When Bombs Are Falling - Growing Up in the 1930s And 40s Joseph Proctor,2012 Life was not easy when Joseph Proctor was born into a working class family on Tyneside in the early 1930s This was an age of unemployment and very low wages The electronic age had not been born and there was no television no computers no Ipods mobile phones or electronic games Children made their own amusement and it was a time of contentment and innocence Children were children until they left school This book gives us some idea of what it was like growing up in the 1930s through WW2 and on into the 1950s Vastly different to what life is like for children today A Question of Time David McCaddon,2021-03-31 It s November 1967 and when a girl s body is found in the burning embers of a fire in a farmer s field in Cheshire DCI Sheraton begins a complex investigation When a second body is found a short time later the hunt now commences for a possible serial killer Though are the two really connected With murder hidden secrets and revenge all combining in this fast moving thriller is it just a question of time before the crimes are eventually detected There are several twists and turns in this latest entertaining crime thriller by David McCaddon which is sure to delight his readers and keep them gripped until the very last page Records & Briefs New York State Appellate Division ,

Whitman,2018-01-16 Stand Up How to Get Involved Speak Out and Win in a World on Fire A society that actively combats racism treats climate change as a serious threat and ensures that all people have a living wage and a decent life for themselves and their families is not a progressive pipe dream Victories are being won every day all over the country But they didn't happen just by clicking donate on a website Gordon Whitman says that fundamental change demands forming the kind of face to face relationships that have sustained every social movement in history For two decades Whitman has been working with PICO National Network to equip tens of thousands to fight racial discrimination and economic injustice He brings that experience to this book describing five kinds of conversations that enable people to create organizations that can successfully overcome the forces of oppression and reaction The first conversation to have is with ourselves to make sure we're clear about our purpose and in it for the long haul Then we need to share the personal story of how we came to this point with others there is no more powerful way to connect They in turn will share their stories and then we can have the third conversation about becoming a team This team reaches out to people they know to talk about their concerns and priorities building a broad base of supporters Then with our base at our back we can have that final conversation directly confronting the powers that be Of course this isn't as simple as it sounds Appropriately enough Whitman uses stories his own and others to illustrate how best to handle these conversations and to show how they work together to build a movement We can't just sit on the sidelines sharing angry social media posts or signing online petitions We need to get directly involved reach out knock on doors and bring our whole selves to the table if the changes our country so desperately needs are ever going to come

Farley v. Farley, 278 MICH 361 (1936) ,1936 83 Yuletide Protector Lisa Mondello,2009-12-01 Her ex husband wants her dead Daria Carlisle can hardly believe it Detective Kevin Gordon insists it's true and that it's his fault that her ex is still at large Which means it's his responsibility to make sure Daria stays safe So when Daria stubbornly refuses to run scared Kevin takes on the role of yuletide protector He knows firsthand that Daria's ex means business And with Christmas coming the determined cop intends to give Daria the holiday celebration she deserves safe and sound by his side forever The Room at the End of the Hall Bette Ann Moskowitz,2013-02-11 In this first person narrative Bette Ann Moskowitz tells what it is like to be a volunteer long term care ombudsman and how with thirty six hours of training she entered the unfamiliar world of a nursing home to advocate for its almost three hundred residents She brings the reader along as she learns the ropes makes mistakes and meets tragic and beautiful people struggling for their lives When she becomes assistant coordinator of the program she gets an even broader view of institutional life advocacy and old age Problems are big and small a man discharged for having a sexual relationship with a fellow resident residents not getting evening snacks an intelligent resident with mental health problems fighting to be a partner in her own care Author of DO I KNOW YOU A Family

s Journey Through Aging and Alzheimer s Moskowitz says advocating for the old and disabled in long term care can be a transgressive act We often oppose the authorities by standing up for the one with two different shoes against the Suits Sometimes we don t know enough We have access but little power Yet an ombudsman may be the only thing standing between the resident and disaster In addition to shedding light on this unheralded and important volunteer health care worker THE ROOM AT THE END OF THE HALL raises questions about how America and Americans go about the business of old age and how old age itself is changing as the baby boomer generation enters it The Code of Cuenca James F. Powers,2016-11-11 Sometime around 1190 King Alfonso VIII of Castile granted a royal charter to the community of Cuenca a Castilian frontier town recently recaptured from the Muslims and resettled by Christians The royal charter was in the form of a law code or fuero Fueros which evolved from short lists of exceptions to standing royal directives into much more extensive commentaries on legal matters were used as an incentive to Christian settlement on the frontier Reflecting the complexities of administering a town that still had large Muslim and Jewish populations the fuero or code of Cuenca was meant to assure the permanence of Christian conquest and settlement James Powers provides the first translation into English of this notable historical document The Code of Cuenca is of great importance to legal historians particularly as a comparison to contemporary English and other European law texts Because there is no similar urban compilation anywhere else in twelfth century Europe that contains significant descriptions of everyday life in a medieval frontier town the code will serve as a primary source for scholars and students of medieval Iberian and western European political economic and social history

Practical Engineer ,1903 Conscious Moving Christine Caldwell, PHD,2024-06-25 Conscious Moving extends from one transformative belief we feel more human more empowered and more ourselves when we live from that place within us and all around us that simply moves And when we examine and trust in the emerging and evolving movement of our minds and bodies we can better harness the tools needed to expand our creativity wellbeing and learning Body based psychotherapist movement specialist and renowned author educator Christine Caldwell Oppression and the Body offers a radically ambitious mode of somatic awareness and inquiry and shows how designing our own conscious movement practices can improve not only our own lives but our relationships communities and culture This anthology explores how movement practices can help us be more present more grounded and intentional in responding to and working with experiences in the moment and claim our own bodily autonomy Caldwell and contributors explore these key benefits and applications in four critical areas Creativity Contemplation Healing Learning Rooted in both ancient and modern scientific ways of knowing Conscious Moving imparts fundamental principles and tools applicable to a broad spectrum of fields and professions Topics explored in partnership with conscious movement practice include Trauma and Oppression Isolation and Loneliness Addiction Group Therapy Sexuality Creative Arts and Grief Encouraging each reader to pay attention to and honor their own embodied intuition Conscious Moving is a non prescriptive guide to accessing body based wisdom for personal growth
