The Irish Magdalen:

Ireland and the Magdalene Laundries Claire McGettrick, Katherine O'Donnell, Maeve O'Rourke, James M. Smith, Mari Steed, 2021-08-12 Between 1922 and 1996 over 10 000 girls and women were imprisoned in Magdalene Laundries including those considered promiscuous a burden to their families or the state those who had been sexually abused or raised in the care of the Church and State and unmarried mothers These girls and women were subjected to forced labour as well as psychological and physical maltreatment Using the Irish State's own report into the Magdalene institutions as well as testimonies from survivors and independent witnesses this book gives a detailed account of life behind the high walls of Ireland's Magdalene institutions The book offers an overview of the social cultural and political contexts of institutional survivor activism the Irish State's response culminating in the McAleese Report and the formation of the Justice for Magdalenes campaign a volunteer run survivor advocacy group Ireland and the Magdalene Laundries documents the ongoing work carried out by the Justice for Magdalenes group in advancing public knowledge and research into Magdalene Laundries and how the Irish State continues to evade its responsibilities not just to survivors of the Magdalenes but also in providing a truthful account of what happened Drawing from a variety of primary sources this book reveals the fundamental flaws in the state's investigation and how the treatment of the burials exhumation and cremation of former Magdalene women remains a deeply troubling issue today emblematic of the system of torture and studious official neglect in which the Magdalene women lived their lives The Authors are donating all royalties in the name of the women who were held in the Magdalenes to EPIC Empowering People in Care

Ireland's Magdalen Laundries and the Nation's Architecture of Containment James M. Smith, 2007-09-01 The Magdalen laundries were workhouses in which many Irish women and girls were effectively imprisoned because they were perceived to be a threat to the moral fiber of society Mandated by the Irish state beginning in the eighteenth century they were operated by various orders of the Catholic Church until the last laundry closed in 1996 A few years earlier in 1993 an order of nuns in Dublin sold part of their Magdalen convent to a real estate developer The remains of 155 inmates buried in unmarked graves on the property were exhumed cremated and buried elsewhere in a mass grave This triggered a public scandal in Ireland and since then the Magdalen laundries have become an important issue in Irish culture especially with the 2002 release of the film The Magdalene Sisters Focusing on the ten Catholic Magdalen laundries operating between 1922 and 1996 Ireland's Magdalen Laundries and the Nation's Architecture of Containment offers the first history of women entering these institutions in the twentieth century Because the religious orders have not opened their archival records Smith argues that Ireland's Magdalen institutions continue to exist in the public mind primarily at the level of story cultural representation and survivor testimony rather than history archival history and documentation Addressed to academic and general readers alike James M Smith's book accomplishes three primary objectives First it connects what history we have of the Magdalen laundries to Ireland's architecture of containment that made undesirable segments of the female population such as illegitimate children single mothers and sexually promiscuous women literally invisible Second it critically evaluates cultural representations in drama and visual art of the laundries that have over the past fifteen years brought them significant attention in Irish culture Finally Smith challenges the nation church state and society to acknowledge its complicity in Ireland s Magdalen scandal and to offer redress for victims and survivors alike

Origins of the Magdalene Laundries Rebecca Lea McCarthy,2010-03-08 The convents asylums and laundries that once comprised the Magdalene institutions are the subject of this work Though originally half way homes for prostitutes in the Middle Ages these homes often became forced labor institutions particularly in Ireland Examining the laundries within the context of a growing world capitalist economy the work argues that the process of colonization and of defining a national image determined the nature and longevity of the Magdalene Laundries This process developed differently in Ireland where the last laundry closed in 1996 The book focuses on the devolution of the significance of Mary Magdalene as a metaphor for the organization from an affluent strong supporter of Jesus to a simple fallen woman The Magdalen Marita

