The Storyteller's Daughter Camerron Dokey, 2002 Once upon a time there was a king whose heart was heavy He had been betrayed by the women he loved Though the queen's schemes were discovered before she could deprive her husband of his life her dying curse killed something deep within him his ability to love and trust The Storyteller's Daughter Cameron Dokey, When Shahrazad becomes enslaved she must remain cool and calm to come up with a clever plan that will make the coldhearted king see her in a different light in order to change her future The Return of the Storyteller in Contemporary Fiction Areti Dragas, 2014-08-31 Focusing on the figure of the storyteller this study breaks new ground in the approach to reading contemporary literature by identifying a growing interest in storytelling For the last thirty years contemporary fiction has been influenced by theoretical discourses textuality and writing Only since the rise of postcolonialism have academic critics been more overtly interested in stories where high theory frameworks are less applicable However as we move through various contemporary contexts engaging with postcolonial identities and hybridity to narratives of disability and evolutionary accounts of group and individual survival a common feature of all is the centrality of story which posits both the idea of survival and the passing on of traditions The Return of the Storyteller in Contemporary Fiction closely examines this preoccupation with story and storytelling through a close reading of six contemporary international novelists that are either about actual storytellers or engage with the figure of the storyteller revealing how death of the author has given birth to the storyteller Storyteller's Daughter Cameron Dokey, Jean Thesman, 2002-09-01

The Storytellers Caron McKinlay, 2022-05-16 Trapped between life and the afterlife three women meet and share their stories while discovering the truth about the men in their lives and about themselves Suspended in an eerie state of limbo an entity called the Gatekeeper tells Nikki Ronnie and Mrs Hawthorne they are on the cusp of entering the afterlife but only if the women can persuade him that in their earthly lives they knew the meaning of love Fragments of their memories return plunging them back into their pasts and forcing them to face the desires disappointments addictions lies and obsessions they battled in life But before time runs out will they find the answer to the ultimate question what is love Darkly funny and completely compelling with brilliantly flawed characters you can't help rooting for even when they're bad Frances Quinn author of The Smallest Man Utterly mind blowing If Stuart Turton had written Gone Girl it would look like this Intelligent compelling writing that is genre defining Brilliant Victoria Dowd author of The Supper Club Murders Gripping thought provoking and clever I was hooked from the very first page Nicola Gill author of The Neighbours Beautiful edgy and the perfect debut A tale crafted with heart soul and sass Keith A Pearson author of The 86 Fix

The Storyteller's Daughter Saira Shah, 2007-12-18 Imagine that a jewel like garden overlooking Kabul is your ancestral home Imagine a kitchen made fragrant with saffron strands and cardamom pods simmering in an authentic pilau Now remember that you were born in London your family in exile and that you have never seen Afghanistan in peacetime These are but the starting points of Saira Shah's memoir by turns inevitably exotic and unavoidably heartbreaking in which she explores her family's history in and out of Afghanistan As an accomplished journalist and documentarian her film Beneath the Veil unflinchingly depicted for CNN viewers the humiliations forced on women under Taliban rule Shah returned to her family's homeland cloaked in the burqa to witness the pungent and shocking realities of Afghan life As the daughter of the Sufi fabulist Idries Shah primed by a lifetime of listening to her father's stories she eagerly sought out from the mouths of Afghan refugees in Pakistan the rich and living myths that still sustain this battered culture of warriors And she discovered that in Afghanistan all the storytellers have been men until now

The Storyteller's Daughter Saira Shah, 2004 Saira Shah grew up in Britain but she was always told she came from somewhere else a fairytale land of orchards and gardens The country was Afghanistan the storyteller her father Then aged twenty one Saira set out to find the truth about her family's homeland Instead of finding a paradise she was plunged into a country at war The journey spanned more than fifteen years Whether extricating herself from an arranged marriage walking through minefields with the mujahidin or slipping clandestinely into the Taliban's Kabul Saira learnt the bitter limits of the stories she loved But she discovered the reality of a country more complex and challenging than anything she could have imagined

Marginality in the Contemporary British Novel Nicola Allen, 2011-10-27 The Marginal as a concept has become an integral part of the British novel as it stands at the turn of the century Both popular and literary fiction since the mid 1970s has seen an increasing emphasis on the marginal subject This study offers readings of a wide range of contemporary British novels that represent characters or communities at the margin of society Nicola Allen analyses three conceptual categories representing the marginal subject in the contemporary British novel the character of the misfit or outsider the emergence of the grotesque and the rediscovery of previously marginalized narratives such as myth and fantasy This innovative and original monograph focuses on the contention that the contemporary novel of marginality conveys a belief in the socially transformative powers of narrative and suggests that narrative has played a central role in bringing marginal politics and marginal issues to the fore in contemporary Britain Toward a Cognitive Theory of Narrative Acts
