Reclaiming Difference Carine M. Mardorossian,2005 In Reclaiming Difference Carine Mardorossian examines the novels of four women writers Jean Rhys Dominica UK Maryse Condé Guadeloupe USA Edwidge Danticat Haiti USA and Julia Alvarez Dominican Republic USA showing how their writing has radically reformulated the meanings of the national geographical sexual and racial concepts through which postcolonial studies has long been configuring difference Coming from the anglophone francophone and hispanophone Caribbean these writers all stage and identify with transcultural experiences that undermine the usual classification of literary texts in terms of national and regional literatures and by doing so they challenge the idea that racial and cultural identities function as stable points of reference in our unstable world Focusing on the transformations that have taken place in postcolonial studies since the field began to focus on theory Mardorossian highlights not only how these writers make use of the styles of creolization and hybridity that have dominated Caribbean and postcolonial studies in recent years but also how they distinguish themselves from the movement's leading figures by offering new articulations of the ties that link race and nation to gender and class She illuminates how these writers extend the notion of hybridity away from racial and cultural differences in isolation from each other to a set of crisscrossing categories that challenge our simpler normative figurations For scholars in postcolonial studies Caribbean studies literary feminist studies and studies in comparative literature Reclaiming Difference represents a new phase in postcolonial studies that calls for a fundamental rethinking of the field's terminology and assumptions

Neo-Victorian Cannibalism Tammy Lai-Ming Ho, 2019-02-04 This Pivot examines a body of contemporary neo Victorian novels whose uneasy relationship with the past can be theorised in terms of aggressive eating including cannibalism Not only is the imagery of eating repeatedly used by critics to comprehend neo Victorian literature the theme of cannibalism itself also appears overtly or implicitly in a number of the novels and their Victorian prototypes thereby mirroring the cannibalistic relationship between the contemporary and the Victorian Tammy Lai Ming Ho argues that aggressive eating or cannibalism can be seen as a pathological and defining characteristic of neo Victorian fiction demonstrating how cannibalism provides a framework for understanding the genre's origin its conflicted ambivalent and violent relationship with its Victorian predecessors and the grotesque and gothic effects that it generates in its fiction
