Subject Retrieval In A Networked World:

Semantics of a Networked World. Semantics for Grid Databases Mokrane Bouzeghoub, Carole Goble, Vipul Kashyap, Stefano Spaccapietra, 2004-10-14 The explosion in data exchange fostered by the success of the Web has restated semantics as a kernel issue in the development of services providing data and information to users and applications worldwide. This newly designated conference series on Semantics for the Networked World unites into a single framework the previous series on Database Semantics and Visual Database Systems that the IFIP WG 2.6 has been organizing since 1985. Whereas the intent of the conference series is to explore interesting research issues related to semantics, the theme for the 2004 edition is Semantics for Grid Databases. Grid computing, a new field concentrating on flexible secure coordinated resource sharing among dynamic collections of individuals, institutions and resources also referred to as virtual organizations, has gathered momentum in the context of providing shared infrastructures for large scale scientific computations and data analysis. Similarly P2P computing has attracted substantial attention. Currently attention is devoted to the provision of middleware services to make computational resources interoperable at the technical level and to increase the efficiency of use of physical resources. However as Grid and P2P computing infrastructures are being increasingly adopted they are likely to have typical problems of information overload that manifest themselves in any large scale infrastructure for information and application sharing e.g. the WWW. The need for resource discovery, application and service interoperability, integration and composition manifest themselves in these infrastructures. The ability to interoperate at the semantic level will largely determine the continued success and utilization of these infrastructures. Network World, 1991-05-20 For more than 20 years Network World has been the premier provider of information intelligence and insight for network and IT executives responsible for the digital nervous systems of large organizations. Readers are responsible for designing, implementing and managing the voice, data and video systems their companies use to support everything from business critical applications to employee collaboration and electronic commerce. Digital Libraries for Cultural Heritage Tatjana Aparac-Jelušić, 2022-05-31 European digital libraries have existed in diverse forms and with quite different functions, priorities and aims. However there are some common features of European based initiatives that are relevant to non-European communities. There are now many more challenges and changes than ever before and the development rate of new digital libraries is ever accelerating. Delivering educational, cultural and research resources especially from major scientific and cultural organizations has become a core mission of these organizations. Using these resources they will be able to investigate, educate and elucidate in order to promote and disseminate and to preserve civilization. Extremely important in conceptualizing the digital environment, priorities in Europe was its cultural heritage and the feeling that these rich resources should be open to Europe and the global community. In this book we focus on European digitized heritage and digital culture and its potential in the digital age. We specifically look at the EU and its approaches to digitization and digital
