Suffering Of The Immigrant:

The Suffering of the Immigrant Abdelmalek Sayad, 2018-03-19 This book is a major contribution to our understanding of the condition of the immigrant and it will transform the reader's understanding of the issues surrounding immigration. Sayad's book will be widely used in courses on race, ethnicity, immigration, and identity in sociology, anthropology, cultural studies, politics, and geography. An outstanding and original work on the experience of immigration and the kind of suffering involved in living in a society and culture which is not one's own describes how immigrants are compelled out of respect for themselves and the group that allowed them to leave their country of origin to play down the suffering of emigration. Abdelmalek Sayad was an Algerian scholar and close associate of the French sociologist Pierre Bourdieu. After Sayad's death, Bourdieu undertook to assemble these writings for publication. This book will transform the reader's understanding of the issues surrounding immigration.

Immigrant and Refugee Youth and Families Mo Yee Lee, 2021-05-19 The United States is known as a nation of immigrants. Over the years, the composition of immigrants has significantly changed. From receiving immigrants from primarily Europe, the United States is now home to people from countries around the globe. One of the common challenges encountered by immigrant and refugee families and youth is to successfully resettle and integrate into the host country that is culturally different from their country of origin. Depending on the context of migration, families and youth oftentimes face additional challenges ranging from potential trauma prior to immigration, language, employment, education, healthcare accessibility, integration, discrimination, etc. This book focuses on different issues experienced by immigrant and refugee families and youth, as well as programs implemented to serve these populations. These issues pertain to the individual at a personal level: attachment trauma, bicultural self-efficacy, behavioral problems, and mental health; family parenting; work-family conflict; problems such as domestic violence; community risk factors such as racial discrimination; and protective factors such as social capital and policy. Immigration policy and enforcement. Part I of the book focuses on immigrant and refugee families, and Part II focuses on immigrant and refugee youth. By increasing our awareness of issues pertinent to immigrant and refugee families and youth, we can better provide culturally respectful and sensitive services and policy to this population at a time when they are navigating between their host culture and home culture in addition to dealing with challenges encountered in resettlement. The book is a significant new contribution to migration studies and social justice and will be a great resource for academics, researchers, and advanced students of social work, public policy, law, and sociology. The chapters in this book were originally published in the Journal of Ethnic Cultural Diversity in Social Work.

Preaching to Korean Immigrants Rebecca Seungyoun Jeong, 2022-09-14 In terms of practical theology's critical reflection on marginalized people's wounds in a wider society, this book investigates the question: How to proclaim the good news in response to first-generation Korean immigrants' contextual suffering in the United States? To answer the question, the book starts with investigating Korean immigrant hearers' contextual predicaments in a new land to point out emerging practical theological issues in relation to the practice of preaching In this book the primary subjects are first generation Korean immigrants especially those who have relatively low socio economic status and struggle with the purpose of their lives as immigrants particularly those whose material dreams have been shattered In order to proclaim the good news this book proposes a more appropriate immigrant theology for in the practice of preaching by reclaiming the priorities of God s future in our lives and confirming God s active identification with Korean immigrant congregations in the depths of their predicament Such reconstructive work for immigrant theology arises in response to their existential hardships marginality ethnic discrimination and relative powerlessness in life While acknowledging both the possibilities and limits of the diverse forms of current Korean immigrant preaching the book then offers a strategic proposal for a new homiletic theory namely a psalmic theological homiletic This proposed homiletic is deeply rooted in the theology of the Psalms and their rhetorical movement This re envisioned mode of eschatological and prophetic preaching in times of difficulty recovers ancient Israel s psalmic rhetorical tradition that aims toward faith Its theological rhetorical strategy intends to both transform hearers habitus of living in faith and enhance their hope filled life through communal anticipation of God s coming future on the margins Specifically this proposed homiletic critically adopts key features from psalms of lament and their typical fourfold theological rhetorical movement i e lament retelling a story confessional doxology and obedient vow as now core elements of a revised Korean immigrant preaching practice