Conlon-McKenna,2024-07-02 In this international bestselling novel set in 1950s Ireland a pregnant and optionless young woman endures life working in a Dublin convent Told in a straightforward and unadorned manner The Magdalen is among the best of the contemporary Irish tales out there today and deserves to be embraced here as it was in Ireland Bookreporter com Esther Doyle is a true child of Connemara She is a simple girl with a true heart and the wild and tangled land of the West sings in her bones But when Esther is betrayed by her lover and left unmarried and pregnant the sea and sky are both lost to her She is sent by her shamed family to the Holy Saints Convent in Dublin where trapped behind granite walls she works in the infamous Magdalen laundry while she waits for the birth of her baby At the mercy of nuns and working mostly in silence Esther spends her days in the steamy laundry It is a grim existence but Esther has no choice the convent is her only refuge and the orphanage next door will provide food and shelter for her newborn child Despite the harsh realities of her life Esther gains support from this isolated community of women Learning through the experiences and the mistakes of the other Maggie's Esther begins to realize her strengths and her determination to survive It will take every ounce of her courage to realize her dream of a new life for her child and herself beyond the grey walls of the Holy Saints Convent This book pulls no punches Marita Conlon McKenna is breaking new ground with The Magdalen Image Legacies of the Magdalen Laundries

Miriam Haughton,Mary McAuliffe,Emilie Pine,2021-11-23 This collection raises incisive questions about the links between the postcolonial carceral system which thrived in Ireland after 1922 and larger questions of gender sexuality identity class race and religion This kind of intersectional history is vital not only in looking back but in looking forward to identify the ways in which structural callousness still marks Irish society Essays include historical analysis of the ways in which women and children were incarcerated in residential institutions Ireland s Direct Provision system the policing of female bodily autonomy though legislation on prostitution and abortion in addition to the legacies of the Magdalen laundries This collection also considers how artistic practice and commemoration have acted as vital interventions in social attitudes and public knowledge helping to create knowledge and re shape social attitudes towards this history

A Dublin Magdalene Laundry Mark Coen, Katherine O'Donnell, Maeve O'Rourke, 2023-01-26 Towards the end of the 20th century the decades of abuse and neglect perpetrated in Ireland's comprehensive carceral network began finally to be exposed The mistreatment endured by children and others on the margins of Irish society notably women in these orphanages reformatory schools industrial schools psychiatric hospitals County Homes Mother and Baby Homes adoption agencies and Magdalene Laundries now attracts increasing investigation and scholarship Bringing together contributions from leading experts across a broad range of disciplines including history philosophy law archaeology criminology accounting and architecture this book offers a comprehensive exploration of the Magdalene system through a close study of Donnybrook Magdalene Laundry in Dublin To date the Justice for Magdalenes Research group has recorded the names of 315 women and girls who died at Donnybrook Magdalene Laundry By focusing on this one institution on its ethos development operation and built environment and the lives of the girls and women held there this book reveals the underlying framework of Ireland's wider system of institutionalisation The analysis includes a focus on the privatisation and commodification of public welfare reproductive injustice institutionalised misogyny class prejudice the visibility of supposedly hidden institutions and the role of oral testimony in reconstructing history In undertaking such a close study the authors uncover truths missing from the state's own investigations shed new light on how these brutal institutions came to have such a powerful presence in Irish society and highlight the significance of their continuing impact on modern Ireland

