Timmons David Wacks Bruce Rosenstock Laura Delbrugge Michelle Hamilton Deborah Skolnik Rosenberg Kevin Larsen and Luis Bejarano The Baker Who Pretended to Be King of Portugal Ruth MacKay, 2012-03-01 On August 4 1578 in an ill conceived attempt to wrest Morocco back from the hands of the infidel Moors King Sebastian of Portugal led his troops to slaughter and was himself slain Sixteen years later King Sebastian rose again In one of the most famous of European impostures Gabriel de Espinosa an ex soldier and baker by trade and most likely under the guidance of a distinguished Portuguese friar appeared in a Spanish convent town passing himself off as the lost monarch The principals along with a large cast of nuns monks and servants were confined and questioned for nearly a year as a crew of judges tried to unravel the story but the culprits went to their deaths with many questions left unanswered Ruth MacKay recalls this conspiracy marked both by scheming and absurdity and the legal inquest that followed to show how stories of this kind are conceived told circulated and believed She reveals how the story of Sebastian supposedly in hiding and planning to return to claim his crown was lodged among other familiar stories prophecies of returned leaders nuns kept against their will kidnappings by Moors miraculous escapes and monarchs who die for their country As MacKay demonstrates the conspiracy could not have succeeded without the circulation of news the retellings of the fatal battle in well read chronicles and the networks of rumors and correspondents all sharing the hope or belief that Sebastian had survived and would one day return With its royal intrigues ambitious artisans dissatisfied religious women and corrupt clergy The Baker Who Pretended to Be King of Portugal will undoubtedly captivate readers as it sheds new light on the intricate political and cultural relations between Spain and Portugal in the early modern period and the often elusive nature of historical truth Jorge Manrique's Coplas Por la Muerte de Su Padre Nancy F. Marino, 2011 An elegy composed on the death of his father Jorge Manrique's Coplas has occupied a prominent position in the literature of Spain from its original composition in the 15th century to the present day The author of this book examines its sources structure transmission critical reception and fame throughout the centuries

Travel, Time, and Space in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Time Albrecht Classen, 2018-10-22 Research on medieval and early modern travel literature has made great progress which now allows us to take the next step and to analyze the correlations between the individual and space throughout time which contributed essentially to identity formation in many different settings The contributors to this volume engage with a variety of pre modern texts images and other documents related to travel and the individual's self orientation in foreign lands and make an effort to determine the concept of identity within a spatial framework often determined by the meeting of various cultures Moreover objects images and words can also travel and connect people from different worlds through books The volume thus brings together new scholarship focused on the interrelationship of travel space time and individuality which also includes of course women's movement through the larger world whether in concrete terms or through proxy travel via readings Travel here is also examined with respect to craftsmen's activities at various sites artists employment for many different projects all over Europe and elsewhere and in

Kaplan, 2019-03-04 This book is the first to link the modern appreciation for democratic freedom directly to Jewish political thought in seventeenth century Amsterdam The modern appreciation for democratic values is often assumed to have its roots in Classical thought However democracy has taken various forms in its progression to the governance many countries now employ Working in dialog with Protestants Jewish thinkers voiced the first Modern appeal for the reestablishment of a Jewish polity in the Holy Land This appeal was grounded in a vision of a Jewish state governed by individual liberty and popular consent which could be defined as a democratic Zionism The book focuses on influential rabbi Saul Levi Morteira b ca 1590 d 1660 as well as two of the most renowned members of his congregation Baruch Spinoza and Miguel de Barrios Unlike contemporary Catholic and Protestant thinkers these three intellectuals found democratic values in an Old Testament polity that came to be revered as the Hebrew Republic The book explores the trajectory by which this democratization of the Hebrew Republic evolved in the writings of Morteira as an alternative to divine right rule It then shows that in spite of their divergent views toward practicing Judaism Spinoza and Barrios disseminated Morteira s democratic ideas and promoted the Hebrew Republic as a model polity for a post medieval political order This book will be of great use to scholars of Judaism and Jewish philosophy in the modern era medieval and early modern Spanish literature as well as religious political and intellectual history The Youth of Early Modern Women Elizabeth Storr Cohen, Margaret Louise Reeves, 2025-10-01 Through fifteen essays that work from a rich array of primary sources this collection makes the novel claim that early modern European women like men had a youth European culture recognised that between childhood and full adulthood early modern women experienced distinctive physiological social and psychological transformations Drawing on two mutually shaped layers of inquiry cultural constructions of youth and lived experiences these essays exploit a wide variety of sources including literary and autobiographical works conduct literature judicial and asylum records drawings and material culture The geographical and temporal ranges traverse England Ireland Italy France the Netherlands Switzerland Spain and Mexico from the sixteenth to the eighteenth century This volume brings fresh attention to representations of female youth their own life writings young women s training for adulthood courtship and the emergent sexual lives of young unmarried women European Literary Careers Edwin Erle Sparks Professor of English and Comparative Literature Patrick Cheney, Patrick Cheney, Frederick Alfred De Armas, 2002-01-01 In this first book length study in the field of authorial criticism various specialists from Italian French English and Spanish studies collectively discuss literary careers spanning from classical antiquity through the Renaissance
