To the left, a person in a red jacket and black helmet is shown in a dynamic pose, possibly a snowboarder. Below them, a person in a black jacket is walking on a snowy path. In the bottom right corner, a person in a blue jacket and red pants is lying on the snow, with their arms raised. A large, dark, rectangular object, possibly a piece of furniture or a structure, is positioned in the lower center. Latino City Llana Barber, 2017-03-08. Latino City explores the transformation of Lawrence, Massachusetts into New England's first Latino majority city. Like many industrial cities, Lawrence entered a downward economic spiral in the decades after World War II due to deindustrialization and suburbanization. The arrival of tens of thousands of Puerto Ricans and Dominicans in the late twentieth century brought new life to the struggling city, but settling in Lawrence was fraught with challenges: Facing hostility from their neighbors, exclusion from local governance, inadequate city services, and limited job prospects, Latinos fought and organized for the right to make a home in the city. In this book, Llana Barber interweaves the histories of urban crisis in U.S. cities and imperial migration from Latin America. Pushed to migrate by political and economic circumstances shaped by the long history of U.S. intervention in Latin America, poor and working-class Latinos then had to reckon with the segregation, joblessness, disinvestment, and profound stigma that plagued U.S. cities during the crisis era, particularly in the Rust Belt. For many Puerto Ricans and Dominicans, there was no American Dream awaiting them in Lawrence; instead, Latinos struggled to build lives for themselves in the ruins of industrial America.

Degeneration Max Simon Nordau, 1895. Canadian Performance Documents and Debates Anthony J. Vickery, Glen F. Nichols, Allana C. Lindgren, 2022-10-06. Canadian Performance Documents and Debates provides insight into performance activities from the seventeenth century to the early 1970s and probes important yet vexing questions about Canada as a country and a concept. The volume collects playscripts and archival material to explore what these documents tell us about the values, debates, and priorities of artists and their audiences from the past 400 years. Analyses throughout rethink the significance of theatre, dance, opera, circus, and other performance genres and events.
