response not only to different ads but among different viewers of the same ad Image and Object carries the inquiry of visual response over the bridge toward object interaction Having traveled a path that has gone from the precise working of the brain in processing visual stimuli all the way to the history of classical architecture readers of this volume will have a new respect for the complexity of human visual response and the research that is trying to explain it It will be of interest to those involved in consumer behavior consumer psychology advertising marketing and visual communication

Retrofitting the City Stefan Bouzarovski, 2015-11-25 Cities are responsible for three quarters of the world's energy consumption If we are to reduce our demands on the planet's resources how can we make our urban areas more energy efficient One way is to refit existing buildings with more thermally efficient building materials But such retrofitting involves significant issues of social acceptance and public participation Retrofitting the City provides an important corrective to the assumptions that have been made concerning the ability of people and places to cope with such residential transformation Drawing upon case studies from a number of European cities that have undergone far reaching change in their built environments the author shows that supposedly inadaptable people and places show a strong if often hidden degree of flexibility in responding to economic change and building transformation
