The Key To The Brescia Casket Typology And The Early Christian Imagination:

The Key to the Brescia Casket Catherine Brown Tkacz, 2002 The elusive rationale for the Brescia Casket an ivory reliquary carved in northern Italy ca 390 has long tantalized scholars In The Key to the Brescia Casket Dr Catherine Brown Tkacz reveals that the secret to its meaning lies in exegetical typology the interpretation of Old Testament people and events as prefiguring the Messiah Typology Tkacz argues underlies the sophisticated program of the ivory box which features an unusually full depiction of the Passion Among the fifty nine carvings on the Brescia Casket most of them depicting biblical events are five scenes of the Passion more than any other monument prior to this time period These are arranged in historical order which is also rare in fourth century Christian art Tkacz contends that the Casket is in effect a visual sermon on the unity of the Bible s two testaments an important theological issue of the time This wonderfully illustrated and rigorously interdisciplinary volume funded by a grant from the Samuel H Kress Foundation grounds the typological program of the Brescia Casket in fourth century thought In so doing it suggests the real possibility that typology is more important for the understanding of Early Christian art than has previously been appreciated

The Poetics of Late Latin Literature Jaś Elsner, Jesús Hernández Lobato, 2017 For a host of reasons traditionalist scholarship has failed to give a full and positive account of the formal aesthetic and religious transformations of ancient poetics in Late Antiquity This collection of new essays attempts to capture the vibrancy of the living ancient tradition reinventing itself in a new context in the hands of a series of great Latin writers of the fourth and fifth centuries AD

Patristic Perspectives on Luke's Transfiguration Peter Anthony, 2022-03-24 Peter Anthony explores how visionary elements in Luke's Gospel had a particular influence on early interpretation of the Transfiguration by examining the rich hermeneutical traditions that emerged particularly in the Latin West as the Transfiguration was first depicted visually in art Anthony begins by comparing the visual and visionary culture of antiquity with that of the present and their differing interpretations of the Transfiguration He then examines the Transfiguration texts in the synoptic gospels and their interpretation in modern scholarship and the reception of the Transfiguration in 2 Peter the Apocalypse of Peter and the Acts of Peter Tertullian and Origen Proceeding to look at interpretations found in the Greek East and the Latin West Anthony finally discusses the earliest visual depictions of the Transfiguration from the sixth century onward drawn from a wealth of different art forms Anthony concludes that early commentators and artists understanding of how we see and visualise and therefore how the Transfiguration was apprehended is closer to that of the writers of the New Testament than many modern interpreters is

The Trophies of the Martyrs Galit Noga-Banai, 2008-04-24 In this pioneering study the first of its kind Galit Noga Banai analyses silver reliquaries decorated with Christian figurative themes She offers a clearer and more detailed picture of the beginnings of the cult of relics which were an essential asset to the Church in its establishment of pilgrimage centres and local hagiographic heritage sites first in Italy and later in other places around Europe and North Africa At the same time Noga Banai highlights the identity of the objects as portable art treating the reliquaries as visual historical testimonies The book is illustrated with nearly 100 finely reproduced drawings and photographs Nonnus' Paraphrase between Poetry, Rhetoric and Theology Maria Ypsilanti, Laura Franco, 2020-12-15 This book investigates the various paraphrastic techniques employed by Nonnus of Panopolis 5th century AD for his poetic version of the Gospel of John

The authors look at Nonnus Paraphrase the only extant poetic Greek paraphrase of the New Testament in the light of ancient rhetorical theory while also exploring its multi faceted relationship with poetic tradition and the theological debates of its era
The study shows how interpretation cardinal both in ancient literary criticism and in theology is exploited in a poem that is exegetical both from a philological and a Christian point of view and adheres at the same time to the literary principles of Hellenistic times and late antiquity
