Changing Large Technical Systems Jane Summerton, 2021-11-29 This international anthology presents case studies of historical and contemporary transformations of large technical systems such as railways telecommunications electricity and automobiles The authors working at the forefront of historical and social science research on the dynamics of large technical systems analyze how and why these systems undergo change Because of their important roles in contemporary society large technical systems such as railways airlines road systems telecommunications and electric power network share drawing considerable academic and political interest In this collaborative study on processes of change in large technical systems the contributing authors present historical and current case studies of transformation within these systems Working at the forefront of historical and social science research on the dynamics of large technical systems the authors specifically analyze how and why the systems undergo change In some cases new technologies are solving old problems and presenting opportunities for system growth In other areas new regulatory approaches have brought competition and deregulation often posing challenges to system builders The authors also show how the breakup of national boundaries and new corporate strategies for global management of technology are transforming systems in ways that will have significant impacts on all consumers

The Governance of Large Technical Systems Olivier Coutard, 2002-01-04 This work examines the governance of large technical systems LTS at firm industry and state levels and the interactions between the systems and society In particular international contributors explore the implications of major technological economic and social changes during the last twenty years for traditional forms of LTS governance Their research is centred around the following themes traditional forms of governance new regulatory challenges the governability of complex technologies conceptual issues related to the governance of inter organizational networks

The Governance of Energy Megaprojects Benjamin K. Sovacool, C. J. Cooper, 2013-07-01 Benjamin Sovacool and Christopher Jon Cooper have produced an astonishing and well written book based on extensive original research in twelve countries They explore the technical social political and economic dimensions of four energy megaprojects The large scale of megaprojects always appears to complicate the decision making process and often causes failures Megaprojects may even reinforce corruption and erode democracy It highlights that today's experiences can be explained by statements by Aristotle and Einstein who argue both in their own way that it is always wise to take the limits of size into account and to reduce the size of projects wherever this is possible For everybody involved in megaprojects this book must be read Hugo Priemus Delft University of Technology The Netherlands Based on extensive original research this book explores the technical social political and economic dimensions of four Asian energy megaprojects a regional natural gas pipeline network in Southeast Asia a series of hydroelectric dams on the island of Borneo an oil pipeline linking Europe with the Caspian Sea and a very large solar energy array in the Gobi desert This book investigates why energy megaprojects fail to deliver their promised benefits It offers the first comprehensive assessment of the complicated dynamics driving and constraining megaprojects initiated in the rapid scramble for energy resources and efforts to improve energy security The authors approach the assessment of megaprojects from a socio technical angle emphasizing broad issues of political leadership regulation financing interest group opposition and environmental impact as well as conventional technological factors such as engineering design and project management The Governance of Energy Megaprojects will prove insightful for academics concerned about energy policy energy security environmental impact and technology assessment But the book should prove equally compelling to those engaged in the practical management and implementation of large scale energy projects anywhere in the world

Innovation Policy and Governance in High-Tech Industries

Johannes Bauer,Achim Lang,Volker Schneider,2012-01-05 The book examines the conditions for successful high technology policy from theoretical and empirical perspectives It enhances the predominant national systems of innovation approach to innovation policy with concepts based on new developments in the governance of complex systems and processes The conceptual framework of complex networks and systems is used to examine national policy approaches in countries that have created environments conducive to high technology industries as well as individual high technology sectors such as biotechnology alternative energy and aerospace Theoretical and empirical contributions are synthesised into lessons for high tech policy and further research

Technology and Society, second edition Deborah G. Johnson,Jameson M.

Wetmore,2021-08-24 Writings by thinkers ranging from Rokeya Sakhawat Hossain to Bruno Latour that focus on the interconnections of technology society and values Technological change does not happen in a vacuum decisions about which technologies to develop fund market and use engage ideas about values as well as calculations of costs and benefits In order to influence the development of technology for the better we must first understand how technology and society are inextricably bound together These writings by thinkers ranging from Bruno Latour to Francis Fukuyama help us do just that examining how people shape technology and how technology shapes people This second edition updates the original significantly offering twenty one new essays along with fifteen from the first edition The book first presents visions of the future that range from technological utopias to cautionary tales and then introduces several major STS theories It examines human and social values and how they are embedded in technological choices and explores the interesting and subtle complexities of the technology society relationship Remedying a gap in earlier theorizing in the field many of the texts illustrate how race and gender are intertwined with technology Finally the book offers a set of readings that focus on the sociotechnical challenges we face today treating topics that include cybersecurity geoengineering and the myth of neutral technology
