barry Broadfoot, 1976 An oral history of the opening of the Canadian West depicting the immigration settling and hardships of the times The Pioneer Years 1895-1914 ,1981 Canada 2012 Wayne C. Thompson, 2012-08 This is an annually updated presentation of Canada past and present It is broken down into sections dealing with Canada s culture geography people history from New France to the constitutional debates in the late 20th century political system including the constitution monarchy executive parliament legal and court system federalism and the provinces provincial governments parties and elections defense economy future and bibliography Canada 2013 Wayne C. Thompson, 2013-08-28 This is an annually updated presentation of Canada past and present The Prairie West: Historical Readings R. Douglas Francis, Howard Palmer, 1992 This collection of 35 readings on Canadian prairie history includes overview interpretation and current research on topics such as the fur trade native peoples ethnic groups status of women urban and rural society the Great Depression and literature and art Literary History of Canada William H. New, Carl Berger, Alan Cairns, Frances G. Halpenny, Henry Kreisel, Douglas Lochhead, Philip Stratford, Clara Thomas, 1990-12-15 This new volume of the Literary History of Canada covers the continuing development of English Canadian writing from 1972 to 1984 As with the three earlier volumes this book is an invaluable guide to recent developments in English Canadian literature and a resource for both the general reader and the specialist researcher The contributors to this volume are Laurie Ricou David Jackel Linda Hutcheon Philip Stratford Barry Cameron Balachandra Rajan Robert Fothergill Brian Parker Cynthia Zimmerman Frances Frazer Edith Fowke Bruce G Trigger Alan C Cairns Douglas Williams Carl Berger Shirley Neuman Raymond S Corteen and Frances G Halpenny The Medicine Line Beth LaDow, 2013-10-18 Along the border between Montana and Saskatchewan lies one hundred miles of hard and desolate terrain a remote place where Native and new American nations came together in a contest for land wealth and survival Following explorers Lewis and Clark and Alexander Mackenzie both Americans and Canadians launched the process of empire along the 49th parallel disrupting the lives of Native peoples who began to traverse this imaginary line in search of refuge In this evocative and beautifully rendered portrait Beth LaDow recreates the unstable world along this harsh frontier capturing the complex history of a borderland known as the medicine line to the Indians who lived there When Sitting Bull crossed the boundary for the last time in 1881 weary of pursuit by the U S cavalry and the constant threat of starvation the region opened up to railroad men and settlers determined to make a living But the unforgiving landscape would resist repeated attempts to subdue it from the schemes of powerful railroad magnate James J Hill to the exploits of Canadian Mountie James Walsh to the misguided dreams of ranchers and homesteaders whose difficult existence is best captured in Wallace Stegner s plaintive accounts of a boyhood spent in this stark place Drawing on little known diaries letters and memories as well as interviews with the descendants of settlers and native peoples The Medicine Line reveals how national interests were transformed by the powerful alchemy of mingling peoples and the place they shared. With a historian's insight and a storyteller's gift, LaDow questions some of our deepest assumptions about a nationalist frontier past and finds in this least known place a new historical and emotional heartland of the North American West. A colorful history of the most desolate terrain in America, one hundred miles between Canada and Montana, where three nations fought over land, wealth, and ultimately survival.

Immigration and Settlement, 1870-1939 Gregory P. Marchildon, 2009. Immigration and Settlement 1870-1939 includes twenty articles organized under the following topics: the Opening of the Prairie West, First Nations and the Policy of Containment, Patterns of Settlement and Ethnic Relations, and Identity in the New West. The second volume in the History of the Prairie West Series, Immigration and Settlement includes chapters on early immigration patterns, including transportation routes and ethnic blocks, as well as the policy of containing First Nations on reserves. Other chapters grapple with the various identities, preferences, and prejudices of settlers and their complex relationships with each other, as well as the larger polity.

Cattle Kingdom Edward Brado, 2004. One of the most colourful chapters in the history of North American settlement began in the 1880s when the rich Alberta grasslands, spreading east from the foothills of the Rockies, became the magnet for cattle ranching. Award-winning Cattle Kingdom provides readers with all the colourful tales of raffish characters, political intrigues, and partnerships, fortunes made and lost, and the harsh realities of prairie winters. The era also gave us the mythic figure of the cowboy, still prominent in Alberta today. Nowhere is the story of ranching more rich and varied than in Alberta. There was an assortment of high rollers, big money men from the east, English lords, and remittance men, along with refugees from the American west and ordinary folk seeking a homestead and a new dream. The newly formed North West Mounted Police was on hand, as well. Famous ranches were created during this period, including the Cochrane, the Oxley, and the North West Cattle Company Bar U. The cast of characters included John Ware, the brave and foolhardy Major General Thomas Bland Strange, who had plans for a ranch for retired British army types, and the scrappy Pat Burns, who parlayed a small slaughterhouse in Calgary into a giant meat packing and cattle empire. By the time of the first Calgary Stampede in 1912, the cattle kingdom was on the wane. More and more settlers arrived and began fencing and farming the once limitless grazing lands. And then came the discovery of oil. But during its brief and brilliant season in the sun, early ranching in Alberta put an indelible stamp on the history and culture of the Canadian west.

New Towns in the New World David Allan Hamer, 1990. Hamer has written a broad comparative overview of the evolution of British-derived urban traditions in four former colonies: the US, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand.
