Best Practices in Catholic Church Ministry Performance Management Charles Zech, 2010-06-23 The Church is not a business but it does have a stewardship responsibility to ensure that all of its resources are used as effectively as possible to carry out God's work on earth. In the case of human resource assets, good stewardship involves assisting those engaged in ministry, whether clerical or lay, to achieve their greatest potential through the various components of performance management, including performance assessment. This unique collection brings together both scholars and practitioners who tackle the tricky questions related to the performance management of lay Church workers and clergy, priests and deacons. Performance management is multi-faceted, ranging from issues about hiring, job descriptions, performance criteria, performance appraisal, formation and firing procedures. As a charitable organization, the Church is subject to the same civil law employment regulations as companies in the private sector. Contributors demonstrate that Canon Law and Church tradition supports the performance management of Church ministers, including clergy. This is a valuable resource for programs in church ministry, pastoral administration and in the emerging field of church management.

It promotes mutual learning with integrity between different ecclesial perspectives rooted in patience as spiritual power, enabling contemplative purposefulness in a renewal journey which cannot be completed easily, quickly or completely.

24/7 Christian Christine M. Fletcher, 2015-02-16 How do we reconnect our faith and our life and move beyond being hour-a-week Christians? In 24/7 Christian, Christine Fletcher brings the riches of the Second Vatican Council with its teachings on the universal call to holiness, the freedom of conscience and the role of the laity in the world, together with the wisdom of the Rule of St. Benedict, to provide a practical guide to becoming a Christian. 24/7 Fletcher shows the importance of Catholic faith in meeting the challenges facing people today, including climate change, global inequality and family breakdown.