Whispering Hope Diane Croghan, Nancy Costello, Kathleen Legg, Marie Slattery, Marina Gambold, Steven O'Riordan, Sue Leonard, 2016-01-28 At the conclusion of my discussions with one group of the Magdalene Women one of those present sang Whispering Hope A line from that song stays in my mind when the dark midnight is over watch for the breaking of day Let me hope that this day and this debate heralds a new dawn for all those who feared that the dark midnight might never end Taoiseach Enda Kenny's State apology to the Magdalene women On 19 February 2013 the Irish Taoiseach Enda Kenny apologized to the women who had been incarcerated in Ireland's Magdalene laundries In the audience sat Steven O Riordan a documentary filmmaker and founder of the charity Magdalene Survivors Together And by his side waiting patiently for the words they'd been fighting to hear were some of the women he had helped For Nancy Kathleen Diane Marie and Marina were confined in Magdalene laundries throughout Ireland during the 1950s 60s and 70s The harrowing physical and psychological abuse they endured in the institutions run on behalf of the State led to a lifetime of shame and secrecy Now in WHISPERING HOPE these women tell their stories for the first time Their fight for justice and forged friendships has enabled them to move forward and have their voices heard their individual accounts weaving together in an immensely powerful narrative that shines a light on a dark chapter in Ireland's history Inspirational and moving this is the story of five women brave enough to confront their past and strong enough to not let it define them Excavating Memory Maria Theresia Starzmann, John R. Roby, 2016-02-25 In this compelling study Maria Theresia Starzmann and John Roby bring together an international cast of experts who move beyond the traditional framework of the constructed past to look at not only how the past is remembered but also who remembers it They convincingly argue that memory is a complex process shaped by remembering and forgetting inscription and erasure presence and absence Collective memory influences which stories are told over others ultimately shaping narratives about identity family and culture This interdisciplinary volume melding anthropology archaeology sociology history philosophy literature and archival studies explores such diverse arenas as archaeological objects human remains colonial landscapes public protests national memorials art installations testimonies and even digital space as places of memory Examining important sites of memory including the Victory Memorial to Soviet Army Blair Mountain Spanish penitentiaries African shrines and the U S Mexico borderlands the contributors highlight the myriad ways communities reinforce or reinterpret their pasts Encyclopedia of European Peoples Carl Waldman, Catherine Mason, 2006 Presents an alphabetical listing of information on the origins prehistory history culture languages relationships to other cultures and more regarding European peoples Shame, the Church and the Regulation of Female Sexuality Miryam Clough, 2017-07-14 This book explores the idea that shame has historically been and continues to be used by an oftentimes patriarchal Christian Church as a mechanism to control and regulate female sexuality and to displace men's ambivalence about sex It is a fresh take on the issue of shame and gender in the context of religious belief and practice As such it will be of significant interest to academics in the fields of Religious Studies Theology Church History and Gender Studies Philosophical Perspectives on Contemporary Ireland Clara Fischer, Áine Mahon, 2019-11-25 This is the first book to bring a philosophical lens to issues of socio political and cultural importance in twenty first century Ireland While the social political and economic landscape of contemporary Ireland has inspired extensive scholarly debate both within and well beyond the field of Irish Studies there is a distinct lack of philosophical voices in these discussions The aim of this volume is to enrich the fields of Philosophy and Irish Studies by encouraging a manifestly philosophical exploration of contemporary issues and concerns The essays in this volume collectively address diverse philosophical questions on contemporary Ireland by exploring a variety of themes including diaspora exile return women's bodies and autonomy historic injustices and national healing remembering and commemoration institutionalization and containment colonialism and Ireland as home conflict and violence Northern Ireland and the peace process nationalism patriotism and masculinities ethnicity immigration and identity and translation art and culture Philosophical Perspectives on Contemporary Ireland marks a significant contribution to contemporary theorizations of Ireland by incorporating both Irish and transatlantic perspectives It will appeal to a broad audience of scholars and advanced students working in philosophy Irish Studies feminist theory history legal studies and literary theory Beyond academia it will also engage those interested in contemporary Ireland from policy and civil society perspectives Experience, Identity & Epistemic Injustice within Ireland's Magdalene Laundries Chloe K. Gott, 2022-02-10 How are the identities of women shaped by religious disciplinary processes in Magdalene laundries and how do women re engage with their sense of self after leaving the institutions Chlo K Gott situates these questions within the current cultural climate in which the institutions now sit considering how they fit into Ireland s present as well as its past This book represents the first significant secondary analysis to be conducted of 81 oral history interviews recorded as part of the Government of Ireland Collaborative Research project Magdalene Institutions Recording an Archival and Oral History funded by the Irish Research Council These were taken with women formerly incarcerated in these institutions as well as others associated with this history Grounded in qualitative analysis of this archive the book is structured around the voices and words of survivors themselves With a strong focus on how the experience of being incarcerated in a Magdalene laundry impacted on the gendered religious selves of the women this book tracks the process of entering working in and leaving a laundry explored through the lens of epistemic injustice The Irish Magdalen John Broderick, 1991 Canon Sharkey a priest in the little Irish town of Bridgeford in 1934 becomes the subject of gossip throughout the town when his housekeeper suddenly dies and he chooses as her replacement a young woman whose sister has a reputation as the town whore

