loses oneself in the reality of the present and becomes one with it resulting in one's best performance. However, behind this everyday use is a concept that touches the core of Japanese spirituality. This book explores no mind in its dynamic complexity. It is both the letting go of the calculations of mind and at the same time the arising of a vibrant consciousness in unity with reality. This gives rise to various tensions: Is it about negating or affirming self? Is stillness or activity? How does it relate with social ethics or religious transcendence? And what is stopping no mind from descending into mere mindlessness? These tensional facets are explored through philosophy and history of thought in Japan from pre-Buddhist Japanese thought to Zen Buddhism in D. T. Suzuki and Toshihiko Izutsu to swordsmanship and Noh theater. These historical approaches are brought to the here and now, dialoguing with psychology, ethics, and the experiences of everyday life, and ending with two preliminary practical explorations: What does it mean to care for another and to educate from the point of view of no mind.

The Wind Band Music of Henry Cowell Jeremy Brown, 2018-03-14. The Wind Band Music of Henry Cowell studies the compositions for wind band by twentieth-century composer Henry Cowell, a significant and prolific figure in American fine art music from 1914-1965. The composer is noteworthy and controversial because of his radical early works, his interest in non-Western musics, and his retrogressive mature style, along with notoriety for his imprisonment in San Quentin on a morals charge. Eleven chapters are organized both topically and chronologically. An introduction, conclusion, series of eight appendices, bibliography, and discography complete this comprehensive study, along with an audio playlist of representative works hosted on the CMS website.
