Last Light Richard Lacayo, 2022-10-11 One of the nation s top art critics shows how six great artists made old age a time of triumph by producing some of the greatest work of their long careers and in some cases changing the course of art history Ordinarily we think of young artists as the bomb throwers Monet and Renoir were still in their twenties when they embarked on what would soon be called Impressionism as were Picasso and Braque when they ventured into Cubism But your sixties and the decades that follow can be no less liberating if they too bring the confidence to attempt new things Young artists may experiment because they have nothing to lose older ones because they have nothing to fear With their legacies secure they re free to reinvent themselves sometimes with revolutionary results Titian s late style offered a way for pigment itself not just the things it depicted to express feelings on the canvas foreshadowing Rubens Frans Hals 19th century Impressionists and 20th century Expressionists Goya s late work enlarged the psychological territory that artists could enter Monet s late waterlily paintings were eventually recognized as prophetic for the centerless diaphanous space developed after World War II by abstract expressionists like Jackson Pollock and Phillip Guston In his seventies Matisse began to produce some of the most joyful art of the 20th century especially his famous cutouts that brought an ancient craft into the realm of High Modernism Hopper the ultimate realist used old age on occasion to depart into the surreal And Nevelson the patron saint of late bloomers pioneered a new kind of sculpture wall sized wooden assemblages made from odds and ends she scavenged from the streets of Manhattan Though these six artists differed in many respects they shared one thing a determination to go on creating driven not by the bounding energies of youth but by the ticking clock that would inspire them to produce some of their greatest masterpieces

Violis Ade, the enigmatic keeper of the lone lighthouse, faces a chilling test of resolve when spectral beings known as Lurkers skulk forth from the shadows embrace. These otherworldly entities, drawn to light but shrouded in darkness, encircle Violis's sanctuary; their malevolent presence grows ever more cunning with each relentless assault. When a band of desperate wanderers seeks shelter within the lighthouse's protective glow, Violis reluctantly ushers them in. Among their number is Lena, an aloof yet brilliant scientist; Caleb, a steadfast warrior driven by loyalty; and Evelyn, whose empathic touch binds the group together. Together they must guard the beacon against the unyielding onslaught of the Lurkers. The mysterious arrival of Zara, a cryptic figure with unsettling insights into the creatures' origins, offers a glint of hope. Yet as treachery and suspicion fracture their fragile alliance from within, the Lurkers evolve and unify with chilling efficiency. Desperate to turn the tide, Violis devises a perilous gambit to disrupt the Lurkers' collective consciousness by overloading the lighthouse. But will this daring plan tip the scales or merely hasten their doom? In a breathless race against fate, these survivors must reignite their dwindling courage and confront an encroaching abyss. For should the light falter and darkness prevail, what lurks within may consume them all. Munsey's Magazine, 1896. Mid-Pacific Magazine.
