The Idea Of The Renaissance:

The Idea of the Renaissance William Kerrigan, Gordon Braden, 1991 Renaissance Ideas and the Idea of the Renaissance Charles Edward Trinkaus, 1990 A Companion to the Worlds of the Renaissance Guido Ruggiero, 2008-04-15 This volume brings together some of the most exciting renaissance scholars to suggest new ways of thinking about the period and to set a new series of agendas for Renaissance scholarship Overturns the idea that it was a period of European cultural triumph and highlights the negative as well as the positive Looks at the Renaissance from a world as opposed to just European perspective Views the Renaissance from perspectives other than just the cultural elite Gender sex violence and cultural history are integrated into the analysis The Concept Standard Anne Mary Nicholson, 1910 Capitalism and Freedom in African Political Philosophy Grivas Muchineripi Kayange, 2020-05-05 This book investigates capitalism and freedom the guiding forces of many political systems in African philosophy It builds on classical and neoliberal capitalism rooted in private property and freedom and argues for the presence of these elements in the traditional and modern African political systems The author argues that while these elements are partly imported from Western capitalists they are equally traceable in African traditional political systems Kayange argues that African politics is marred by a conflict between embracing capitalism and freedom individualism on the one hand and socialism founded on African communitarianism and communist ideas on the other This conflict has affected policy development and implementation and has significantly contributed towards the socio economic and ethical crises that are recurrent in most of the African countries Michael Dahl and the Contemporary Swedish School of Painting in England Wilhelm Nisser, 1927 The Idea of Progress John Bagnell Bury, 1921 The Idea of the Renaissance and the Rise of Science Herbert Weisinger, 1946 The Shattering of the Self Cynthia Marshall, 2003-05-22 In The Shattering of the Self Violence Subjectivity and Early Modern Texts Cynthia Marshall reconceptualizes the place and function of violence in Renaissance literature During the Renaissance an emerging concept of the autonomous self within art politics religion commerce and other areas existed in tandem with an established popular sense of the self as fluid unstable and volatile Marshall examines an early modern fascination with erotically charged violence to show how texts of various kinds allowed temporary release from an individualism that was constraining Scenes such as Gloucester's blinding and Cordelia's death in King Lear or the dismemberment and sexual violence depicted in Titus Andronicus allowed audience members not only a release but a shattering as opposed to an affirmation of the self Marshall draws upon close readings of Shakespearean plays Petrarchan sonnets John Foxe's Acts and Monuments of the Christian Martyrs and John Ford's The Broken Heart to successfully address questions of subjectivity psychoanalytic theory and identity via a cultural response to art Timely in its offering of an account that is both historically and psychoanalytically informed The Shattering of the Self argues for a renewed attention to the place of fantasy in this literature and will be of interest to scholars working in Renaissance and early modern studies literary theory gender studies
