Both children's literature and fantasy literature have become established as genres for critical study in recent years, especially in the United States. As one of the outstanding children's authors of the nineteenth century and a pioneer of fantasy writing, MacDonald has become the focus of increased attention. As an acknowledged influence on many authors who came after him, authors such as E. Nesbit, G. K. Chesterton, C. S. Lewis, W. H. Auden, and T. S. Eliot, MacDonald is one of the rare writers whose work is a starting point for evaluating the achievements of others. New forms of critical theory, Jungian psychoanalytic and feminist, turning towards the exploration of sexuality and the fantastic, have also found fitting subjects in MacDonald's texts. This volume studies these developments and also the growing acknowledgment that MacDonald was a Scottish writer and a Victorian. His enduring works have been his children's books: At the Back of the North Wind, The Princess and the Goblin, The Princess and Curdie, and the fairy tales of The Golden Key. His two adult fantasy novels, Phantasties and Lilith, are now recognized as classics of their kind. The Family Herald, 1866 The Saturday Evening Post, 1929 The Encyclopaedia Britannica, Or Dictionary of Arts, Sciences, and General Literature, 1857 Congressional Record United States Congress, 1978 Horror Stories BPI, A collection of 10 books with gripping stories of horror, terror, ghosts, supernatural elements, and all things scary. Each book in this collection compiles together some of the best and spookiest stories that keep haunting the readers long after they have kept the book aside. The stories are classic, timeless, and hair-raising, and set in dark streets and haunted houses. The weird tales of ghosts, skeletons, and dark powers will surely make the readers sit up and look around. The books include horror stories written by famous authors such as Charles Dickens, M. R. James, Ambrose Bierce, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Bram Stoker, H. P. Lovecraft, Guy de Maupassant, Rudyard Kipling, Edgar Allan Poe, and several others. God as Feminine Joseph Sebastian, 1995 This systematic theological study aims at bringing the feminity of God into inter-religious dialogue between Hinduism and Christianity. Since the arena of Hindu traditions is very vast, a particular Hindu poet-bhakta, Subramania Bharati (1882-1921), known for his theology of Sakti in Hinduism, is chosen. Through a close and scientific study of his writings, the Hindu vision of divine feminine is established. Following that, Christian vision of God as feminine is elaborately studied by analysing critically the important texts from the Bible from the writings of the church fathers and mystics and particularly of the showings of Julian of Norwich As the outcome of the dialogue between these two religions the urgent need for an inclusive God language in Christianity is proposed Jesus of Nazareth Paul Verhoeven, 2011-11-29 Building on the work of biblical scholars Rudolph Bultmann Raymond Brown Jane Schaberg and Robert Funk among others filmmaker Paul Verhoeven disrobes the mythical Jesus to reveal a man who has much in common with other great political leaders throughout history human beings who believed that change was coming in their lifetimes Gone is the Jesus of the miracles gone the son of God gone the weaver of arcane parables whose meanings are obscure In their place Verhoeven gives us his vision of Jesus as a complete man someone who was changed by events the leader of a political movement and perhaps most importantly someone who in his speeches and sayings introduced a new ethic in which the embrace of human contradictions transcends the mechanics of value and worth that had defined the material world before Jesus The Romans saw Jesus as an insurrectionist what today is often called a terrorist It is very likely there were wanted posters of him on the gates of Jerusalem He was dangerous because he was proclaiming the Kingdom of Heaven but this wasn't the Kingdom of Heaven as we think of it now some spectral thing in the future up in the sky For Jesus the Kingdom of Heaven was a very tangible thing Something that was already present on Earth in the same way that Che Guevara proclaimed Marxism as the advent of world change If you were totalitarian rulers running an occupation like the Romans this was troubling talk and that was why Jesus was killed Paul Verhoeven from profile by Mark Jacobson in New York Magazine American Stone Trade, 1922 Early Modern Poetics in Melville and Poe Dr William E Engel, 2013-05-28 Bringing to bear his expertise in the early modern emblem tradition William E Engel traces a series of self reflective organizational schemes associated with baroque artifice in the work of Herman Melville and Edgar Allan Poe While other scholars have remarked on the influence of seventeenth century literature on Melville and Poe this is the first book to explore how their close readings of early modern texts influenced their decisions about compositional practice especially as it relates to public performance and the exigencies of publication Engel's discussion of the narrative structure and emblematic aspects of Melville's Piazza Tales and Poe's The Raven serve as case studies that demonstrate the authors' debt to the past Focusing principally on the overlapping rhetorical and iconic assumptions of the Art of Memory and its relation to chiasmus Engel avoids engaging in a simple account of what these authors read and incorporated into their own writings Instead through an examination of their predisposition toward an earlier model of pattern recognition he offers fresh insight into the writers' understandings of mourning and loss their use of allegory and what they gained from their use of pseudonyms
