Phillips, 2021-03-17 An exhaustively researched survey of Raymond Chandler's thorny relationship with Hollywood during the classic period of film noir Alain Silver film producer and author Raymond Chandler's seven novels including The Big Sleep 1939 and The Long Goodbye 1953 with their pessimism and grim realism had a direct influence on the emergence of film noir Chandler worked to give his crime novels the flavor of his adopted city Los Angeles which was still something of a frontier town rife with corruption and lawlessness In addition to novels Chandler wrote short stories and penned the screenplays for several films including Double Indemnity 1944 and Strangers on a Train 1951 His work with Billy Wilder and Alfred Hitchcock on these projects was fraught with the difficulties of collaboration between established directors and an author who disliked having to edit his writing on demand Creatures of Darkness is the first major biocritical study of Chandler in twenty years Gene Phillips explores Chandler's unpublished script for Lady in the Lake examines the process of adaptation of the novel Strangers on a Train discusses the merits of the unproduced screenplay for Playback and compares Howard Hawks's director's cut of The Big Sleep with the version shown in theaters Through interviews he conducted with Wilder Hitchcock Hawks and Edward Dmytryk over the past several decades Phillips provides deeper insight into Chandler's sometimes difficult personality Chandler's wisecracking private eye Philip Marlowe has spawned a thousand imitations Creatures of Darkness lucidly

Hitchcock, Second Edition William Rothman, 2012-08-20 First published in 1982 William Rothman's Hitchcock is a classic work of film criticism Written in an engaging style that is philosophically sophisticated yet free of jargon and using over nine hundred images from the films to illustrate and back up its critical claims the book follows six different Hitchcock films as they unfold moment by moment from first shot to last In addition to a thoughtful new preface and the original readings of The Lodger 1927 Murder 1930 The 39 Steps 1935 Shadow of a Doubt 1943 and Psycho 1960 this expanded edition includes a groundbreaking new chapter now the book's longest on Marnie 1964 Hitchcock's most heartfelt yet most controversial film Hitchcock never tired of quoting Oscar Wilde's line And all men kill the thing they love Dark moods therefore prevail in the five original chapters culminating in the reading of Psycho but in demonstrating how Marnie overcomes or transcends the murderous aspect of Hitchcock's art this new chapter balances the scales and gives an important new dimension to the book With exemplary precision Hitchcock Second Edition shows how Hitchcock films express cinematically serious thoughts about such matters as the nature and relationships of love murder sexuality marriage and theater and about their own medium In so doing it keeps faith with the idea that Hitchcock was a master perhaps the master of what he called the art of pure cinema However insofar as it investigates philosophically the conditions of authorship in the medium of film it is an auteurist study unlike any other By attending to the films themselves and to the ways we experience them rather than allowing some theory to dictate what to say about them the book proves the fruitfulness of an approach that is open and responsive to the ways serious films are capable of teaching us how to think seriously about them
