Transition and Development in China Yun Chen, 2017-11-30 China's transition from a planned economy to a market economy has succeeded in producing more than a decade of phenomenal growth Whilst similar reforms in countries of Central and Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union have seen an initial downturn in production usually with a significant rise in unemployment the success of the approach taken by China has been remarkable However China embarked upon the process without a well designed blueprint at the outset The resulting piecemeal partial incremental and often experimental approach has proved complicated to implement requiring a complex melding of politics and economics internal and foreign affairs government and market How the difficult task of balancing the diverse array of often competing concerns has been achieved is the subject of this book which examines the dismantling of the centrally planned system and the mechanism of institutional change in Chinese transition The Balkans: Foreign Direct Investment and EU Accession
