Subject And Agency In Psychoanalysis Which Is To Be Master:

The Mastery of Submission John K. Noyes, 2018-09-05 Individuals sometimes derive sexual pleasure from submission to cruel discipline While that predilection was noted as early as the sixteenth century masochism was not codified as a concept until 1890 According to John K Noyes its invention reflected a crisis in the liberal understanding of subjectivity and sexuality which continues to inform discussions of masochism today In essence it remains a political concept Viennese physician Richard von Krafft Ebing coined the term masochism based on the work of Leopold von Sacher Masoch Noyes analyzes the social and political problems that inspired the concept suggesting for example that the triumphant expansion of European colonialism was in part animated by an ambivalence in masculine sexuality Noyes documents the evolution of the concept of masochism with scenes in literature from John Cleland s Fanny Hill through Sacher Masoch s Venus in Furs and Pauline Reage s Story of O Analysis of Freud s vastly influential rereading of masochism precedes an exploration of the work of his successors including Wilhem Reich Theodor Reik Helene Deutsch and Karen Horney Noyes suggests that the thematics of feminine masochism emerged only gradually from an exclusively male concept

Constructing Transgressive Sexuality in Screenwriting LJ Theo, 2017-10-09 This book approaches the construction of complex and transgressive pervert characters in mainstream not art adult oriented not pornographic cinema It deconstructs an episteme on which to base the construction of characters in screenplays in a way that acknowledges how semiotic elements of characterisation intersect In addition it provides an extended re phrasing of the notion of the pervert as Feiticiero a a newly coined construct that might serve as an underpinning for complex sexual filmic characters that are both entertaining and challenging to audiences This re phrasing speaks to both an existential phenomenological conception of personhood and to the scholarly tradition of the linguistic turn of continental philosophers such as Foucault and Lacan who represent language not primarily as describing the world but as constructing it The result is an original and interdisciplinary volume that is brought to coherence through a queer post humanist lens

Subject and Agency in Psychoanalysis Frances Moran, 1993-05 Psychoanalysis works with words words spoken by a subject who asks that the analyst listen This is the belief that underlies Francis Moran s rewarding exploration of a central problem in psychoanalytic theory namely the separation of the concepts of subject and agency Subject and Agency in Psychoanalysis contends that Freud simultaneously employs two frameworks for explaining agency one clinical and one theoretical As a result Freud s exploration of agency proceeds from two logically incompatible assumptions The division between these assumptions is a part of Freud s psychoanalytic legacy Moran reads the Freudian inheritance in light of this division showing how Klein and Hartmann s theoretical concepts of subject are adrift from the subject who speaks in analysis Moran also shows that while Lacan s subject provides more focus on this issue Lacan reverts to the Freudian division in his use of logically contradictory assumptions concerning the location of agency Drawing on contemporary theory development from Lacanian innovations to the social theories of Anthony Giddens Moran proposes a new and fertile approach to a fundamental problem significantly narrowing the gap between psychoanalytic theory and practice

Literary Discourse Jørgen Dines Johansen, 2002-01-01 Using the semiotic theory of American philosopher Charles S Peirce Johansen applies psychoanalysis psychology literary hermeneutics literary history Habermasian communication and discourse theory to literature and in the process redefines it Subject Guide to Books in Print , 1995

Old Masters, New Subjects Dolra A. Wojciehowski, 1995 The encounter sometimes conflict between traditional Renaissance studies and poststructuralism occasions this book In it the author analyzes old masteries certain notions of freedom individualism and control long associated with the Renaissance in relation to the ideologies of non mastery that recur in theory today This book has a dual purpose First it recontextualizes the debates on freedom and determinism presented by five masters Petrarch Luther Loyola Teresa of Avila and Galileo by showing that their paradigmatic discourses on will share a distinct rhetorical strategy Second it argues that the dominant critical paradigms of the late twentieth century while ostensibly rejecting and transcending early modern ideas of subjecthood actually recast Renaissance debates on freedom and power In many ways the early modern functions as the unconscious of critical theory Journal of Social Work and Policy in Israel ,1993 Lacan, Mortality, Life and Language Berjanet Jazani,2021-09-30 This work presents thoughts on the Lacanian subject What are we as a speaking being What makes us a human subject from a psychoanalytic perspective Is it feelings and affect that make us a human Or was it the Freudian invention of the unconscious that drew a line between human and a non human What can be learnt from the subject of the unconscious in the clinic of psychoanalysis that can help us to approach these questions Berjanet Jazani takes examples from the psychoanalytic clinic as well as cultural references ranging from ancient Persia to London s Theatreland in order to elaborate the question of subjectivity reality and truth from a psychoanalytic perspective In the era of hyperreality the agency of branding and marketing strategies has overshadowed the reality of a human being his true nature and agency The hyperreality of contemporary society creates in each individual a false hope of becoming a high fidelity copy of their idols and such a fallacy has led many to believe that this is what determines their being in a social bond Jazani explores the question of the reality and mortality of a subject through a Lacanian prism from the theorising of analytical subjectivity that starts with the Freudian Oedipal myth more than a century ago to the futurist aspiration to fabricate human beings according to some ideal model This book will be important reading for students and academics of Lacanian psychoanalysis as well as professionals concerned with complex social problems
