Re Presenting the Johannine Community A Postcolonial Perspective explores the characterization of the Johannine community in the Farewell Discourse of the Fourth Gospel from a postcolonial perspective The community is scrutinized with the lens of an integrated literary rhetorical and ideological postcolonial approach The disciples emerge as both the Self insofar as they resist an imperial reality represented by the world and the Other with respect to Jesus and the Father As such far from immutable and bland the Johannine community is portrayed as chameleonic and engaged in an emerging strategy of resistance Book Jacket

Law in Transition Ruth Buchanan, Peer Zumbansen, 2014-12-01

Law has become the vehicle by which countries in the developing world including post conflict states or states undergoing constitutional transformation must steer the course of social and economic legal and political change Legal mechanisms in particular the instruments as well as concepts of human rights play an increasingly central role in the discourses and practices of both development and transitional justice These developments can be seen as part of a tendency towards convergence within the wider set of discourses and practices in global governance While this process of convergence of formerly distinct normative and conceptual fields of theory and practice has been both celebrated and critiqued at the level of theory the present collection provides through a series of studies drawn from a variety of contexts in which human rights advocacy and transitional justice initiatives are colliding with development projects programmes and objectives a more nuanced and critical account of contemporary developments The book includes essays by many of the leading experts writing at the intersection of development rights and transitional justice studies Notwithstanding the theoretical and practical challenges presented by the complex interaction of these fields the premise of the book is that it is only through engagement and dialogue among hitherto distinct fields of scholarship and practice that a better understanding of the institutional and normative issues arising in contemporary law and development and transitional justice contexts will be possible The book is designed for research and teaching at both undergraduate and graduate levels

ENDORSEMENTS An extraordinary collection of essays that illuminate the nature of law in today's fragmented and uneven globalized world by situating the stakes of law in the intersection between the fields of human rights development and transitional justice Unusual for its breadth and the quality of scholarly contributions from many who are top scholars in their fields this volume is one of the first that attempts to weave the three specialized fields and succeeds brilliantly For anyone working in the fields of development studies human rights or transitional justice this volume is a wake up call to abandon their preconceived ideas and frames and aim for a conceptual and programmatic restart Professor Balakrishnan Rajagopal Ford International Associate Professor of Law and Development Massachusetts Institute of Technology This superb collection of essays explores the challenges possibilities and limits faced by scholars and practitioners seeking to imagine forms of law that can respond to social transformation Drawing together cutting edge work across the three dynamic fields of law and development transitional justice and international human rights law this volume powerfully demonstrates that in light of the changes demanded of legal research education and practice in a globalizing world all law is law in transition Anne Orford Michael D Kirby Chair of International Law and Australian Research Council Future Fellow University of Melbourne A terrific volume Leading scholars of human rights development policy and transitional justice look back and into the future What has worked Where have these projects gone astray or conflicted with one another Law will only contribute forcefully to justice development and peaceful sustainable change if the lessons learned here give rise to a new practical wisdom We all hope law can do better the essays collected here begin to show us how David Kennedy Manley O Hudson Professor of Law Director Institute for Global Law and Policy

Harvard Law School After the Third World? Mark T. exam oriented content Islamist Party Mobilization Chuchu Zhang, 2019-07-19 This book aims to explore how Islamist parties mobilize debates discourses and environments in electoral authoritarian systems Interrelating three theoretical schools Electoral Authoritarianism Theory Protest Voting Theory and Political Process Theory it adopts and expands on a demand and supply framework to approach the subject in a novel way and adapts them to address North Africa a region in which such theoretical scholarship has until now not been conducted In depth case studies focus on two Islamist parties in North Africa Tunisia s Ennahda and Algeria s HMS both of which adopted the Muslim Brotherhood model had charismatic leaders and were active in the political scene from 1989 2014 the period between their first electoral trial and their electoral participation after taking part in governance The chapters proceed chronologically providing a historical treatment of the evolution of Ennahda and the HMS since their inception and addressing their development in two and a half decades Cast away : for these reasons Jo M. Sekimonyo, 2018-04-14 Do we need an Economic Jihad What can you say about the boring cock fights between Capitalism deities of our time You should be as disgusted as I am of these clown shows that chip away the substance of economic disparity dialogues I have left to the class of economist sloppy cerebral sloths to tiptoeing around of serious issues Instead you the reader and I will be swimming against the torrent current Chapter one through six are exhibits of the case against the current status quo Capitalism And if I see you on the other side of chapter seven please hold my hand tightly from chapter eight through ten Take your time to digest chapter eleven and get yourself prepared for a big slap to your face On the closing argument chapter twelve follows through James Tobin s recommendation Good papers in economics contain surprises and stimulate further work Fifty Five Shades of Political Economy What demon possessed me to write this book Well after walking by giving my spare change to people blinded and asphyxiated by misery in every country I have been lucky or cursed to travel to I asked myself repeatedly what else can I do I was tired of capitalist guardians buffoonery angry of the so called Karl Mark reincarnation ineptness and tired of waiting for a superhero I wrote this book to awake the general public consciousness and put out there a thought provoking solution to the global socio economic plight Stories about inequality have been told on and on Nevertheless I decided to stir the debate onto a new path let s hope that I succeed This book is for everyone who is fed up by the status quo and has been let down by the lumpenintellectuals Let me first reassure most people who could be intimidated to pick up my book once they hear that it is a political economic book it is easier to answer the question of what my book is not about There s no math nor graphs I left it to the economic druids the need of inflating their egos and any smart asses who bamboozle the world with crazy theories that do not stand the test of real life My book is a case against the social economic status quo a roller coaster ride through a volcanic ash cloud for all of us who have been busted bruised and despondent from the current dominant form of economy capitalism And then I hold the reader s hand into the new 21st century paradigm that changes everything And right at the end I provide a real rabble rousing solution I can expect that the only challenge in this book is the new terminology and concepts that I introduce to the readers
