Here Kit meets Askew, a surly and threatening figure who masterminds the game called Death, a frightening ritual of hypnotism, and Kit makes friends with Allie, the clever school troublemaker. As Kit struggles to adjust to his new life and the gradual failing of his beloved grandfather, these two friendships pull him towards a terrifying resolution. Running away is something they know all about. But this time, January builds a raft and the three of them head precariously down river towards the Black Middens. This time they might never come back. When they stumble across a disused factory and its strange inhabitants, Grampa and Heaven Eyes, they wonder if they'll even have the choice. Heaven Eyes is the girl who should have drowned at sea. The mysterious girl desperately searching for her family, hoping that these three might be the family she has lost. She has a secret history only Grampa knows. And does he trust these three invaders enough to tell them? Erin feels a sisterly responsibility for Heaven Eyes. Mouse longs to belong anywhere and anyhow, but January thinks Grampa's a murderer. THIS IS A CHILDE OF GOD. And so begins Jackdaw Summer. A summer when friendships are tested. A summer when lines between good and bad are blurred. A summer that Liam will never forget. A stunning novel from the author of the modern children's classic Skellig, winner of the Carnegie Medal and the Whitbread Children's Book Award. This book builds on that scholarship but also significantly extends it by exploring age in various aspects of children's literature: the age of the author, the characters, the writing style, the intended readership, and the real reader. Moreover, the authors explore what different theories and methods can be used to study age in children's literature and what their affordances and limits are. The analyses combine age studies with life writing studies, cognitive narratology, digital
