Pistone, John J. Hoeffner, 2007-05-30 Stepping Out of the Brain Drain is an important contribution to the intensifying debate about highly skilled migration from developing to developed countries Addressing the issue from the perspective of Catholic social thought the authors demonstrate that both the economic and ethical rationales for the teaching s opposition to brain drain have been undermined in recent years and show how the adoption of a less critical policy could provide enhanced opportunities for poor countries to accelerate their economic development Step Out on Nothing Byron Pitts, 2009-09-23 It was August 25 2006 my first on camera studio open for the CBS News broadcast 60 Minutes Executive Producer Jeff Fager poked his head in the dressing room Good luck Brotha You ve come a long way to get here You ve earned it If only he knew My mind flashed back to elementary school when a therapist had informed my mother I m sorry Mrs Pitts your son cannot read In Step Out on Nothing Byron Pitts chronicles his astonishing story of overcoming a childhood filled with obstacles to achieve enormous success in life Throughout Byron s difficult youth his parents separated when he was twelve and his mother worked two jobs to make ends meet he suffered from a debilitating stutter But Byron was keeping an even more embarrassing secret He was also functionally illiterate For a kid from inner city Baltimore it was a recipe for failure Pitts turned struggle into strength and overcame both of his impediments Along the way a few key people stepped out on nothing to make a difference for him from his mother who worked tirelessly to raise her kids right and delivered ample amounts of tough love to his college roommate who helped Byron practice his vocabulary and speech Pitts even learns from those who didn t believe in him like the college professor who labeled him a failure and told him to drop out of college Through it all he persevered following his steadfast passion After fifteen years in local television he landed a job as a correspondent for CBS News in 1998 and went on to become an Emmy Award winning journalist and a contributing correspondent for 60 Minutes Not bad for a kid who couldn't read From a challenged youth to a reporting career that has covered 9/11 and Iraq Pitts's triumphant and uplifting story will resonate with anyone who has felt like giving up in the face of seemingly insurmountable hardships

Stepping Out in Cincinnati Allen J. Singer, 2005 Long before folks had a television set and radio in every room they sought entertainment by stepping out for a night on the town The choices around Cincinnati were nearly limitless live theater at the Cox spectacular musicals at the Shubert hotels featuring fine dining and dance orchestras talking pictures at everyone's favorite movie palace the Albee burlesque and vaudeville shows at the Empress Theater on Vine Street and gambling casinos were just a short drive across the river in Newport All of the major entertainment venues in the Queen City during the first half of the 20th century are explored in Stepping out in Cincinnati From saloons to ornate movie palaces and from the Cotton Club to the Capitol you join those pleasure seekers getting a real sense of what they saw wonderful events and their countless images the things of which fond memories were made Today those memories have faded and virtually all of the once glittering showplaces have been bulldozed into history But within these pages we get to experience first hand what it was like to be there Unique among the many photographs featuring unforgettable movie houses and nightclub orchestras are never before published images of actual live vaudeville performances onstage at the Shubert plus rare clandestine pictures snapped inside the casinos in Newport Also revealed are the locations of the better known speakeasies during Prohibition where the best halls to dance to live orchestras were what the earliest movie houses were like and what black Cincinnatians did for entertainment Federal Register ,1991-05-08
