The Outer Limits Cry Of Silence

Jon Lance Bacon

The Outer Limits Cry Of Silence:

The Outer Limits, 1964 Flannery O'Connor and Cold War Culture Jon Lance Bacon, 1993 Flannery O'Connor and Cold War Culture offers a radically new reading of O'Connor who is known primarily as the creator of universal religious dramas. By recovering the historical context in which O'Connor wrote her fiction, Jon Lance Bacon reveals an artist deeply concerned with the issues that engaged other producers of American culture from the 1940s to the 1960s: a national identity, political anxiety, and intellectual freedom. Bacon takes an interdisciplinary approach, relating the stories and novels to political texts and sociological studies, as well as films, television programs, paintings, advertisements, editorial cartoons, and comic books. At a time when national paranoia ran high, O'Connor joined in the public discussion regarding a way of life that seemed threatened from outside the American way of life. The discussion tended toward celebration, but O'Connor raised doubts about the quality of life within the United States. Specifically, she attacked the consumerism that cold warriors cited as evidence of American cultural superiority. The role of dissenter appealed greatly to O'Connor, and her identity as a Southern Catholic writer, the very identity that has discouraged critics from considering her as an American writer, furnished a position from which to criticize the Cold War consensus.

Channeling the Future Lincoln Geraghty, 2009-04-02 Though science fiction certainly existed prior to the surge of television in the 1950s, the genre quickly established roots in the new medium and flourished in subsequent decades. In Channeling the Future: Essays on Science Fiction and Fantasy Television, Lincoln Geraghty has assembled a collection of essays that focuses on the disparate visions of the past, present, and future offered by science fiction and fantasy television since the 1950s and that continue into the present day. These essays not only shine new light on often overlooked and forgotten series but also examine the look of science fiction and fantasy television, determining how iconography, location, and landscape, special effects, set design, props, and costumes contribute to the creation of future and alternate worlds. Contributors to this volume analyze such classic programs as The Twilight Zone, Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea, and The Man from U.N.C.L.E. as well as contemporary programs including Star Trek: The Next Generation, Angel, Firefly, Futurama, and the new Battlestar Galactica. These essays provide a much needed look at how science fiction television has had a significant impact on history, culture, and society for the last sixty years.

Obituaries in the Performing Arts, 2017 Harris M. Lentz III, 2018-05-03 The entertainment world lost many notable talents in 2017, including iconic character actor Harry Dean Stanton, comedians Jerry Lewis and Dick Gregory, country singer Glen Campbell, playwright Sam Shepard, and actor-singer Jim Nabors. Obituaries of actors, filmmakers, musicians, producers, dancers, composers, writers, animals, and others associated with the performing arts who died in 2017 are included. Date, place, and cause of death are provided for each, along with a career recap and a photograph. Filmographies are given for film and television performers.

Irwin Allen Television Productions, 1964-1970 Jon Abbott, 2015-06-14 Before establishing himself as the master of disaster with the 1970s films The Poseidon Adventure and The Towering Inferno, Irwin Allen created four of television's most exciting and enduring science fiction series Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea Lost in Space The Time Tunnel and Land of the Giants These 1960s series were full of Allen s favorite tricks techniques and characteristic touches and influenced other productions from the original Star Trek forward Every science fiction show owes something to Allen yet none has equaled his series pace excitement or originality This detailed examination and documentation of the premise and origin of the four shows offers an objective evaluation of every episode and demonstrates that when Irwin Allen s television episodes were good they were great and when they were bad they were still terrific fun

Gender in Science Fiction Films, 1964-1979 Bonnie Noonan, 2015-06-08 The 1950s era of science fiction film effectively ended when space flight became a reality with the first manned orbit of Earth in 1962 As the genre s wildly speculative depictions of science and technology gave way to more reality based representations relations between male and female characters reflected the changing political and social climates of the era Drawing on critical analyses film reviews and cultural commentaries this book examines the development of science fiction film and its representations of gender from the groundbreaking films of 1968 including 2001 A Space Odyssey Barbarella and Planet of the Apes through its often overlooked Middle Period which includes such films as Colossus The Forbin Project 1970 The Stepford Wives 1975 and A Boy and His Dog 1975 The author examines intersections of gender and race in The Omega Man 1971 and Frogs 1972 gender and dystopia in Soylent Green 1973 and Logan s Run 1976 and gender and computers in Demon Seed 1977 The big budget films of the late 1970s Close Encounters of the Third Kind Alien and Star Wars are also discussed
