V Brewington Peabody Academy of Science, afterwards Peabody Museum (SALEM, Massachusetts),Marion Vernon Brewington,1963 The Peabody Museum Collection of Navigating Instruments Peabody Museum of Salem,Marion Vernon Brewington,1963 How Scientific Instruments Have Changed Hands ,2016-09-12 This collection of essays discusses the marketing of scientific and medical instruments from the eighteenth century to the First World War The evidence presented here is derived from sources as diverse as contemporary trade literature through newspaper advertisements to rarely surviving inventories and from the instruments themselves The picture may not yet be complete but it has been acknowledged that it is more complex than sketched out twenty five or even fifty years ago Here is a collection of case studies from the United Kingdom the Americas and Europe showing instruments moving from maker to market place and to some extent what happened next Contributors are Alexi Baker Paolo Brenni Laura Ch zaro Gloria Clifton Peggy Aldrich Kidwell Richard L Kremer A D Morrison Low Joshua Nall Sara J Schechner and Liba Taub Failed Historical Scientific Instruments ,2024-06-11 Can a scientific instrument be regarded as a failure Why and how By shedding light on the complexity of these questions the volume marks a step forward in the way historical scientific instruments can be analysed and displayed The essays show how diverse failures can be and how the assessment of scientific devices may change over time some surprisingly becoming more successful In addition to studies of how technical features led to failure the authors examine the roles played by social bias and behaviour commercial and economic circumstances and political factors Sextants at Greenwich W.F.J. Mörzer Bruyns,Richard Dunn,2009-06-25 This book describes the history and development of navigating instruments Before satellites these were used to measure the altitude of the sun and stars above the horizon to determine the ship s position at sea The book also contains a catalogue of 347 mariner s astrolabes cross staffs backstaffs and octants sextants and artificial horizons Technology in Early America Brooke Hindle,2012-12-01 This interpretative essay and extensive bibliography surveying the chronology and major characteristics of American technology before 1850 is the first available guide in this period to the rapidly developing field of the history of technology Originally published in 1966 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value Irish National Inventory of Historic Scientific Instruments Charles Mollan,1995-11-15 Carried out over a period of ten years this is a listing of scientific instruments dating before 1920 preserved in many collections throughout the island of Ireland It gives location date and description for each of the more than 5 000 entries together where appropriate with relevant accompanying detail It demonstrates clearly that Ireland has an important resource which hitherto had not been appreciated It also preserves information about collections which have since been lost sold or otherwise dispersed Early American Technology Judith A. McGaw, 2014-01-01 This collection of original essays documents technology's centrality to the history of early America Unlike much previous scholarship this volume emphasizes the quotidian rather than the exceptional the farm household seeking to preserve food or acquire tools the surveyor balancing economic and technical considerations while laying out a turnpike the woman of child bearing age employing herbal contraceptives and the neighbors of a polluted urban stream debating issues of property odor and health These cases and others drawn from brewing mining farming and woodworking enable the authors to address recent historiographic concerns including the environmental aspects of technological change and the gendered nature of technical knowledge Brooke Hindle's classic 1966 essay on early American technology is also reprinted and his view of the field is reassessed A bibliographical essay and summary of Hindle's bibliographic findings conclude the volume The contributors are Judith A McGaw Robert C Post Susan E Klepp Michal McMahon Patrick W O Bannon Sarah F McMahon Donald C Jackson Robert B Gordon Carolyn C Cooper and Nina E Lerman The Arts in Early American History Walter Muir Whitehill, 2012-12-01 This summary essay and the heavily annotated bibliography covering the period from the first colonization to 1826 are primarily intended to aid the scholar and student by suggesting areas of further study and ways of expanding the conventional interpretations of early American history Originally published in 1935 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value
