TEDDY JONES R.N. Ph.D. is a Family Nurse Practitioner. Before she and her husband began farming his family's land near Friona, Texas, she was a Professor at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center School of Nursing in Lubbock, Texas. Growing up in a rural town in central North Texas, she spent lots of happy times with cousins on their families' wheat and dairy farms. Those experiences and her admiration for those who farm and ranch prompted her to develop and teach elective courses in Rural Health Nursing. That same interest spurred her to develop the concept for her health promotion column, In The Middle Of It All, which appears monthly in The Farmer Stockman. She practices part-time as a Nurse Practitioner in New Mexico and writes when she's not helping with the farm work.

SUE JANE SULLIVAN B.S. Ed. teaches in the only school in the only town in Borden County, Texas. That rural school is not far from the area where she grew up, surrounded by ranches, farms, and oil wells. Like most people in farming and ranching areas, she can and does fill many roles. She teaches English, Spanish, history, and government and coaches Interscholastic League literary events, including debate, journalism, and spelling. She's a free-lance newspaper writer, and her newsletter, A New Song, is a regular source of encouragement for the special group of friends for whom she publishes it. A major inspiration for her work is her maternal grandmother, who was widowed at 41 during the Great Depression. She managed to keep and operate the family farm and raise five children long before the term single parent was invented.

Ferrara, 1996. For more than ten years, peer mediation programs have been springing up in schools. Although they are begun with the highest hopes and best intentions, many programs falter in their second or third year, then disappear. What makes a program effective enough to endure year after year and become part of a school's culture? Peer Mediation is the story of how one successful program started in an urban elementary school, how it was designed, implemented, and maintained. Teacher and mediator Judith Ferrara explains mediation, what it means to start up a program, watch it grow, change, and endure. At the heart of this book are the voices of the students who volunteered to become peer mediators, learned to understand the mediation process, and worked to help shape the program. Their thoughts and reactions to the peer mediation program, their tenacity, and above all, their ethic of caring, will leave a strong impression. Peer Mediation demonstrates the need to listen to students, observe their responses to the program. and work with them to revise it in order to maintain it Peer Mediation includes strategies that may be used to implement and maintain a peer mediation program vignettes in each chapter selected and interpreted to demonstrate what it can mean to adults and students who are part of a peer mediation program suggestions for handling the problems that arise and changes that occur when peer mediation programs start up forms checklists and standards for preparing and assessing peer mediation programs an annotated bibliography of mediation theory and practice conflict resolution curriculum and program materials Because Peer Mediation follows one program from implementation through its third year it will be a useful resource for guidance counselors teachers and administrators who wish to start up a program or gain insight into how to maintain an existing one Creating the Peaceable School Richard J.
