Odom, 2025-02-25 After capturing a jinn devil and fleeing to the desert Azetla has exchanged the threat of execution for the weight of high treason Thousands of men are now under his command for the Emperor's brother must have both a scapegoat and a symbol to stand behind his quiet coup But Azetla has different plans He means to bring his masters a war which will spread throughout the southern desert and beyond As Azetla gathers troops and tribes and victories his reluctant alliance with the Sahr devil becomes an indispensable one Few can resist the influence of her words which reach every tongue and every tribe The rebellious nobility of Maurow will get more than they ever bargained for The Emperor's brother James will become a far more ruthless man than he ever wanted to be And the whole southern desert will be tempted by the chance to cast off the yoke of the Empire They need only submit to the command of a jackal and the voice of a jinn The Aesthetics of Violence in the Prophets Julia Myers O'Brien, Chris Franke, 2010-04-08 At the 2006 annual meeting of the Society of Biblical Literature the Prophetic Texts in their Ancient Contexts section devoted a session to the theme The Aesthetics of Violence Participants were invited to explore multiple dimensions of prophetic texts and their violent rhetoric The results were rich engaging discussion of violent images in ancient Near Eastern art and in modern film as well as advancing our understanding of the poetic skill required for invoking terror through words This volume collects those essays as well as others especially commissioned for its creation As a collection they address questions that are at once ancient and distressingly modern What do violent images do to us Do they encourage violent behavior and or provide an alternative to actual violence How do depictions of violence define boundaries between and within communities What readers can and should readers make of the disturbing rhetoric of violent prophets Contributors include Corrine Carvahlo Cynthia Chapman Chris Franke Bob Haak Mary