Redress Schemes for Personal Injuries Sonia Macleod, Christopher Hodges, 2017-11-30 This ground breaking book takes a fresh look at potential non litigation solutions to providing personal injury compensation It is the first systematic comparative study of such a large number over forty of personal injury compensation schemes It covers the drivers for their creation the frameworks under which they operate the criteria and thresholds used the compensation offered the claims process statistics on throughput and costs and analysis of financial costings It also considers and compares the successes and failings of these schemes Many different types of redress providers are studied These include the comprehensive no blame coverage offered by the New Zealand Accident Compensation Corporation the widely used Patient Pharmaceutical Motor Accident and Workers Compensation Insurance systems of the Nordic states the far smaller issue focused schemes like the UK Thalidomide and vCJD Trusts vaccine damage schemes that exist in many countries as well as motor vehicle schemes from the USA Conclusions are drawn about the functions essential requirements architecture scope operation and performance of personal injury compensation systems The relationships between such schemes the courts and regulators are also discussed and both calls and need for reforms are noted Noting the wide calls for reform of NHS medical negligence litigation within the UK and its replacement with a no blame approach the authors findings outline options for future policy in this area This major contribution builds on general shifts from courts to ADR and from blame to no blame in regulation and is a work that has the potential to have a major impact on the field of personal injury redress With contributions by Raymond Byrne Claire Bright Shuna Mason Magdalena Tulibacka Matti Urho Mary Walker and Herbert Wopen are exacerbated when intersecting with gender and ethnic identities thus resulting in structural forms of vulnerability that generate and justify oppression as well as forms of individual or collective resistance and or resilience Substantial insights are drawn from Animal Studies Critical Race Studies Human Rights Studies Post Humanism and Postcolonialism This book will be of interest to scholars in Gender Studies Media Studies Sociology Culture Literature and History Grant FFI2017 84555 C2 1 P research Project Bodies in Transit Genders Mobilities Interdependencies funded by MCIN AEI 10 13039 501100011033 and by ERDF A way of making Europe

Making Amends Linda Radzik, 2011-04-07 It is often assumed that wrongdoing can only be resolved through punishment or forgiveness But this book explores the responses that wrongdoers can and should make to their own misdeeds responses such as apology repentance reparations and self punishment It examines the possibility of atonement in a broad spectrum of contexts from cases of relatively minor wrongs in personal relationships to crimes to the historical injustices of our political and religious communities It argues that wrongdoers often have the ability to earn redemption within the moral community that respect and trust among victims communities and wrongdoers can be rebuilt and that the moral responsibility of wrongdoing groups can be addressed without treating their members unfairly

Labour, Love, and Prayer Andrea Ebel Brozyna, 1998-12-14 Brozyna argues that Catholics and Protestants shared very similar views of Christian womanhood Both lauded the influence of the virtuous Christian woman used the same female role models from the Bible and saw the home as the locus of the construction of female piety Yet each group castigated the other for having antifemale values Protestants developed the slovenly drunken Biddy as a stereotype of Catholic women and Catholics portrayed Protestant devotional and family life as cold and arid Observers of present day Northern Ireland will find these historical contrasts of immediate relevance An interesting new look at the Irish problem Love Labour and Prayer makes a valuable contribution to the histories of women Ireland and religion
