Clifford, 1995 The Paradise Garden Murals of Malinalco Jeanette Favrot Peterson, 2014-07-03 Winner Charles Rufus Morey Award 1993 The valley of Malinalco Mexico long renowned for its monolithic Aztec temples is a microcosm of the historical changes that occurred in the centuries preceding and following the Spanish conquest in the sixteenth century In particular the garden frescoes uncovered in 1974 at the Augustinian monastery of Malinalco document the collision of the European search for Utopia with the reality of colonial life In this study Jeanette F Peterson examines the murals within the dual heritage of pre Hispanic and European muralism to reveal how the wall paintings promoted the political and religious agendas of the Spanish conquerors while preserving a record of pre Columbian rituals and imagery She finds that the utopian themes portrayed at Malinalco and other Augustinian monasteries were integrated into a religious and political ideology that in part camouflaged the harsh realities of colonial policies toward the native population That the murals were ultimately whitewashed at the end of the sixteenth century suggests that the spiritual conquest failed Peterson argues that the incorporation of native features ultimately worked to undermine the orthodoxy of the Christian message She places the murals imagery within the pre Columbian tlacuilo scribe painter tradition traces a Sahagún connection between the Malinalco muralists and the native artists working at the Franciscan school of Tlatelolco and explores mural painting as an artistic response to acculturation The book is beautifully illustrated with 137 black and white figures including photographs and line drawings For everyone interested in the encounter between European and Native American cultures it will be essential reading The Paradise Garden Christina Green, 2003 When Daphne Chandler falls ill Melanie promises to take care of her garden As her love for the garden grows so do her feelings for the handsome stranger who has come on the scene But who is Stephen Summers and what is his connection with Daphne Adam and the Paradise Garden Peter Gilbert, Tom Holt, 1992 The Paradise Garden Joan Hessayon, 1999 Fran Craig an impoverished mother and divorcee is struggling to build a career as a garden designer Richard Dumas a self made American millionaire offers her 10 000 to redesign the gardens of his stately home Fran eventually decides to try and net the wealthy American as a husband Gardens of the Gods Christopher McIntosh, 2004-10-29 Gardens of the Gods reveals the symbolic language of garden design exploring the gardens of China with their moon gates and immortal rocks the Zen gardens of Japan the paradise gardens of Islam those of Renaissance Italy with their richly mythological imagery the landscaped parks of England the gardens of New Harmony in the US and some striking modern examples of symbolic gardens including the Tarot Garden of
