The Constitution of Social Practices Kevin

McMillan,2017-10-02 Practices specific recurrent types of human action and activity are perhaps the most fundamental building blocks of social reality This book argues that the detailed empirical study of practices is essential to effective social scientific inquiry It develops a philosophical infrastructure for understanding human practices and argues that practice theory should be the analytical centrepiece of social theory and the philosophy of the social sciences What would social scientists research look like if they took these insights seriously To answer this question the book offers an analytical framework to guide empirical research on practices in different times and places The author explores how practices can be identified characterised and explained how they function in concrete contexts and how they might change over time and space The Constitution of Social Practices lies at the intersection of philosophy social theory cultural theory and the social sciences It is essential reading for scholars in social theory and the philosophy of social science as well as the broad range of researchers and students across the social sciences and humanities whose work stands to benefit from serious consideration of practices

The Philosophy of Social Practices Raimo Tuomela,2002-10-24 This is a systematic philosophical and conceptual study of the notion of a social practice Raimo Tuomela explains social practices in terms of the interlocking mental states of the agents he shows how social practices for example customs and traditions are building blocks of society and he offers a clear and powerful account of the way in which social institutions are constructed from these building blocks as established interconnected sets of social practices with a special new social status His analysis is based on the novel concept of shared we attitudes which represent a weak form of collective intentionality and he makes instructive connections to major topics and figures in philosophy and the social sciences His book will be of interest to a wide range of readers in philosophy of mind philosophy of social science psychology and sociology and artificial intelligence

Building a Social Democracy Robert Danisch, 2015-11-06 Building a Social Democracy offers an alternative intellectual history of American pragmatism one that tries to reclaim the middle of the twentieth century in order to push neo pragmatism beyond its philosophical limitations Danisch argues that the major entailment of the invention of American pragmatism at the beginning of the twentieth century is that rhetorical practices are the rightful object of study and means of improving democratic life Pragmatism entails a commitment to rhetoric Rhetorical pragmatism is intended to be more faithful to the project of first generation pragmatism to offer insight into the ways in which rhetoric operates in contemporary democratic cultures to recommend practices methods and modes of action for improving contemporary democratic cultures and to subordinate philosophy to rhetoric by reimagining appropriate ways for pragmatist scholarship and social research to advance Social Work Theory and Methods Neil Thompson,Paul Stepney,2017-10-23 This gateway text lays the foundations for a thorough knowledge of the theory and methods that social workers need Pulling together the work of a team of experts this book uses the innovative theorizing practice approach rather than the traditional applying theory to practice approach thereby providing a much more satisfactory basis for understanding the relationship between theory and practice and making it easier for practitioners to employ theory in practice Part I sets the scene by examining the relationship between theory and practice how research can be used to inform practice and the important role of policy and organizational factors Part II provides 14 chapters each exploring a different theoretical approach All in all this book provides the ideal introduction to using social work theory and methods in practice
