Furst, 1995 All is true realist writers would say of their work to which critics now respond All is art and artifice Offering a new approach to reading nineteenth century realist fiction Lilian R Furst seeks to reconcile these contradictory claims In doing so she clarifies the deceptions appropriations intentions and ultimately the power of literary realism In close textual analyses of works ranging across European and American literature including paradigmatic texts by Balzac Flaubert George Eliot Zola Henry James and Thomas Mann Furst shows how the handling of time the presentation of place and certain narrational strategies have served the realists claim She demonstrates how readers today like those a hundred years ago are convinced of the authenticity of the created illusion by such means as framing voice perspective and the slippage from metonymy to metaphor Further Furst reveals the pains the realists took to conceal these devices and thus to protect their claim to be employing a simple form Taking into account both the claims and the covert strategies of these writers All Is True puts forward an alternative to the conventional polarized reading of the realist text which emerges here as neither strictly an imitation of an extraneous model nor simply a web of words but a brilliantly complex imbrication of the two A major statement on one of the most enduring forms in cultural history this book promises to alter not only our view of realist fiction but our understanding of how we read it      Sunshot ,2006 The Devil s Highway crosses a stretch of borderland desert in northern Mexico where many immigrants have traveled and too many have died It is a despoblado where desperate people defend secret places But it is also known as El Gran Desierto a place where stately saguaros stand near aromatic elephant trees where sand dunes caress the edges of jagged granite mountains where one can watch bighorn sheep in the morning and whales in the afternoon Over the years desert rat Bill Broyles has ventured repeatedly into this sunshot landscape slogged across its salt flats and sand dunes and defied its deadly heat This book chronicles his years of exploration a vivid and personal introduction to a thorny but ultimately enchanting place that manages to endear itself over time if it doesn t kill you first Michael Berman s stark black and white photographs capture the desolate beauty of the desert while conveying a sense of Broyles adventures

Gleaned from more than 4 000 images shot with a large format camera these exquisite photographs translate the desert's formidable monotone into finely tuned studies of light and represent some of the best photos ever taken of this mysterious region. El Gran Desierto is a grand desert indeed with beauty, spirit and mystery rivaling any place on Earth and anyone captivated by the earlier explorations of Lumholtz, Ives or Hornaday or by Edward Abbey's love of desert places will revel in these modern day adventures. Sunshot defies the stereotype of a punishing wilderness to show how even the most perilous desert can be alluring if approached with knowledge and respect.

Henry Vaughan, the Achievement of Silex Scintillans Thomas O. Calhoun, 1981 This is an extensive study of Henry Vaughan's use of the sonnet cycle. This study takes into account Vaughan's work over two decades, approximately 1640-1660.

The Poet's Wisdom Timothy Kircher, 2006 The book explores the philosophical thinking of Petrarch and Boccaccio in contrast to the writings of contemporary mendicants. Examining both Latin and vernacular works, it investigates how these humanists poetically express the temporal, subjective and emotional quality of moral sensibility in a way that shifts to the reader the weight of discerning the ethical message. The book centers its analysis on a series of paradoxes pondered by these humanists: the self that changes yet persists over time, the awareness of self-deception, the individual's validation of authority and the ethics of pleasure. This study is valuable to those interested in Renaissance philosophy, literature, religion and the history of ideas.
