Stephen Dodson Ramseur Signed:

Stephen Dodson Ramseur Gary W. Gallagher, 2000-11-09 Stephen Dodson Ramseur born in Lincolnton North Carolina in 1837 compiled an enviable record as a brigadier in the Army of Northern Virginia Commissioned major general the day after his twenty seventh birthday he was the youngest West Pointer to achieve that rank in the Confederate army He later showed great skill as a divisional leader in the 1864 Shenandoah Valley campaigns before he was fatally wounded at Cedar Creek on 19 October of that year Based on Ramseur s extensive personal papers as well as on other sources this absorbing biography examines the life of one of the South s most talented commanders and brings into sharper focus some of the crosscurrents of this turbulent period

The Bravest of the Brave George G. Kundahl, 2010-06-01 Born in Lincolnton North Carolina in 1837 Stephen Dodson Ramseur rose meteorically through the military ranks Graduating from West Point in 1860 he joined the Confederate army as a captain By the time of his death near the end of the war at the Battle of Cedar Creek he had attained the rank of major general in the Army of Northern Virginia He excelled in every assignment and was involved as a senior officer in many of the war s most important conflicts east of the Appalachians Ramseur s letters over 180 of which are collected and transcribed here by George Kundahl provide his incisive observations on these military events At the same time they offer rare insight into the personal opinions of a high ranking Civil War officer Correspondence by Civil War figures is often strictly professional But in personal letters to his wife Nellie and best friend David Schenk Ramseur candidly expresses beliefs about the social military and political issues of the day He also shares vivid accounts of battle and daily camp life providing colorful details on soldiering during the war

Sacred Ties Tom Carhart, 2010-05-04 The gripping story of six West Point graduates including George Armstrong Custer who fought each other in the Civil War With Civil War storm clouds darkening the horizon they were strangers from different states thrown together as West Point cadets George Armstrong Custer Stephen Dodson Ramseur Henry Algernon DuPont John Pelham Thomas Lafayette Rosser and Wesley Merritt Educated and trained there to be not only officers and gentlemen but also courageous battlefield leaders their shared experience at West Point forged bonds between them stronger than brotherhood Right after their graduations war erupted in 1861 They stayed blue or went gray and even faced each other in battle Acclaimed military historian Tom Carhart brings to life the human side of valiant victories and crushing defeats and most vividly of these young men of individual valor and personal honor

Confederate General William Dorsey Pender Brian Steel Wills, 2013-11-11 During the Civil War North Carolinian William Dorsey Pender established himself as one of the Confederate Army of Northern Virginia s best young generals He served in most of the significant engagements of the war in the eastern theater while under the command of Joseph E Johnston at Seven Pines and Robert E Lee from the Seven Days to Gettysburg His most crucial contributions to Confederate success came at the battles of Second Manassas Shepherdstown Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville After an effective first day at Gettysburg Pender was struck by a shell and disabled necessitating his return to Virginia for what he hoped would be only an extended convalescence Although Pender initially survived the wound he died soon thereafter due to complications from his injury In this thorough biography of Pender noted Civil War historian Brian Steel Wills examines both the young general s military career and his domestic life While Pender devoted himself to military service he also embraced the Episcopal Church and was baptized before his command in the field According to Wills Pender had an insatiable quest for glory in both earthly and heavenly realms and he delighted in his role as a husband and father In Pender s voluminous correspondence with his wife Fanny he shared his beliefs and offered views and opinions on a vast array of subjects In the end Wills suggests that Pender s story captures both the idealistic promise and the despair of a war that cost the lives of many Americans and changed the nation forever

Becoming Confederates Gary W. Gallagher,2013-05-01 In Becoming Confederates Gary W Gallagher explores loyalty in the era of the Civil War focusing on Robert E Lee Stephen Dodson Ramseur and Jubal A Early three prominent officers in the Army of Northern Virginia who became ardent Confederate nationalists Loyalty was tested and proved in many ways leading up to and during the war Looking at levels of allegiance to their native state to the slaveholding South to the United States and to the Confederacy Gallagher shows how these men represent responses to the mid nineteenth century crisis Lee traditionally has been presented as a reluctant convert to the Confederacy whose most powerful identification was with his home state of Virginia an interpretation at odds with his far more complex range of loyalties Ramseur the youngest of the three eagerly embraced a Confederate identity highlighting generational differences in the equation of loyalty Early combined elements of Lee s and Ramseur s reactions a Unionist who grudgingly accepted Virginia s departure from the United States but later came to personify defiant Confederate nationalism The paths of these men toward Confederate loyalty help delineate important contours of American history Gallagher shows that Americans juggled multiple often conflicting loyalties and that white southern identity was preoccupied with racial control transcending politics and class Indeed understanding these men s perspectives makes it difficult to argue that the Confederacy should not be deemed a nation Perhaps most important their experiences help us understand why Confederates waged a prodigiously bloody war and the manner in which they dealt with defeat

