The Languages of Edison's Light Charles Bazerman, 1999 The Present State of Scholarship in the History of Rhetoric Lynée Lewis Gaillet, Winifred Bryan Horner, 2010-03-15 Through two previous editions The Present State of Scholarship in Historical and Contemporary Rhetoric has not only introduced new scholars to interdisciplinary research but also become a standard research tool in a number of fields and pointed the way toward future study Adopting research methodologies of revision and recovery this latest edition includes all new material while still following the format of the original and is constructed around bibliographical surveys of both primary and secondary works addressing the Classical Medieval Renaissance and eighteenth through twentieth century periods within the history of rhetoric The Present State of Scholarship in the History of Rhetoric doesn't simply update but rather recasts study in the history of rhetoric The authors experienced and well known scholars in their respective fields redefine existing strands of rhetorical study within the periods expand the scope of rhetorical engagement and include additional figures and their works The globalization and expansion of rhetoric are demonstrated in each of these parts and seen clearly in the inclusion of more female rhetors discussions of historical and contemporary electronic resources and examinations of rhetorical practices falling outside the academy and the traditional canon New to this edition is a cumulative review of twentieth century rhetoric along with a thematic index designed to facilitate interdisciplinary or specialized study and scholarly research across the traditional historical periods As programs incorporating rhetorical studies continue to expand at the university level students and researchers are in need of up to date bibliographical resources No other work matches the scope and approach of The Present State of Scholarship in the History of Rhetoric which carries scholarship on rhetoric into the twenty first century Making Silicon Valley Christophe Lécuyer, 2006 A history of the innovative practices in the San Francisco area electronics industry that paved the way for the rise of the computer industry in Silicon Valley Digitizing the News Pablo J. Boczkowski, 2005 A study of the development of nonprint publishing by American daily newspapers how new media emerge by combining existing media structures and practices with new technical capabilities Vulnerability in Technological Cultures Anique Hommels, Jessica Mesman, Wiebe E. Bijker, 2014-03-21 Novel technologies and scientific advancements offer not only opportunities but risks Technological systems are vulnerable to human error and technical malfunctioning that have far reaching consequences one flipped switch can cause a cascading power failure across a networked electric grid Yet once addressed vulnerability accompanied by coping mechanisms may yield a more flexible and resilient society This book investigates vulnerability in both its negative and positive aspects in technological cultures The contributors argue that viewing risk in terms of vulnerability offers a novel approach to understanding the risks and benefits of science and technology Such an approach broadens conventional risk analysis by connecting to issues of justice solidarity and livelihood and enabling comparisons between the global north and south The book explores case studies that range from agricultural practices in India to neonatal intensive care medicine in Western hospitals these cases spanning the issues addressed in the book illustrate what vulnerability is and does The book offers conceptual frameworks for empirical description and analysis of vulnerability that elucidate its ambiguity context dependence and constructed nature Finally the book addresses the implications of these analyses for the governance of vulnerability proposing a more reflexive way of dealing with vulnerability in technological cultures

Health Technology Development and Use Sampsa Hyysalo, 2010-06-22 How do development and use of new technology relate How can users contribute to innovation This volume is the first to study these questions by following particular technologies over several product launches in detail It examines the emergence of inventive ideas about future technology and uses how these are developed into products and embedded in health care practices and how the form and impact of these technologies then evolves through several rounds of design and deployment across different types of organizations Examining these processes through three case studies of health care innovations these studies reveal a blind spot in extant research on development use relations The majority of studies have examined shorter episodes moments within particular design projects implementation processes usability evaluations and human machine interactions Studies with longer time frames have resorted to a relatively coarse grain size of analysis and hence lost sight of how the interchange is actually done As a result there are no social science information systems or management texts which comprehensively or adequately address how different moments sites and modes of shaping new technology determine the evolution of new technology the detailed mechanisms of learning interaction and domination between different actors and technology during these drawn out processes and the relationship of technology projects and the professional practices and social imaginations that are associated in technology development evaluation and usage The biographies of technologies and practices approach to new technology advanced in this volume offers us urgent new insight to core empirical and theoretical questions about how and where development projects gain their representations of future use and users how usage is actually designed how users requests and modifications affect designs and what kind of learning takes place between developers and users in different phases of innovation all crucial to our understanding and ability to advance new health technology and innovation more generally

