Social Context Of Ageing:

The Social Context of Ageing Christina Victor, 2004-12-20 This comprehensive text focuses on the social contexts of ageing looking at the diversity of ageing and older people and at different factors that are important to experiences of old age and ageing It includes key chapters on theoretical and methodological bases for the study of ageing demographic context of the ageing population health and illness family and social networks formal and informal care and other services for older people Providing an invaluable introduction to the major issues involved in the study of ageing this book is essential reading for students of sociology gerontology social policy health and social care and professionals working with older people

Aging Leslie Morgan, Suzanne Kunkel, 2001 NEW edition More than any other social gerontology texts available addresses issues of diversity in aging by race ethnicity social class and gender throughout Population Aging in Societal Context Mark Tausig, Janardan Subedi, Saruna Ghimire, 2025-07-30 This book offers an explanatory schema for comprehending aging in a societal context focusing on the country of Nepal Contributions to this book use an institutional contextual approach and a life course perspective to document and assess societal responses to the increase in the number of older adults in a specific country This emerging age group entails the development of new and modified social institutions new and modified cultural norms and the reallocation of social resources within a given country The study represents a means to understand the status and needs of older adults systematically and to orient policies and programs intended to address the increase in the older population It can be applied to countries grappling with similar challenges of rapid population aging and significant social change A pioneering effort in understanding aging as a social process embedded in social economic cultural and life course contexts this book fills a gap in Asian Studies Social Policy and Population Studies

Ageing Leslie Morgan, Suzanne Kunkel, 1998 Ageing Societies: a Comparative Introduction Virpi Timonen, 2008-04-16 What is ageing Why is ageing important and how can we understand it better How does policy and practice in relation to ageing populations differ across the globe This book aims to convince readers that ageing is not boring threatening or depressing but that it has enormous relevance for the young and the old alike Virpi Timonen provides an engaging introduction to the central social economic and political aspects and impacts of ageing and makes the case for the importance of analysing ageing from a number of different perspectives Using comparative international data the author provides a detailed description of the process of population ageing including increasing longevity changes in fertility and variations in the health status of older populations In addition the book sets out the social context and background of ageing discussing related and relevant developments such as Changes in family structures Patterns of household formation Women's labour market participation Income and work in older age Health and social care of older people Attitudes towards older people The book highlights the nature of ageing as an individual and societal experience The author succeeds in arguing that whilst ageing is becoming an increasingly widespread and global experience age related policies practices and consequently the actual lived experience of ageing differ greatly between countries and regions of the world Ageing Societies is of interest and use to both undergraduate and postgraduate students in fields such as gerontology social policy social work sociology nursing as well as professionals and practitioners in the eldercare sectors and general readers from a wide variety of backgrounds who wish to gain an understanding of the complex and highly topical subject of ageing This introductory text is a sound basic overview It is well structured and easily accessible both to lay persons who may have little knowledge or experience of social gerontology as well as to students who may seek to explore and develop insights further within what is a relatively recent intellectual tradition Chrisine Atwell School of Social Sciences Cardiff University UK Virpi Timonen s book is written in a lively and accessible style and will be particularly valuable for undergraduates and students on professional courses Sara Arber University of Surrey UK Timonen does an excellent job of explaining both very basic concepts and complex aspects thus making this book accessible to a broad range of readers Vanessa Beck University of Leicester UK Timonen provides a clear well organised wide ranging and comprehensible introduction to the complex and highly topical subject of ageing and its global and social diversity Kate Davidson Centre for Research on Ageing and Gender University of Surrey Guildford UK Ageing with a Lifelong Disability Christine Bigby, 2004 This guide provides specialist knowledge about ageing with a disability in the context of the more mainstream knowledge about ageing processes Dr Bigby uses the concept of successful ageing as a framework in which to consider the issues and practicalities for older people with a pre existing disability The SAGE Handbook of Social Gerontology Dale Dannefer, Chris Phillipson, 2010-08-13 This SAGE Handbook integrates basic research on social dimensions of aging It presents programmatic applications of research in areas not often seen in Handbooks including imprisonment technology and aging urban society aged and elderly migration The authors constitute a Who s Who of international gerontology and the focus on globalization and aging is unique among Handbooks today This Handbook should be in the library of every social gerontologist Vern L Bengtson Professor of Gerontology University of Southern California This volume reflects the emergence of ageing as a global concern including chapters by international scholars from Asia Australasia Europe and North America It provides a comprehensive overview of key trends and issues in the field drawing upon the full range of social science disciplines The Handbook is organized into five parts each exploring different aspects of research into social aspects of ageing Disciplinary overviews summaries of findings from key disciplinary areas within social gerontology Social relationships and social differences explores area like social inequality gender religion inter generational ties social networks and friendships Individual characteristics and change in later life examines different aspects of individual aging including self and identity cognitive processes and bio social interactions and their impact on physical and psychological aging Comparative perspectives and cultural innovations topics include ageing and development ageing in a global context migration and cross cultural perspectives on grandparenthood Policy issues covering policy concerns such as long term care technology and older people end of life issues work and retirement and the politics of old age This will be essential reading for all students researchers and policy makers concerned with the major issues influencing the lives of older people across the globe

Handbook of Theories of Aging, Second Edition Merrill Silverstein PhD, Vern L. Bengtson PhD, Norella Putney PhD, Daphna Gans PhD, 2008-10-27 The field of gerontology has often been criticized for being data rich but theory poor The editors of this book address this issue by stressing the importance of theory in gerontology While the previous edition focused on multidisciplinary approaches to aging theory this new edition provides cross disciplinary integrative explanations of aging theory The contributors of this text have reached beyond traditional disciplinary boundaries to partner with researchers in adjacent fields in studying aging and age related phenomena This edition of the Handbook consists of 39 chapters written by 67 internationally recognized experts in the field of aging It is organized in seven sections reflecting the major theoretical developments in gerontology over the past 10 years Special Features Comprehensive coverage of aging theory focusing on the biological psychological and social aspects of aging A section dedicated to discussing how aging theory informs public policy A concluding chapter summarizing the major themes of aging and offering predictions about the future of theory development Required reading for graduate students and post doctoral fellows this textbook represents the current status of theoretical development in the study of aging
