Sociological Visions:

Sociological Visions Kai Erikson, 1997 All of the essays are by authors whose sociological vision has had a profound impact on our culture

Sociological Visions Kai Erikson, 1997-08-29 While other academic disciplines claim a focus around specific subject matter sociologists think of their field as an approach to understanding the often invisible forces and social contexts that shape the way people conduct their lives How these forces and contexts are structured is central to sociology But how do sociologists analyze these invisible structures This book contributes to our understanding by bringing together a remarkable set of master essays about modern sociology written by some of the leading figures of the field Each author describes a vision of sociological inquiry or offers an example of research that illustrates approaches and problems encountered in doing sociological work The collection is rounded out with a prologue by Kai Erikson an epilogue by Paul DiMaggio and an extraordinary autobiographical essay by Robert K Merton The book is introduced by its editor as a set of reflections a gathering of visions But the range of topics and the variety of authors represented make it a valuable introduction to sociology as a discipline and as a way of thinking

The Social Visions of the Hebrew Bible J. David Pleins, 2001-01-01 J David Pleins presents a sociological study of the Hebrew Bible seeking to uncover its social vision by examining biblical statements about social ethics He does this within the framework provided by Israel's social institutions the social locations of its actors and the historical struggles for power and survival that are reflected in the transmission of the texts

The Sociological Ambition Chris Shilling, Philip A Mellor, 2001-09-05 The Sociological Ambition is a superb book It is beautifully written expertly edited and renders complex and original ideas entirely accessible This is a modern classic Journal of Contemporary Religion For all social scientists who are fed up with corporate style textbooks which appeal to the lowest common denominator The Sociological Ambition must come as a relief Shilling and Mellor have written an account of their discipline but they have done so with a multi purpose task in mind Irish Journal of Sociology In a comprehensive reassessment of the field Chris Shilling and Philip A Mellor examine the various attempts that have been made to reconstruct sociology over the last century arguing that classical and contemporary social theories must be studied in relation to the ambition that first shaped and established the discipline. The authors begin by situating sociology in its historical philosophical and theological contexts, examining how the founders of the discipline developed competing analyses of the processes elementary to social and moral life through their unique contributions. The result is a landmark work in recent sociological study. Accomplished and erudite, this book will be required reading for students of sociology, social theory, religious studies, and cultural studies.

New Horizons in Sociological Theory and Research Luigi Tomasi, 2020-07-24. This title was first published in 2001. This book tackles the important issue of the tasks that confront sociology in the third millennium. It examines the sociological interpretations of the World Wide revolution which, amid unprecedented scientific and technological progress and the globalization of markets, has generated new inequalities, poverty, structural unemployment, and mass conditionings. A number of the most distinguished living sociologists, including Boudon, Beck, Eisenstadt, Tiryakain, and Wieviorka, furnish profound and innovative interpretations of changes in world society while outlining the frontiers of sociological research for the 21st Century. The contributions to the book not only prompt reflection on the structure and organization of sociological research but also revitalize sociological inquiry by conducting original and stimulating analysis of theoretical and methodological issues, an undertaking essential for the survival of the discipline itself.

Theories about and Strategies against Hegemonic Social Sciences Michael Kuhn, Shujiro Yazawa, 2015-07-01. This innovative book provides new perspectives on the globalization of knowledge and the notion of hegemonic sciences. Tying together contributions of authors from all across the world, it challenges existing theories of hegemonic sciences and sheds new light on how they have been and are being constructed. Examining more closely the notions of human rights and individualization, this much needed volume offers new and alternative ideas on how to transform the universalization of the Western model of science and can serve as an eye opener for all those interested in non-hegemonic scientific discourse. This book is published within the Series Beyond the Social Sciences.

Environment, Social Justice, and the Media in the Age of the Anthropocene Elizabeth G. Dobbins, Luigi Manca, Maria Lucia Piga, 2020-02-17. Environment, Social Justice, and the Media in the Age of the Anthropocene addresses three imminent challenges to human society in the age of the Anthropocene. The first challenge involves the survival of the species; the second, the breakdown of social justice; and the third, the inability of the media to provide global audiences with an adequate orientation about these issues. The notion of the Anthropocene as a geological age shaped by human intervention implies a new understanding of the human context that influences the physical and biological sciences. Human existence continues to be affected by the physical and biological reality from which it evolved, but in turn it affects that reality as well. This work addresses this paradox by bringing together the contributions of researchers from very different disciplines in conversation about the complex relationships between the physical biological world and the human world to offer different perspectives and solutions in establishing social and environmental justice in the age of the