Entangled Geographies Gabrielle Hecht, 2011 The Cold War was not simply a duel of superpowers It took place not just in Washington and Moscow but also in the social and political arenas of geographically far flung countries emerging from colonial rule Moreover Cold War tensions were manifest not only in global political disputes but also in struggles over technology Technological systems and expertise offered a powerful way to shape countries politically economically socially and culturally This book explores how Cold War politics imperialism and postcolonial nation building became entangled in technologies and considers the legacies of those entanglements for today's globalized world The essays address such topics as the islands and atolls taken over for military and technological purposes by the supposedly non imperial United States apartheid era South Africa's efforts to achieve international legitimacy as a nuclear nation

Trading Zones and Interactional Expertise Michael E. Gorman, 2010 A proposal for a new framework for fostering collaborations across disciplines addressing both theory and practical applications Cross disciplinary collaboration increasingly characterizes today's science and engineering research The problems and opportunities facing society do not come neatly sorted by discipline Difficulties arise when researchers from disciplines as different as engineering and the humanities work together and find that they speak largely different languages This book explores a new framework for fostering collaborations among existing disciplines and expertise communities The framework unites two ideas to emerge from recent work in STS trading zones in which scientific subcultures each with its own language develop the equivalents of pidgin and creole and interactional expertise in which experts learn to use the language of another research community in ways that are indistinguishable from expert practitioners of that community A trading zone can gradually become a new area of expertise facilitated by interactional expertise and involving negotiations over boundary objects objects represented in different ways by different participants The volume describes applications of the framework to service science business strategy environmental management education and practical ethics One detailed case study focuses on attempts to create trading zones that would help prevent marine bycatch another investigates trading zones formed to market the female condom to women in Africa another describes how humanists embedded in a nanotechnology laboratory gained interactional expertise resulting in improved research results for both humanists and nanoscientists Contributors Brad Allenby Donna T Chen Harry Collins Robert Evans Erik Fisher Peter Galison Michael E Gorman Lynn Isabella Lekelia D Jenkins Mary Ann Leeper Roop L Mahajan Matthew M Mehalik Ann E Mills Bolko von Oettinger Elizabeth Powell Mary V Rorty Jeff Shrager Jim Spohrer Patricia H Werhane

Ownership of Knowledge Dagmar Schafer, Annapurna Mamidipudi, Marius Buning, 2023-07-18 A framework for knowledge ownership that challenges the mechanisms of inequality in modern society Scholars of science technology medicine and law have all tended to emphasize knowledge as the sum of human understanding and its ownership as possession by law Breaking with traditional discourse on knowledge property as something that concerns mainly words and intellectual history or science and law Dagmar Schafer Annapurna Mamidipudi and Marius Buning propose technology as a central heuristic for studying the many implications of knowledge ownership Toward this end they focus on the notions of knowledge and ownership in courtrooms workshops policy and research practices while also shedding light on scholarship itself as a powerful tool for making explicit the politics inherent in knowledge practices and social order The book presents case studies showing how diverse knowledge economies are created and how inequalities arise from them Unlike scholars who have fragmented this discourse across the disciplines of anthropology sociology and history the editors highlight recent developments in the emerging field of the global history of knowledge as science as economy and as culture The case studies reveal how notions of knowing and owning emerge because they reciprocally produce and determine each other's limits and possibilities that is how we know inevitably affects how we can own what we know and how we own always impacts how and what we are able to know Contributors Dagmar Sch fer Annapurna Mamidipudi Cynthia Brokaw Marius Buning Viren Murthy Marjolijn Bol Amy E Slaton James Leach Myles W Jackson Lissant Bolton Vivek S Oak J rn Oeder
