The Islamic Syncretistic Tradition In Bengal:

The Islamic Syncretistic Tradition in Bengal Asim Roy, 2014-07-14 Asim Roy argues that Islam in Bengal was not a corruption of the real Middle Eastern Islam as nineteenth century reformers claimed but a valid historical religion developed in an area totally different from the Middle East Originally published in 1984 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 The Islamic Syncretistic Tradition in Bengal Asim Roy, 1983-01-01 The Islamic Syncretistic Tradition in Bengal Asīma Rāya, 1983 Syncretism/Anti-Syncretism Rosalind Shaw, Charles Stewart, 2003-12-16 The contributors explore the issues of agency and power which motivate the conflicting discourses surrounding syncretism that is the mixing of different religious traditions within a culture The Rise and Decline of the Islamic Syncretistic Tradition in South Asia, with Special Reference to Bengal John Muller, 2002 The Hindu Self and Its Muslim Neighbors Ankur Barua, 2022-04-25 In The Hindu Self and its Muslim Neighbors the author sketches the contours of relations between Hindus and Muslims in Bengal The central argument is that various patterns of amicability and antipathy have been generated towards Muslims over the last six hundred years and these patterns emerge at dynamic intersections between Hindu self understandings and social shifts on contested landscapes The core of the book is a set of translations of the Bengali writings of Rabindranath Tagore 1861 1941 Kazi Nazrul Islam 1899 1976 and Annada Shankar Ray 1904 2002 Their lives were deeply interwoven with some Hindu Muslim synthetic ideas and subjectivities and these involvements are articulated throughout their writings which provide multiple vignettes of contemporary modes of amity and antagonism Barua argues that the characterization of relations between Hindus and Muslims either in terms of an implacable hostility or of an unfragmented peace is historically inaccurate for these relations were modulated by a shifting array of socio economic and socio political parameters It is within these contexts that Rabindranath Nazrul and Annada Shankar are developing their thoughts on Hindus and Muslims through the prisms of religious humanism and universalism Religious Traditions in South Asia Geoffrey A. Oddie, 2022-02-22 These studies focus on questions of religious interaction and change in India from the sixth century B C to the present day They represent the work of scholars in a range of disciplines and who are resident mostly in Australia Buddhism and Islam Kieko Obuse, 2024-11-04 Buddhist Muslim relations are usually seen as inherently confrontational This book challenges the view of Buddhism and Islam as fundamentally irreconcilable by exploring the diverse ways representatives of the two traditions have engaged each other in Southeast Asia the global frontstage of contemporary Buddhist Muslim relations and Japan a Buddhist majority country whose Islam policy played a significant role in its surge to global power status It investigates the processes through which mutual perceptions and discourses have developed in response to shifting socio political circumstances and via the intellectual interventions of leading personalities Women and Islam in Bangladesh T. Hashmi, 2000-03-10 This work of research by Taj Hashmi puts the issue of women's position in society in historical as well as Islamic perspectives to relate it to the objective conditions in Bangladesh In eight illuminating chapters he narrates how Quranic edicts about women have through the ages been misinterpreted by the power elites and the mullahs to suppress women Even NGOs are not immune from exploiting them Hope according to the author lies in the literacy and economic self reliance of the Bangladeshi women Cultural Fusion of Sufi Islam Sarwar Alam, 2019-08-19 It has been argued that the mystical Sufi form of Islam is the most sensitive to other cultures being accommodative to other traditions and generally tolerant to peoples of other faiths It readily becomes integrated into local cultures and they are similarly often infused into Sufism Examples of this reciprocity are commonly reflected in Sufi poetry music hagiographic genres memoirs and in the ritualistic practices of Sufi traditions This volume shows how this often side lined tradition functions in the societies in which it is found and demonstrates how it relates to mainstream Islam The focus of this book ranges from reflecting Sufi themes in the Quranic calligraphy to movies from ideals to everyday practices from legends to actual history from gender segregation to gender transgression and from legalism to spiritualism Consequently the international panel of contributors to this volume are trained in a range of disciplines that include religious studies history comparative literature anthropology and ethnography Covering Southeast Asia to West Africa as well as South Asia and the West they address both historical and contemporary issues shedding light on Sufism's adaptability This book sets aside conventional methods of understanding Islam such as theological juridical and philosophical in favour of analysing its cultural impact As such it will be of great interest to all scholars of Islamic Studies the Sociology of Religion Religion and Media as well as Religious Studies and Area Studies more generally
