The Peppered Moth:

Of Moths and Men Judith Hooper, 2002 The tale of a flagrant scientific fraud its cover up and the scientific incompetence behind the most important paradigm in evolutionary biology Charles Darwin's theory of evolution The fraud began in 1953 with H B D Kettlewell an amateur but charismatic lepidopterist attached to Oxford University Using studies of the peppered moth Biston betularia he showed the process of natural selection at work over a period of months rather than millennia The naturally light coloured moth was found in Kettlewell's experiments to have mutated to a darker variety Biston carbonaria in industrial areas where the darker colour would prove a more effective camouflage against predator birds The conclusive evidence was drawn from the rate at which light and dark moths appeared on the trunks of an industrially influenced forest and the rate at which the lighter poorly camouflaged moths were consumed by birds There were only two problems no one was sure that birds naturally ate the pepper moth and the reason they were consumed in such apparently conclusive numbers was that they had been glued to the trees by Kettlewell Observing Evolution Bruce S.

Grant, 2021-08-10 The author presents a firsthand narrative about discovering the parallel evolution of melanism in American and British peppered moths Biston betularia Of Moths and Men Judith Hooper, 2002 In this revelatory work Judith

Hooper uncovers the intellectual rivalries petty jealousies and flawed science behind one of the most famous experiments in evolutionary biology Bernard Kettlewell's 1953 experiment on the peppered moths of England made him a media star on the order of Jonas Salk but also an unlikely tragic hero As Hooper recounts in this rollicking scientific detective story the truth can be subverted when the stakes are very high Book jacket The Peppered Moth Margaret Drabble, 2012-03-29 The prize winning author of The Dark Flood Rises offers an absorbing portrait of three generations of women inspired by her own family The New York Times Book Review In the early 1900s young Bessie Bawtry grows up in a mining town in South Yorkshire England Unusually gifted she longs to escape a life burdened by unquestioned tradition She studies patiently dreaming of the day when she will take the entrance exam for Cambridge and leave her narrow world A generation later Bessie's daughter Chrissie feels a similar impulse to expand her horizons which she in turn passes on to her own daughter Nearly a century after that Bessie's granddaughter finds herself listening to a lecture on genetics and biological determinism She has returned to Breaseborough and wonders at the families who remained in the humble little town where Bessie grew up Confronted with what would have been her life had her grandmother stayed she finds herself faced with difficult questions Is she really so different from the plain South Yorkshire locals As she soon learns the past has a way of reasserting itself not unlike the peppered moth that was once thought to be nearing extinction but is now enjoying a sudden and unexplained resurgence With The Peppered Moth the acclaimed author of The Seven Sisters conjures a captivating work of semi-fiction grappling with her memory of her own mother and the indelible mark of family and heredity The Peppered Moth, 1968
