The Irish Experience:

The Irish Experience Since 1800: A Concise History Thomas E. Hachey, Lawrence J. McCaffrey, 2015-01-28 This rich and readable history of modern Ireland covers the political social economic intellectual and cultural dimensions of the country's development from the origins of the Irish Question to the present day In this edition a new introductory chapter covers the period prior to Union and a new concluding chapter takes Ireland into the twenty first century All material has as been substantially revised and updated to reflect more recent scholarship as well as developments during the eventful years since the previous edition The text is richly supplemented with maps photographs and an extensive bibliography There is no comparable brief multidimensional history of modern Ireland

An Introductory Reader to the Writings of Jim Cummins Jim Cummins, Colin Baker, Nancy H. Hornberger, 2001 The contribution of Jim Cummins to bilingualism and bilingual education has been substantial and profound This reader provides a comprehensive compilation of his most important and influential texts The book also provides a detailed biographical introduction and a commentary on the growth of ideas over three decades

Experiences of Islamophobia James Carr, 2015-09-07 Since 9 11 interest in Islamophobia has steadily increased as has the number of academic publications discussing the phenomenon However theoretical expositions have dominated the field Lived experiences of Islamophobia by contrast have received little attention In recognition of the importance of addressing this imbalance this book provides theoretically informed analyses alongside everyday testimonies of anti Muslim racism set comparatively in an international context Carr argues that the failure of the neoliberal state to collect data on anti Muslim racism highlights the perpetuation of race blindness within governance Not only does this mean that the salience of racism is denied in the lives of those who experience it but this also enables the state to absolve itself from challenging the issue and providing the necessary supports to Muslim communities Offering original empirical research and theoretical engagement with the concept of race blind neoliberal governance this book will appeal to students and scholars across the social sciences in addition to policymakers and activists working in this topical area

Penelope's Irish Experiences Kate Douglas Smith Wiggin, 1902 A fictional travelogue documenting the experiences of three American ladies on a visit to Ireland

Ireland's New Worlds Malcolm Campbell, 2008-01-15 In the century between the Napoleonic Wars and the Irish Civil War more than seven million Irish men and women left their homeland to begin new lives abroad While the majority settled in the United States Irish emigrants dispersed across the globe many of them finding their way to another New World Australia Ireland's New Worlds is the first book to compare Irish immigrants in the United States and Australia In a profound challenge to the national histories that frame most accounts of the Irish diaspora Malcolm Campbell highlights the ways that economic social and cultural conditions shaped distinct experiences for Irish immigrants in each country and sometimes in different parts of the same country From differences in the level of hostility that Irish immigrants faced to the contrasting economies of the United States and Australia Campbell finds that there was much more to the experiences of

Irish immigrants than their essential Irishness America's Irish for example were primarily drawn into the population of unskilled laborers congregating in cities while Australia's Irish like their fellow colonialists were more likely to engage in farming Campbell shows how local conditions intersected with immigrants' Irish backgrounds and traditions to create surprisingly varied experiences in Ireland's new worlds Outstanding Book selected by the American Association of School Librarians and Best Books for Special Interests selected by the Public Library Association Well conceived and thoroughly researched This clearly written thought provoking work fulfills the considerable ambitions of comparative migration studies Choice

A World at War, 1911-1949 ,2019-03-27 In A World At War 1911 1949 leading and emerging scholars of the cultural history of the two world wars begin to break down the traditional barriers between the historiographies of the two conflicts identifying commonalities as well as casting new light on each as part of a broader mission in honour of Professor John Horne to expand the boundaries of academic exploration of warfare in the 20th century Utilizing techniques and approaches developed by cultural historians of the First World War this volume showcases and explores four crucial themes relating to the socio cultural attributes and representation of war that cut across both the First and Second World Wars cultural mobilization the nature and depiction of combat the experience of civilians under fire and the different meanings of victory and defeat Contributors are Annette Becker Robert Dale Alex Dowdall Robert Gerwarth John Horne Tom's Irish Heather Jones Alan Kramer Edward Madigan Anthony McElligott Michael S Neiberg John Paul Newman Catriona Pennell Filipe Ribeiro de Meneses Daniel Todman and Jay Winter See inside the book

Race and Ethnicity: Racism : exclusion and privilege Harry Goulbourne,2001

Ireland's Heritages Mark McCarthy,2017-09-29 This book is the first sustained attempt to incorporate critical scholarship and thought at the cutting edge of contemporary geography history and archaeology into the burgeoning field of Irish heritage studies It seeks to illustrate the validity of multiple depictions of the Irish past showing how scrutiny of heritage practices and meanings is so essential for illuminating our understanding of the present Examining Ireland's heritages from a critical perspective that celebrates notions of heterogeneity and uniqueness the distinguished contributors to this book scrutinise the multiplicity of complex relations between heritage history memory commemoration economy and cultural identity within various historical geographical and archaeological contexts Using several examples and case studies this book raises issues not only from a uniquely Irish perspective but also investigates the memorialisation and marketing of the Irish past in overseas locations such as the USA and Australia

John F. Kennedy, Barack Obama, and the Politics of Ethnic Incorporation and Avoidance Robert C. Smith,2013-02-19 Political analysts and journalists often draw analogies between John F Kennedy the first Catholic Irish president and Barack Obama the first African American president Their election to the nation's highest office was historic but for reasons not fully appreciated In John F Kennedy Barack Obama and the Politics of Ethnic Incorporation and Avoidance Robert C Smith provides a fascinating comparison of the challenges both men faced in their bid for the presidency while at the same time providing comparative histories of the Catholic Irish and African American struggles to overcome racial and religious subordination in America Kennedy's Catholicism was an explicit issue in the 1960 election and once elected he was extremely careful to avoid appearing either too Irish or too Catholic While Obama's race was not an explicit issue in the 2008 election he was just as careful to avoid appearing too black Paradoxically religion thanks to rumors and lies about whether Obama was a Muslim became a substitute for race allowing Republican strategists to otherize Obama by raising the issue of religion in the context of national security and terrorism Shell-shocked British Army veterans in Ireland, 1918-39 Michael Robinson, 2020-04-08 This study provides the first exclusive analysis of disabled First World War veterans who returned to Ireland With a case study of mental illness it foregrounds how the treatment and experiences of disabled communities in past societies is shaped by the existing socio economic cultural and political context
