Nineteenth-Century American Fiction on Screen R. Barton Palmer,2007-03-08 The process of translating works of literature to the silver screen is a rich field of study for both students and scholars of literature and cinema The fourteen essays collected in this 2007 volume provide a survey of the important films based on or inspired by nineteenth century American fiction from James Fenimore Cooper s The Last of the Mohicans to Owen Wister s The Virginian Many of the major works of the American canon are included including The Scarlet Letter Moby Dick and Sister Carrie The starting point of each essay is the literary text itself moving on to describe specific aspects of the adaptation process including details of production and reception Written in a lively and accessible style the book includes production stills and full filmographies Together with its companion volume on twentieth century fiction the volume offers a comprehensive account of the rich tradition of American literature on screen Cather Studies, Volume 10 Cather Cather Studies,2015-08-01 Willa Cather and the Nineteenth Century explores with textual specificity and historical alertness the question of how the cultures of the nineteenth century the cultures that shaped Willa Cather s childhood animated her education supplied her artistic models generated her inordinate ambitions and gave embodiment to many of her deeply held values are addressed in her fiction In two related sets of essays seven contributors track within Cather's life or writing the particular cultural formations emotions and conflicts of value she absorbed from the atmosphere of her distinct historical moment their ten colleagues offer a compelling set of case studies that articulate the manifold ways that Cather learned from built upon or resisted models provided by particular nineteenth century writers works or artistic genres Taken together with its Cather Studies predecessor Willa Cather and Modern Cultures this volume reveals Cather as explorer and interpreter sufferer and master of the transition from a Victorian to a Modernist America

Old Stories, New Readings Miriam López-Rodríguez, Alfonso Ceballos Muñoz, Inmaculada Pineda-Hernández, 2015-02-27 Whether imaginary or based on real events stories are at the core of any culture Regardless of their length their rhetoric strategies or their style humans tell stories to each other to express their innermost fears and needs to establish a point within an argument or to engage their listeners in a fabricated composition Stories can also serve other purposes such as being used for entertainment for education or for the preservation of certain cultural traits Storytelling is at the heart of human interaction and as such can foster a dialogic narrative between the person creating the story and their audience In literature this dialogue has been traditionally associated with narrative in general and with the novel in particular However other genres also make use of storytelling including drama This volume explores the ways in which American theatre from all eras deals with this how stories are told onstage what kinds of stories are recorded in dramatic texts and how previously neglected realities have gained attention through the American playwright's telling or retelling of an event or action The stories unfolded in American drama follow recent narratology theories particularly in the sense that there is a greater preference for those so called small stories over big stories Despite the increase in the production of this type of texts and the growing interest in them in the field of narratology small stories are literary episodes that have been granted less critical attention particularly in the analysis of drama As such this volume fills a void in the study of the stories presented on the American stage

American literature to 1900 M^a Teresa Gibert Maceda, 2009-09-03 Los veinticinco años de experiencia como profesora de la autora en la UNED hacen que este libro esté orientado fundamentalmente a la educación a distancia Los capítulos mantienen prácticamente la misma estructura a lo largo de toda la obra Cada tema se divide en cuatro partes Una primera donde se analizan individualmente los autores a través de sus biografías y contextos históricos Un texto en prosa o verso con notas al pie sobre las palabras o giros gramaticales que presentan más dificultad en su traducción del inglés Cuestiones de autoevaluación Otras cuestiones preparatorias más amplias En algunos casos se añaden recuadros con sugerencias de estudio
