Mulcahy, D.E. Mulcahy, D.G. Mulcahy, 2014-12-05 Recent years have shown the growth of federal legislation and programs having a profound impact on educational policy and practice and a decline in reliance on broadly based educational justifications Paralleling this development has been the emergence of well endowed and influential private foundations and an increase in corporate influence in shaping policy In this volume the authors consider the discourse rhetoric and underlying values that sustain these developments alongside those that underlie more longstanding and competing educational theories and practices This volume highlights the importance of recognizing opposing conceptualizations of education some more educationally productive than others and their core values approaches to student learning strengths and weaknesses and justification The authors analyze and critique what Jane Roland Martin has referred to as the deep structure of educational thought and seek improved educational policy and practice with particular reference to curriculum and pedagogy It features a comparative analysis of competing discourses including autocratic control limited personal development and praxis