"If We Are Striking for Pennsylvania", Volume 1: June 3-21, 1863 Scott L. Mingus, Eric J. Wittenberg, 2024-01-05 Scott L Mingus Sr and Eric J Wittenberg the authors of more than forty Civil War books have once again teamed up to present a history of the opening moves of the Gettysburg Campaign in the two volume study If We Are Striking for Pennsylvania The Army of Northern Virginia and the Army of the Potomac March to Gettysburg This compelling study is one of the first to integrate the military media political social economic and civilian perspectives with rank and file accounts from the soldiers of both armies as they inexorably march toward their destiny at Gettysburg This first installment covers June 3 21 1863 while the second spanning June 22 30 completes the march and carries the armies to the eve of the fighting Gen Robert E Lee began moving part of his Army of Northern Virginia from the Old Dominion toward Pennsylvania on June 3 1863 Lee believed his army needed to win a major victory on Northern soil if the South was to have a chance at winning the war Transferring the fighting out of war torn Virginia would allow the state time to heal while he supplied his army from untapped farms and stores in Maryland and the Keystone State Lee had also convinced Pres Jefferson Davis that his offensive would interfere with the Union effort to take Vicksburg in Mississippi The bold movement would trigger extensive cavalry fighting and a major battle at Winchester before culminating in the bloody three day battle at Gettysburg As the Virginia army moved north the Army of the Potomac responded by protecting the vital roads to Washington D C in case Lee turned to threaten the capital Opposing presidents Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis meanwhile kept a close watch on the latest and often conflicting military intelligence gathered in the field Throughout northern Virginia central Maryland and south central Pennsylvania meanwhile civilians and soldiers alike struggled with the reality of a mobile campaign and the massive logistical needs of the armies Thousands left written accounts of the passage of the long martial columns Mingus and Wittenberg mined hundreds of primary accounts newspapers and other sources to produce this powerful and gripping account As readers will quickly learn much of it is glossed over in other studies of the campaign which cannot be fully understood without a firm appreciation of what the armies and civilians did on their way to the small crossroads town in Pennsylvania

The 30th North Carolina Infantry in the Civil War William Thomas Venner,2018-01-12 At the outbreak of the Civil War the men of the 30th North Carolina rushed to join the regiment proclaiming we will whip the Yankees or give them a right to a small part of our soil say 2 feet by 6 feet Once the Tar Heels experienced combat their attitudes changed One rifleman recorded We came to a Yankee field hospital we moved piles of arms feet hands By 1865 the unit s survivors reflected on their experiences wondering when and if I return home will I be able to fit in Drawing on letters journals memoirs and personnel records this history follows the civilian soldiers from their mustering in to the war s final moments at Appomattox The 30th North Carolina had the distinction of firing at Abraham Lincoln on July 12 1864 as the president stood upon the ramparts of Ft Stevens outside Washington D C and firing the last regimental volley before the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia

Repairing the "March of Mars" John Samuel Apperson,2001 There are many collections of letters and Civil War memoirs available today but very few offer in depth information about the medical treatment of wounded soldiers In Repairing the March of Mars The Civil War Diaries of John Samuel Apperson Hospital Steward in the Stonewall Brigade 1861 1865 editor John Herbert Roper provides an important supplement to this largely ignored aspect of the Civil War Apperson s diary is a sensitive and painstaking observation of the details of medical treatment during and after battle For all periods of the war his detailed personal records supplement and correct official army hospital records and for certain periods his diary provides the only medical information available For example Apperson was present at the amputation of Stonewall Jackson s arm and his diary shows that Jackson died of postoperative pneumonia and not of a botched surgery

Casdorph,2021-12-14 Richard Stoddert Ewell is best known as the Confederate General selected by Robert E Lee to replace Stonewall Jackson as chief of the Second Corps in the Army of Northern Virginia Ewell is also remembered as the general who failed to drive Federal troops from the high ground of Cemetery Hill and Culp's Hill during the Battle of Gettysburg Many historians believe that Ewell's inaction cost the Confederates a victory in this seminal battle and ultimately cost the Civil War During his long military career Ewell was never an aggressive warrior He graduated from West Point and served in the Indian wars in Oklahoma Kansas New Mexico and Arizona In 1861 he resigned his commission in the U S Army and rushed to the Confederate standard Ewell saw action at First Manassas and took up divisional command under Jackson in the Shenandoah Valley Campaign and in the Seven Days Battles around Richmond A crippling wound and a leg amputation soon compounded the persistent manic depressive disorder that had hindered his ability to make difficult decisions on the battlefield When Lee reorganized the Army of Northern Virginia in May of 1863 Ewell was promoted to lieutenant general At the same time he married a widowed first cousin who came to dominate his life often to the disgust of his subordinate officers and he became heavily influenced by the wave of religious fervor that was then sweeping through the Confederate Army In Confederate General R S Ewell Paul D Casdorph offers a fresh portrait of a major but deeply flawed figure in the Confederate war effort examining the pattern of hesitancy and indecisiveness that characterized Ewell's entire military career This definitive biography probes the crucial question of why Lee selected such an obviously inconsistent and unreliable commander to lead one third of his army on the eve of the Gettysburg Campaign Casdorph describes Ewell's intriguing life and career with penetrating insights into his loyalty to the Confederate cause and the Virginia ties that kept him in Lee's favor for much of the war Complete with riveting descriptions of key battles Ewell's biography is essential reading for Civil War historians
