RELIGION AND THE DECLINE OF FERTILITY IN THE NINETEENTH AND TWENTIETH CENTURIES THE EMERGENCE OF A RESEARCH ISSUE During the last quarter of the nineteenth century almost all European countries began to experience a decline in their fertility level This transition was recognized as crucial almost from its inception and provided a strong stimulus for the scientific study of fertility until then there had been no apparent trend toward a decline in fertility with the exception of France and differentials in fertility had not been very conspicuous Lorimer 1959 142 Handbooks and articles on population mainly of a statistical demographic nature took up the question of falling birth rates and its causes The bases for these studies were the routinely collected population statistics that made it possible to observe fertility trends for administrative regions By identifying administrative regions that differed in the timing and extent of the fertility decline researchers hoped to find explanations for the fertility transition Municipal statistical offices in larger cities such as Berlin Vienna Budapest and Amsterdam were able to obtain more diversified data than were generally collected by national agencies and offered social scientists the opportunity to carry out more intensive investigations of differential fertility that is of variations in fertility of socially defined subpopulations or categories defined by occupation or rural urban residence Somewhat later the national statistical agencies started to collect and publish comparable data at the national level

Religion and Fertility Joseph Chamie, 1981-04-30 This work is a critical investigation into the relationship between religious affiliation on the one hand and fertility family size preferences and family planning behaviour on the other Dr Chamie works from a set of unique data the 1971 Fertility and Family Planning Survey in Lebanon This survey is not only a national study of Lebanese fertility but also a large scale survey 2 800 people offering the opportunity to study Arab Christian Muslim differentials Lebanon s demographic situation has far greater scientific and practical importance than might be supposed from its relatively small population From observing the important religious communities at different stages of social and economic development Dr Chamie has thus been able to analyse the interacting effects of religion and socio economic development on reproductive behaviour

The Family in America Robert McC. Adams, 2017-07-12 The Family in America offers a fresh interpretation of American social history emphasizing the vital role of the family and household autonomy and threats to both imposed by industrial organization and the state Allan Carlson shows that the United States rather than being born modern as a progressive consumerist society was in fact founded as an agrarian society composed of independent households rooted in land lineage and hierarchy Carlson argues that family survival continues to be of paramount importance today He critically examines five distinct strategies to restore a foundation for family life in industrial society drawing on the insights of Frederic LePlay Carle Zimmerman and G K Chesterton Carlson shows that family survival depends on the creation of meaningful pre modern household economies This new edition includes an introduction by Allan Carlson detailing the continued press of the industrial process onto the American family structure since initial publication of the book in 1993

The Economics Of Religion Robert M Sauer,2023-04-25 Adam Smith one of the founding fathers of contemporary economics observed that religiosity is influenced by the extent of regulation in the market for religion In countries where there is a state sponsored religion one can expect less overall religiosity than if the market were competitive and religions had to compete to increase their membership Religion he claims is like other goods and services supplied in a market economy Max Weber one of the founding fathers of contemporary sociology similarly proposed that religiosity and economic principles are strongly interconnected phenomena Weber famously thought that Protestant religious beliefs about the importance of work savings and trustworthiness played an important role in sparking the Industrial Revolution and accelerating economic growth in the Western World This edited volume contains original contributions by eminent scholars in the new and emerging field of the economics of religion The contributions expand upon the ground breaking ideas of Adam Smith and Max Weber The chapters also illuminate new directions for research in this relatively young intellectually exciting and rapidly growing multidisciplinary field of scientific inquiry The Church Confronts Modernity Thomas E. Woods,2004 Thomas Woods discusses the Catholic intellectual critique of modernity during the period immediately before after the turn of the 19th century He shows how the nonpluralistic institution of Christianity responded to an increasingly pluralistic intellectual environment Population and Global Security Nicholas Polunin,1998-04-16 This book examines the implications of rapid human population growth for global stability and security Family Cycles Allan C. Carlson,2017-07-05 In this paradigm shifting volume Allan C Carlson identifies and examines four distinct cycles of strength or weakness of American family systems This distinctly American family model includes early and nearly universal marriage high fertility close attention to parental responsibilities complementary gender roles meaningful intergenerational bonds and relative stability Notably such traits distinguish the strong American family system from the weak European model evident since 1700 which involves late marriage a high proportion of the adult population never married significantly lower fertility and more divorces The author shows that these cycles of strength and weakness have occurred until recently in remarkably consistent fifty year swings in the United States since colonial times The book s chapters are organized around these 50 year time frames There have been four family cycles of strength and decline since 1630 each one lasting about one hundred years

The author argues that fluctuations within this cyclical model derive from intellectual economic cultural and religious influences which he explores in detail and supports with considerable evidence Vital and Health Statistics, 1965

Catholicism and American Freedom: A History John T. McGreevy, 2004-09-17 A brilliant book which brings historical analysis of religion in American culture to a new level of insight and importance New York Times Book Review Catholicism and American Freedom is a groundbreaking historical account of the tensions and occasional alliances between Catholic and American understandings of a healthy society and the individual person including dramatic conflicts over issues such as slavery public education economic reform the movies contraception and abortion Putting scandals in the Church and the media's response in a much larger context this stimulating history is a model of nuanced scholarship and provocative reading

Lorraine Radtke, Henderikus J. Stam, Professor Henderikus J Stam, 1994-01-01 This book investigates the complex strands that inextricably link gender and power relations demonstrating how gender is constructed through the practices of power The contributors argue that female and male are shaped not only at the micro level of everyday social interaction but also at the macro level where social institutions control and regulate the practice of gender Power Gender explores how theorizing on power is affected when gender is taken into account post Foucauldian theory of gender and power whether it is possible to separate gender and power the connections between gender and the practice of power in political contexts and how these connections work in the specific contexts of women's lives and whether the construction of sex or gender is an expression of power relations      Issues in the Demography of Swaziland Augustine Okore, Gugulethu Gule, 1993
