The Bayeux Tapestry And The Ethos Of War:

The Bayeux Tapestry and the Ethos of War Rouben Charles Cholakian, 1998 Anglo-Saxon England: Volume 29 Michael Lapidge, Malcolm Godden, Simon Keynes, 2001-02-08 The editorial policy of Anglo Saxon England has been to encourage an interdisciplinary approach to the study of all aspects of Anglo Saxon culture This approach is pursued in exemplary fashion by many of the essays in this volume Fresh light is thrown on the dating and form of Cynewulf's poem The Fates of the Apostles through a comprehensive study of the historical martyrologies of the Carolingian period on which Cynewulf is presumed to have drawn The literary form of Irfic's Preface to his translation of Genesis is illustrated through a wide ranging study of the rhetorical genre of preface writing in the early Middle Ages the genre which subsequently was known as the ars dictaminis and the problems which Irfic faced and solved in composing a Life of St thelthryth are illustrated through detailed comparison of the sources which he utilized The usual comprehensive bibliography of the previous year's publications in all branches of Anglo Saxon studies rounds off the book The Bayeux Tapestry Carola Hicks, 2011-07-31 The vivid scenes on the Bayeux Tapestry depict the events leading up to the Battle of Hastings in 1066 It is one of Europe's greatest treasures and its own story is full of drama and surprise Who commissioned the tapestry Was it Bishop Odo William's ruthless half brother Or Harold's dynamic sister Edith juggling for a place in the new court Hicks shows us this world and the miracle of the tapestry's making the stitches dyes and strange details in the margins For centuries it lay ignored in Bayeux cathedral until its discovery in the eighteenth century It became a symbol of power as well as art townsfolk saved it during the French Revolution Napoleon displayed it to promote his own conquest the Nazis strove to make it their own and its influence endures today This marvellous book packed with thrilling stories shows how we remake history in every age and how a great work of art has a life of its own The Bayeux Tapestry John F. Szabo, Nicholas E. Kuefler, 2015-06-18 Commanding its own museum and over 200 years of examination observation and scholarship the monumental embroidery known popularly as the Bayeux Tapestry and documenting William the Conqueror's invasion of England in October 1066 is perhaps the most important surviving artifact of the Middle Ages This magnificent textile both celebrated and panned is both enigmatic artwork and confounding historical record With over 1780 entries Szabo and Kuefler offer the largest and most heavily annotated bibliography on the Tapestry ever written Notably the Bayeux Tapestry has produced some of the most compelling questions of the medieval period Who commissioned it and for what purpose What was the intended venue for its display Who was the designer and who executed the enormous task of its manufacture How does it inform our understanding of eleventh century life And who was the mysterious Aelfgyva depicted in the Tapestry's main register This book is an effort to capture and describe the scholarship that attempts to answer these questions But the bibliography also reflects the popularity of the Tapestry in literature covering a surprisingly broad array of subjects The inclusion of this material will assist future scholars who may study references to the work in contemporary non fiction and popular works as well as use of the Bayeux Tapestry

as a primary and secondary source in the classroom The monographs articles and other works cited in this bibliography reflect dozens of research areas Major themes are the Tapestry as a source of information for eleventh century material culture its role in telling the story of the Battle of Hastings and events leading up to the invasion patronage of the Tapestry biographical detail on known historical figures in the Tapestry arms and armor medieval warfare strategy and techniques opus anglicanum the Anglo Saxon needlework tradition preservation and display of the artifact the Tapestry s place in medieval art the embroidery s depiction of medieval and Romanesque architecture and the life of the Bayeux Tapestry itself

King Harold II and the Bayeux Tapestry Gale R. Owen-Crocker, 2011 Harold II is chiefly remembered today perhaps unfairly for the brevity of his reign and his death at the Battle of Hastings The papers collected here seek to shed new light on the man and his milieu before and after that climax They explore the long career and the dynastic network behind Harold Godwinsson s accession on the death of King Edward the Confessor in January 1066 looking in particular at the important questions as to whether Harold s kingship was opportunist or long planned a usurpation or a legitimate succession in terms of his Anglo Scandinavian kinships They also examine the posthumous legends that Harold survived Hastings and lived on as a religious recluse The essays in the second part of the volume focus on the Bayeux Tapestry bringing out the small details which would have resonated significantly for contemporary audiences both Norman and English to suggest how they judged Harold and the other players in the succession drama of 1066 Other aspects of the Tapestry are also covered the possible patron and locations the Tapestry was produced for where and how it was designed and the various sources artistic and real employed by the artist

War and the Cultural Construction of Identities in Britain, 2021-12-28 The British have been involved in numerous wars since the Middle Ages Many if not all of these wars have been re constructed in historical accounts in the media and in the arts and have thus kept the nation s cultural memory of its wars alive Wars have influenced the cultural construction and reconstruction not only of national identities in Britain personal communal gender and ethnic identities have also been established shaped reinterpreted and questioned in times of war and through its representations Coming from Literary Film and Cultural Studies History and Art History the contributions in this multidisciplinary volume explore how different cultural communities in the British Isles have envisaged war and its significance for various aspects of identity formation from the Middle Ages through to the 20th century

The Bayeux Tapestry and Its Contexts Elizabeth Carson Pastan, Stephen D. White, Kate Gilbert, 2014 A full and provocative reappraisal of the Bayeux Tapestry its origins design and patronage Aspects of the Bayeux Tapestry in fact an embroidered hanging have always remained mysterious despite much scholarly investigation not least its design and patron Here in the first full length interdisciplinary approach to the subject the authors an art historian and a historian consider these and other issues Rejecting the prevalent view that it was commissioned by Odo the bishop of Bayeux and half brother of William the Conqueror or by some other comparable patron they bring new evidence to bear on the question of its relationship to the abbey of St Augustine s Canterbury From the study of art historical archeological literary historical and documentary materials they conclude that the monks of St Augustine s designed the hanging for display in their abbey church to tell their own story of how England was invaded and conquered in 1066 Elizabeth Carson Pastan is a Professor of Art History at Emory University Stephen D White is Asa G Candler Professor of Medieval History emeritus Emory University and an Honorary Professor of Mediaeval History at the University of St Andrews

The Bayeux Tapestry Gale R. Owen-Crocker,2023-05-31 This collection of fifteen papers ranges from the author s initial interest in the Tapestry as a source of information on early medieval dress through to her startling recognition of the embroidery s sophisticated narrative structure Developing the work of previous authors who had identified graphic models for some of the images she argues that not just the images themselves but the contexts from which they were drawn should be taken in to account in reading the messages of the Tapestry In further investigating the minds and hands behind this the largest non architectural artefact surviving from the Middle Ages she ranges over the seams the embroidery stitches the language and artistry of the inscription the potential significance of borders and the gestures of the figures in the main register always scrutinising detail informatively She identifies an over riding conception and house style in the Tapestry but also sees different hands at work in both needlecraft and graphics Most intriguingly she recognises an sub contractor with a Roman source and a clownish wit The author is Professor of Anglo Saxon Culture at The University of Manchester UK a specialist in Old English poetry Anglo Saxon material culture and medieval dress and textiles
